New York, June 11.—A week of excessively violent movements in all the market ended today with early weakness and subsequent recovery in European exchange, with another very general decline in the industrial stocks and with a further advance in wheat, which brought the market for July deliveries 4 cents higher above the last price before Wednesday's government crop estimate was published.

The department of commerce gave out the country's foreign trade returns for May, which was interesting, not only for the further decline of exports, but for a precipitous decline of the import trade to the smallest figure of any month since February, 1918.

On the stock exchange the selling reached large proportions, with a number of industrial shares, in which the day's declines ranged from 1 to 5 points. There was no change whatever in the market's character.

Railway Shares Firm. Railway shares as a rule had advanced noticeably since the market reopened. The present market for this group of stocks, representing companies whose position might easily enough give food for the imagination of the pessimist, should have suffered least in the past week's depreciation of values.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, June 11.—Bullish conditions counted in grains at the last today, with more than a complete recovery from the early declines and with prices at the highest of the day.

Weather conditions were bullish early and bullish later, a hot wave being predicted for the week which was regarded as unfavorable for both winter wheat and oats, as they are in the filling stage in many sections. Net gains on wheat were 2 1/4 to 3 1/4, with September leading.

Corn gained 1 3/8 to 1 3/4, with July and September practically the same price, while oats were up 7/8 to 1c, and 3 1/4 to 4 1/4.

The week witnessed an erratic movement of values, with wheat advance and corn and oats on the decline. At the last wheat was 7/8 to 1c higher, corn off 1/2 to 3/4, oats 1/2 to 3/4.

Black Rust in Nebraska. A new feature in wheat was the report of black rust from Fremont to North Platte, which was reported on several days, but no attention had been given to it.

September was the selling pressure on wheat heavy, except from a local operator, who was getting out of a large lot of wheat on June 11.

Address Before British Body to Be Made Public

Speech of Columbia University Head to Imperial Conference Not Behind Closed Doors.

By HOLLAND. This time Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, will so speak to the British imperial conference which is soon to be in session that not only the premiers of the British dominions and colonies will hear, but also the world.

Of course it is only a matter of inference that Dr. Butler will in his address refer chiefly to the relation of the dominions and colonies to the empire. Some of the addresses which Dr. Butler has made in the past year or two contained hints of his profound conviction that there should be established very close federation between the British dominions and colonies.

It was at the time when discussion centered around the question of whether his own government should be invited to the English public life. He was asked if he would be willing to meet a few of the British statesmen in London to explain to them the fundamental principle upon which the American government is based.
