

U.S. Must Keep Out of Foreign Interests, Hughes

Secretary of State, Speaking at Alma Mater, Says Country Must Not Relate Unnecessarily to Political Issues.

Providence, R. I., June 15.—Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes told a gathering of his fellow alumni of Brown university today that it was not desirable that America's helpful influence should be frittered away "by relating ourselves unnecessarily to political questions which involve rivalries in interest abroad with which we have no proper concern."

"It is equally true," he continued, "that we cannot escape our relation to the economic problems of the world."

Will Maintain Ideals.

America, the exemplar of free institutions, aiding humanity, he said, called for the supreme endeavor in the world war. "This sentiment is still with us," he added. "We have not lost it." The capacity for the high and unselfish endeavor which linked us in unity and joy of service in the crisis of the great war. The springs of faith, of mutual trust, of fellowship, have not dried up.

"Our men did not go forth to fight for this nation as one of imperialistic designs and cunning purpose, or to protect a land where avarice might find its surest reward. They offered their lives and all the energies of the country were harnessed in the supreme effort, because we hated tyranny and the brutality and ruthlessness which found expression in the worship of force and because we found our fate linked with that of the free peoples who were struggling for the preservation of the essentials of freedom."

World Is Unsettled.

"It would not be fitting for me at this time to discuss our foreign relations, but I am glad to say that the message of America is one of cordial friendship to all nations. We have no questions which mutual good will and the processes of reason cannot solve. We have no subtleties, no duplicity of meaning, no soft words to conceal a purpose of self-aggrandizement at others' expense. The only method of diplomacy we know is that of candid discussion of the merits of problems. This, we think, is the way to prosper a cause believed to be just and we shall advance no other."

"Not Arrested Since 1907,"

Prisoner's Plea for Mercy

"Judge, I have not been arrested since 1907," said Charlie White, negro, twentieth and Paul streets, to Judge Wappich in Central police court when he was arraigned for petty larceny.

The judge listened to White's plea for another chance for about 10 minutes and then imposed a sentence of 15 days in the county jail.

Larry Finn and Ray Coady, department store detectives, stated that White stole several garments from Brandeis and Burgess-Nash stores.

Electrical Hair Clippers and Bull Pup Among Loot

Electrical hair clippers with motor attached, five pairs of clippers, 11 razors, five pairs of shears, two razor hones, two boxes of cigars, 6000 cigarettes and $2 in pennies, made up the loot of burglars who forced the rear door of the Wolk Bros. barber shop at 1404 North Twenty-fourth street, Tuesday night, according to police.

Dr. J. E. Somers, 618 Brandeis theater building, reported a check photograph stolen from his office. R. Keller, Seventeenth and Cumings streets, complained someone had stolen his bull pup.

Woman Condemns High Heels and Short Skirts

Salt Lake City, June 15.—High heels and short dresses were condemned by Mrs. Burton Morse of Twin Falls, Idaho, in a speech she delivered before the convention of the Intermountain and Pacific coast States Federation of Women's Clubs here today.

"I want our young women to be taught that they are not men's playthings, but their companions," she said. "I want girls to be taught to appeal to men's intellect, and to accomplish this we must change our mode of dress and when we see something developing along the streets in tight skirts and high heels, my head gaudy with henna or some other dyestuff all fuzzed out over her ears, we will instantly recognize a sex-female and not a woman, for a woman is God's production and this described something is the result of man's handiwork. Mothers who permit their daughters to be so dressed are preparing them for the preface of marriage and not for marriage itself."

Cabinet Crisis in Britain, Belief

Revolt of Government Followers Endangers Lloyd George's Stability.

London, June 15.—Dr. Christopher Addison, former minister of health and since last April minister without portfolio in the British cabinet, has resigned his post, it is declared by the Daily Mail today.

This latest development is described in anti-government quarters, the newspaper said, as a result of a revolt of the government's followers. It was declared this alleged revolt is likely to endanger the stability and even the existence of the Lloyd George cabinet, and cause a general election.

Stillman's Sister On Witness Stand

Mrs. Percy Rockefeller Declares Brother Lived at Father's Home.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 15.—Mrs. Percy A. Rockefeller, sister of James A. Stillman, New York banker, testified in his behalf today at a hearing here in his divorce suit against Mrs. Anna U. Stillman.

She testified, it was understood, that Mr. Stillman lived at the Park avenue home of his father continuously during the period beginning in January, 1918, and extended through part of the month of April of that year. At no time during these months was Mrs. Stillman there, it was said she testified. Mrs. Stillman, according to Mrs. Rockefeller, spent these months in Canada, at Buffalo and on the family estate at Pleasantville.

This testimony was offered, it was believed, to support Mr. Stillman's contention that he is not the father of Guy Stillman, the infant born to Mrs. Stillman in November, 1918.

Crowds Throng Station as Sims Leaves London

Special Car So Burdened With Floral Testimonies That Room for Members of Party at Premium.

London, June 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, left Waterloo station this morning for Southampton, where he was to board the steamer Olympic later in the day and proceed to New York. He rode in a special car that was so burdened with floral testimonials that there was scarcely room for members of his party to move about.

Leaving out of a window of the car, the admiral waved his cap to a large group, who despite the earliness of his departure, had gathered to give him a rousing send-off.

Answering reporters' requests for a farewell message, Admiral Sims called attention to dispatches in this morning's newspapers, telling of a reaction in the United States against his critics, he said he had nothing further to say and "nothing to retract."

He said he had received hundreds of letters approving of his attitude regarding "American hyphenates." Asked whether he had received any threatening missives, the admiral smiled and said:

"I had one signed 'Erin-Go-Bragh' making a play on a reference to zebras in my address last week, and telling me I would meet the asses on the other side, but I have paid no attention to it—it doesn't worry me."

He added that he thought the handwriting was that of a boy and declared the letter bore a London postmark.

Westminster Abbey now gives lessons to its congregation in the art of interpreting church music. For a short period each Sunday afternoon an expert is present to criticize and assist members of the church in their hymn and psalm-singing.
