Recipes

Grape Juice Parfait.

Let one teaspoonful of granulated gelatin stand in a quarter of a cupful of strawberry juice for five minutes, then dissolve over hot water. Add three-quarters of a cupful of rich, heavy grape juice, half a teaspoonful of lemon juice and one cupful of sugar. Stir occasionally until the sugar is dissolved, chill and fold in a pint of heavy cream whipped solid. Mix well, turn into a mold with a water-tight cover and bury in equal parts of rock salt and ice for four hours.

Marshmallows.

2 cups sugar.
3/4 cup corn syrup.
3/4 cup hot water.
4 tablespoons gelatin.
4 tablespoons cold water.
Whites of two small eggs.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 tablespoon cornstarch.
1/2 cup sugar, corn syrup and hot water in saucepan, and stir until sugar is dissolved, bring to boiling point and boil without stirring to 240 degrees, F., or until it forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Remove from fire, add gelatin, and when soaked in cold water, and beat until it is white.

Add whites of eggs beaten until stiff, and beat candy vigorously until it gets thick and stringy. Add vanilla and cornstarch, pour into pan that has been dusted over with sifted confectioners' sugar, and sift confectioners' sugar over the top of the candy in the pan. Cut into squares with a silver knife, or cut with shears.

A Kitchen Hint.

The odor will disappear from a knife that has been used for cutting onions if it is wiped on a damp cloth and rubbed briskly with coarse salt.

It Took All the Grit Mason Had To Stick It Out

"Every time I go out on a run now, I feel thankful to Tanlac for I'm convinced it kept me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan street, Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit company. "I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heartburn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at nights my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car, and it took every ounce of grit I could muster to stick until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up."

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."

Apple Mint Jelly.

Cut the apples in quarters, barely cover with boiling water and cook until soft. Turn into a jelly bag to drain. For a pint of the apple juice heat a cupful and a half of sugar. Set the juice over the fire with the crushed leaves of a small bunch of mint; let simmer for 20 minutes, then strain into a clean saucepan. Heat to the boiling point, add the hot sugar and cook until it jells. This will make three small glasses of jelly.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Jealousy Again.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I read your column on advice for different kind of trouble and find that your advice is very good. So I thought I would turn to you with my troubles for advice.

I chum with a girl who is very dear to me, but when we go out with some young men she has some way of winning my friend away from me. Many times when some young man asked me to go with him when she is along I turn him down, because I do not enjoy myself. I sacrifice many good times for her but she seems to forget them when she gets a chance to sacrifice for me. I don't blame her in a way and still I do. Do you think I ought to pay any attention to that or not? She does almost everything a boy asks her or tells her to do. Do you think that is the reason why she attracts more?

I have gone with this girl almost two years and I do not want to make any enemies because I am a hater of enemies.

I thank you in advance for your advice. Yours, WAITING.

My dear, the problem you bring up is as old as the world and I am glad to give you my views. Jealousy is the emotion involved. Now, do not give jealousy or hatred a place in your life. You will accomplish more, make more friends, be happier and give more happiness by ignoring it.

In your case, if you allow yourself to be miserable because your boy friends show your girl chum a little attention, you may then lose both the friendship of the girl and the regard of the boy. Can't you hold your own with him by being a little quicker witted than your girl chum? You can't force the young man to go with you, you know, and if he does happen to prefer the other girl, why blame either of them?

Of course, if your girl chum acts improperly, you should stop going with her on that account. But don't sacrifice a lovely friendship just because a boy likes her better than he does you. From what you say, however, I judge your boy friend prefers you, but that he "jollies" more with the other girl when you are out together. As I see it, you need not always make it a point to include your girl friend.

Can't you be strong and high-mined and fair? Do what you believe to be right, but don't let jealousy cause you to put or to lose people whom you have regarded highly otherwise.

Be Formally Introduced.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I love earnestly a girl that works in the same place I do. I have made several attempts to speak to her, but she always goes home accompanied by another girl. What would you advise me to do? GRATEFUL.

You might be formally introduced first, and then ask her if you may accompany her home and possibly call on her some time.

Bathing Bags.
An attractive bag in which to carry a bathing suit is made of double-faced rubber sheeting. Cut out an oblong piece of the material and seam it up each side. The top can be bound with gray-colored ribbon. Sew a tape around the bag about two inches from the top in the inside. Through this you can run a ribbon. A pocket with an envelope opening may be sewed on the outside of the bag and this if painted with a striking design in colors to match the ribbon will make an artistic bag. In the pocket you can put a comb or soap or any article which you do not want to get wet. The wet suit and shoes can go inside the bag.
