rick on the Omaha Buffaloes here yesterday afternoon in the third game of the series and as a result annexed the contest by the score

Grover was on the mound for the visitors, and with the exception of the first and eighth rounds, held the Buffaloes at bay, while his teammates gave him good support. Seltz, a former Coast leaguer and a new addition to the Buffaloes staff, started for the local herd, but the Saints jumped on him hard in the initial inning and after allowing two hits, Burch jerked the westerner in favor of Davenport. The latter lasted five frames and then he gave way for Daniels. St. Joseph made short work of the latest Buffalo pitcher and after two-thirds of an innings, Burch trotted himself out to the mound and finished the game. The Buffaloes were unable to connect with Grover's deliveries. The visitors were nicked for nine hits, while the four Buffalo hurlers allowed a grand total of 13 hits.

Put on Trial for Throwing Game

Four Others Declared to Be Too Ill to Face Jury Are Subject of Investigation

By Judge. Chicago, June 27 .- Ten of the 18 defendants in the base ball trial which opened here today put in an appearance. The suspended White Sox players, Felsch, Cicotte, Williams, Jackson, Gandil, Weaver and Risberg were on hand when the case was called. Fred McMullin, the other indicted player, is on the Pacific coast and his attorneys stated that he would appear whenever the court ordered him to. He is not under bond. With the seven players there also appeared three other defendants, Ben and Louis Levy and David Zelser. Carl Zork and Ben Franklin of St. Louis, both of whom are under bond, were not in court, but their attorneys presented affidavits to the effect that both were ill and asked for a continuance. Probe Illness of Men.

Judge Friend ruled that Zork must come to trial at once. He also ordered an investigation of the condition of Franklin.

After attorneys for Zork and Franklin had filed affidavits relative to the illness of their clients, the state filed an affidavit from a St. Louis man stating he had seen Zork walking on a street last Thursday

Attorney Frumberg, counsel for Zork, said he was unable to talk over the case with his client because the latter was too ill. "When I would question him," Frumberg said, "he would turn white and cry and tremble, and it was impossible to continue the conversation.'

Indicted in September.

The investigation into alleged gambling, bribery and game throwing in major league base ball was opened officially in September, 1920, when Judge Charles A. McDonald, chief justice of the criminal court, charged the Cook county grand jury with investigating reports which had come to his attention concerning

"fixed" games.

The grand jury investigation which followed brought league presidents, club owners and star athletes to the witness stand. It finally resulted in the indictment of eight members of the world champion Chicago White Sox team, two former major league players, two alleged gamblers and a former world champion pugilist on charges that they had conspired for the White Sox team to deliberately lose games in the 1919 world series with the Cincinnati Reds. It also was charged that certain Sox players had accepted bribes ranging as high as $10,000 to throw games.

Through the investigation a world champion team was wrecked and conditions were revealed which eventually resulted in a new deal for base ball with Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis as civilian base ball commissioner with supreme Bout on Card July 4th powers to run the professional game as he saw fit with the object of
