

Wealthy Farmer Admits He Robbed Bank in Illinois

Holdup Nets $2,500 Which Men Buried on Place—All of Loot Is Recovered.

Bloomington, Ill., June 25.—Owning a $50,000 farm and perhaps as much more in live stock, Montgomery North, one of the leaders of the community, is a prisoner in the county jail today. He confessed he had robbed the State bank at Hudson Monday afternoon. The job was pulled with the coolness and bravado of expert bandits of long experience.

There was not a hitch in the program of North and his pal, Charles Welch, the latter a man of 50, who had been employed by North for several years as a hand about the farm. Welch is from Iowa City, Ia., and is a floater.

Welch charges North with suggesting the holdup. He claims that North pointed out how easily a bank could be robbed. Welch finally agreed to the robbery. They drove to Hudson and at 1:30 p. m. Welch entered the bank and stuck up the cashier with a revolver. North then entered, taking about $2,500.

The pair was shot at as they left the bank but Welch returned the fire while North drove the car. They reached a farm owned by North, and going to an old barn, divided the loot and buried it. Welch went to Peoria and returned to Bloomington next day. He was under suspicion and was arrested here this morning.

He confessed and implicated North. The latter was arrested later and also confessed. The stolen money was recovered.

Judge Refuses to Permit Collector Seize Property

Federal Judge Woodrugh issued a restraining order yesterday preventing the collector of internal revenue from levying on property owned by Charles Saat. Recently Saat was charged with illegal possession of liquor and was taxed $2,318. The collector, so Saat alleged, had planned to sell enough of Saat's property to satisfy the claim, then attach the checks for the amount.

Grasshopper Army Invades County

Hordes of Insects, Covering 300 Square Miles, Destroying Vegetation.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 25.—An army of grasshoppers, estimated by County Farm Agent J. C. Hale to be 15 miles wide and 20 miles long, is advancing on El Paso county, Colorado, from the southwest. Mr. Hale announced tonight. In their advance the grasshoppers are destroying virtually all vegetation in their path, according to the county agent.

Mr. Hale, accompanied by E. T. Haas, an entomologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, will start out tomorrow to meet the grasshopper army with two tons of poison. The poison is to be distributed among farmers, who will use it as a means of killing the insects.

The grasshoppers are advancing at the rate of one mile a day, the county agent said. He estimates the onslaught of grasshoppers army to be the largest in the history of this section.

Laborer Admits Slaying Wealthy New York Widow

Mystery of Death Cleared by Confession—Gained Access To Home on Pretext of Being Buyer.

West-Hampstead, N. Y., June 25.—Lawrence Kubal, 36, a farm laborer, confessed last night, police said, to having murdered Mrs. Minnie S. Bartlett, wealthy widow, in her home here last Wednesday.

Kubal, in his alleged confession, said that he had killed Mrs. Bartlett with a chisel. He said he had called at the house on the morning of the crime and had represented himself as a possible purchaser of the property. She demanded $45,000 but he said he told her he had only $22,000 and would return later in the day with his wife and brother.

Kubal returned to the Bartlett home early in the afternoon, according to the confession and on being admitted by Mrs. Bartlett told her that he must have some money, about $500, and that he would not harm her if she gave it to him.

Kubal said that he noticed a fountain pen which Mrs. Bartlett kept opening nervously in her hands. At the sight of it, he said, the thought came to kill her. Drawing a chisel from his pocket he struck her on the head with it, police reported him as saying and seized her by the throat. As she reeled under the blow she clawed at his face and then Kubal struck her again, when she lay still. He then took a ring from her finger. He stayed at his home after the murder and refused to leave it in search of work. He told his wife and brother-in-law they said, that he was afraid to go out because he had killed a woman. The information became known yesterday and led to his arrest followed by his alleged confession.

ORCHARD & WILHELM CO.

Nash prices will be reduced, effective July 2.

This conforms to our statement made last October that Nash prices would be maintained until at least July 1, 1921.

The reasons were plain. Until manufacturing costs were lower we could not cut price without cutting value, as Nash prices were not inflated.

We pointed out then that while the average rise in the price of motor cars for a four-year period had been 76% the price of Nash cars had been raised but 31%.

This 31% included the addition of cord tires as standard equipment and many other additions and refinements which added materially to the value of Nash cars.

So were affirmed our fixed intention of rigidly upholding the high quality of Nash cars.
