

SLEEPY-TIME TALES THE TALE OF BOBBY BOBOLINK BY ARTHUR SCOTT BAILEY

CHAPTER XXI. How to Take Bad News. For once Bobby Bobolink's heart seemed to come right up into his mouth.

"You know," he added, "we haven't been introduced."

that probably they would be different tomorrow. And more likely than not he would burst into the first song he knew.

"Why?" he asked the Hermit in a quavering voice—"why do you think I'm likely to explode some day when I'm singing?"

"I don't think that, I know it," the Hermit corrected himself. "No bird can crowd one note upon another the way you do without running a terrible risk."

"No, indeed!" Bobby Bobolink assured him. "And you must tell me how I can sing fast—as I always do—and yet do it safely."

"Ah!" the Hermit exclaimed. "That can't be done. You must sing more slowly, as I do. Take plenty of time for every note."

"Oh! I never could sing that way!" Bobby Bobolink cried. "I have to sing joyful songs. And you know you always sing that kind in quick time."

"Pardon me!" said the Hermit, who was a most polite person. "I never sing joyful songs. So you see you are mistaken."

"Well, if you sang the sort I do you'd know that they have to be given in a lively fashion," Bobby told him. "I don't see how it would be possible to make a song sound merry if it had to be sung slowly."

The Hermit pondered over that speech. "There's only one thing for you to do," he said at last. "You must select only mournful songs. . . . You know you sing them in slow time."

"Pardon me!" Bobby Bobolink said, for he was determined to be just as polite as the Hermit. "I never sing mournful songs. So you see you are mistaken."

Now, for some reason the Hermit thought that a rude remark, though it was quite like one that he had made himself but a few moments before.

As for the Hermit, he went straight off to the other side of Cedar Swamp to live. He claimed that he simply had to have quiet. And there was no such thing with Bobby Bobolink around.

Common Sense By J. J. MUNDY. Master Yourself.

Are you drifting along in an easy sort of way, making enough to pay your debts, but not worrying yourself nor denying yourself anything in order to save money?

You are certainly short-sighted and a slave to your own comfort if you are willing or prefer to go on as you are, merely making your income and your outfit balance each month.

It is not easy to form the money-saving habit, but it is worth while. It is a struggle to persuade yourself to save part of what you make.

Romance in Origin Of Superstitions

Another Love Superstition. One of the various superstitions regarding love matters which is common in the rural districts of this and many other countries consists in divining by the dodder plant, a golden, thread-like parasite which grows abundantly upon bushes.

The first lizard of the season was captured Sunday morning by none other than our fellow-townsmen, Sidney Hooks, who discovered it on the back of a bench and put it in his special lizard pocket, which has a button on it.

The Tin Peddler on his recent trip in brought a lot of mustard plasters. He had a hard time getting legs with them as they pulled against his horse all the way.

WHY—

Are American Sailors Called "Gobs" Just as the United States soldiers entered a vigorous protest against being called a "Sammy," or any of the other home-made terms which were applied to them during the World war, the United States sailor has always objected to "Jackie"—the name which has been applied to him by a number of writers whose knowledge of the sea was gained through an occasional glimpse of the docks.

It was at this time that the Orientals first applied the name "gobshites" to the American sailors, and, when the American Naval Asiatic station was later established, the title persisted to such an extent that the sailors brought it home with them, gradually spreading throughout the entire navy the shortened form of "gob."

Parents' Problems Should children of a family be encouraged to have friends separately or in common?

Both are good, and both are inevitable. Children, like grown-ups, will and should have friends separately and also friends in common.

HELP YOURSELF CLUB

$26,475.00 in Awards

—and No Member Has Them Won

In the Help Yourself Club Campaign you are your own boss. You work just as much or just as little as you see fit. You can start work and quit when you please.

With the 50,000 extra vote offer in effect during the next two weeks, it is up to the members who want to win capital awards to utilize every moment and every opportunity to secure votes.

The Manager of the Help Yourself Club makes the positive statement that no one member has done so well that they can afford to ease down on their efforts.

In justice to the two club members who won the Special Additional Awards of the Overland and Gardner cars, the names of the members to whom these cars are to be awarded will not be announced until the end of the Campaign, as it would not be fair to let their competitors know just how much business they turned in during the period.

$1,115.00 GOOD MAXWELL TOURING CAR There are nine of these Good Maxwell touring cars offered as first District awards in each of the nine Districts.
