

Coast Pastor Raps Agitators For 'Blue Laws'

Sunday Made for Man, Not Man for Sunday, Says Rector of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, June 11.—"It ought to be remembered by the 'blue law' advocates that they can't legislate righteousness. People cannot be made to be good, but they can be induced to be good. I maintain that it isn't so much what you do, as what you don't do on Sunday that hurts you. The great American sin is the sin of omission. Sunday was made for man, not man for Sunday."

Thus believes the Rev. Father Neal Dodd, rector of the Church of St. Mary of the Angels, Episcopal, and known in the film studios as the "movie" rector. Father Dodd plans to have erected soon a new church in Hollywood, which will cater particularly to the spiritual needs of the 15,000 to 20,000 persons in "movie-land."

Father Dodd is widely known for his views on the censorship of motion pictures. He has taken the stand that the average individual "resents censorship as a repugnant manner of taking away his inherited rights."

Father Dodd believes whatever agitation is back of the Sunday "blue laws" movement is part of a wave of hysterical reform which has been sweeping the country without a thought of its results.

Real Estate Company Makes 10 Lot Sales In Week Unsolicited

Included in the last week's business of A. P. Tukey & Son was the sale of 10 vacant lot to 10 different purchasers.

Although the firm sold $154,200 worth of real estate last week, H. A. Tukey regards the 10 lot sales as the most significant.

These lots were all sold to buyers who had selected their lots before they went to the office. They simply walked in, named their lots and said, "I'll take that one."

Each one of the buyers said he intends to build on the lot, either this year or next spring.

Besides the building lots, the property sold by A. P. Tukey & Son last week included a $45,000 apartment house, some trackage property, oil investment property and two homes.

Small Home Planned and Built by An Omaha Firm

Four rooms are very cleverly arranged in this small home designed and built by Northwall & Johnson, Omaha architects and contractors. The large living room is one of the features of the construction. It is 16 feet long, offering ample wall space for piano and davenport.

The kitchen provides a built-in cabinet and large sink. There is a ventilating hood over the gas stove to carry away cooking odors. The bedroom closet door has a full length mirror and the closet is equipped with a sliding clothes carrier. A Murphy bed in the living room furnishes extra sleeping accommodations.

The house has oak floors throughout and a basement under the whole structure. Northwall & Johnson announce the home was built for less than $4,000, including decorating, window shades, lighting fixtures and sidewalks.

Say Demand Good For New Houses

Some Buildings Sold by Realtors Before Plastering Completed.

Realtors that entered the house building business several weeks ago are finding a good demand for their new properties and are planning on additional building.

Of the six houses started recently by the Byron Reed company, two have been sold, although none of them are yet completed. The two that have been sold are not even plastered. This concern is now contemplating the erection of from six to 10 more, according to Vice President Campbell.

Eight of nine new houses built by Amos Grant company have been sold and this firm is planning on additional building.

C. B. Stult is contemplating the erection of a few bungalows in Dundee district.

R. F. Clary of the Ames Realty company has built four, one of which has been sold, and will start three more immediately. The Ames company expects to build at least 15 houses this year.

Shopen & Co. is arranging to build several small houses.

The Drake Realty Construction company has five more homes under construction at Twenty-first and Bancroft streets and has started a six-room Colonial bungalow at Forty-ninth avenue and Farnam street.

Work Started on New North Side Business And Apartment House

The Ames corporation has started work on its new combination business and apartment house building at Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue.

This building will cost considerably over $300,000 and will be by far the best and largest business building in that section of the city.

The building will contain 35 apartments and a motion picture theater with 1,800 seats, and five store buildings.

The basement will be used as a restaurant and cafeteria. The building will be a five-story brick structure.

R. F. Clary, realtor, is secretary and manager of the Ames Realty corporation. It is rumored that two other business blocks are to be built this year in the neighborhood of Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue.

Home of Former Omaha Mayor Sold by Daughters

The old home of the late Frank Moores, for several years mayor of Omaha, has been sold by Mr. Moores' daughters, Miss Adel Moores of Omaha and Mrs. A. M. Graffis of Auburn, Ind., to Anna Conarro for $16,000.

This home is located at 617 South Eighteenth street. The place was built by Mr. Moores about 30 years ago. The Moores family lived in it until the death of the former mayor in 1908. The sale was made by Glover & Spain, Miss Adel Moores lives at 3568 Jackson street.

Sells 10 Lots

Harry M. Christie has sold to the Drake interest 10 building lots in the vicinity of Twenty-first and Bancroft streets. These will be used by the Drake people, according to Mr. Christie, for building sites. One of the lots was sold by Mr. Christie three years ago for $475. The same lot last week brought $1,000.

Bruner, Wholesale Jewelers, Move to Boston Store Block

The T. J. Bruner company, wholesale jewelers, which has occupied space in the Brandeis building for the last eight years, has secured a 10-year lease on 8,000 square feet of space on the fourth floor of the Boston store building, Sixteenth and Douglas streets.

"With the adding of new lines it becomes necessary to secure larger space," said Mr. Bruner. The Bruner company is opening a branch house in Los Angeles to care for its increasing west coast trade.

Slosburg Buys Two-Story Brick Building on Farnam

The 22-foot, two-story brick building at 1120 Farnam street has been purchased by Jacob Slosburg, jr., realtor, from Thew & Carley, for $12,500. This was purchased as an investment.

Mr. Slosburg and his business partner, Nathan Sornberg, have sold their brick flats at 1509-11 Park avenue to Jacob Romanek as an investment for $11,500.
