goods, due to high temperatures, general conditions are not essentially different from those of a week ago. Where any change has occurred in basic industries, it has been in the direction of further decrease in manufacturing, with some additional easing of prices. Seasonal factors would explain some of the present restriction of activities, but would not account for buyers' persistent reluctance to make sizable engagements, for the efforts of many sellers to reduce accumulated stocks of merchandise, or for the renewed weakness of certain commodities that had recently displayed signs of rallying powers. Disturbances in financial markets, if parily the result of speculative action, have not been without effect on sentiment, and there is a continued disposition in about all quarters to hold commitments within the limits of safety. The conservatism now being practiced obviously extends the commercial recovery commitments within the limits of satety. The conservatism now being practiced obviously retards the commercial recovery,

The New Hork Times. By ALEXANDER DANA NOYES.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. New York, June 26,-In summing up last week's financial movements t may be said that the action of the foreign exchanges was largely negative, though speculators still seemed to rest on belief in further extensive sales of sterling for reparations transfer; that the action of the stock market was unfavorable despite the recovery from the lowest, but that money market developments were distinctly reassuring. In ordinary times last Thursday's reduction of the Bank of England rate, following the similar reduction of the preceding week by our federal reserve bank, would be accepted as a highly favorable sign. Even as matters stand today it is a sign of promise as indicating the view of responsible banking officers regarding the money market's future and the relaxing of the strain on credit. But in Wall Bheep—No sheep or lambs were received today and prices were nominally steady. Receipts for the week have been fairly liberal, consisting mostly of western springers, and the trade in this class of stock has been up and down with values closing at 35050c declines. Spring lambs that sold up to 212.60 on Tuesday and at $11.15 at last week's close, have dropped to a limit of $10.75, with best native springers at $10.00. Fat sheep have been relatively scarce and are strong to a quarter higher for the week. Good fed shorn ewes are now selling around $4.00, with canners as low as $1.00@2.00. No feeders of consequence are going to the country.

Quotations on sheep: Spring lambs, $2.00@10.75; shorn yearlings, $7.00@5.75; Sep.

shorn swes, $2.00@4.25; cufi ewes, $1.00@
