

Legion Deplores Delay in Caring For Ex-Soldiers

Congress and Executive Branches of Government Scored for Dilatory Methods in Affording Relief

Washington, July 1.—Not only congress, but the executive branch of the government is proving extremely dilatory in meeting the demand of proper care and relief of former service men, according to officials of the American Legion.

With the Sweet bill to create a veterans' bureau still awaiting action by Senator Smoot's subcommittee, it became known that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has not yet begun construction of the new hospitals for which the last congress appropriated $18,600,000.

The appropriation was made available March 30, but in the four months that have elapsed only 12 projects costing $6,100,000 have been approved and the funds allotted. Secretary Mellon is being advised on the expenditure of this appropriation by a committee consisting of Dr. William C. White of Pittsburgh, chairman; Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago; Dr. John G. Bowman of Pittsburgh; and Dr. George H. Kirby of New York.

Mellon Approves Allotment. Mr. Mellon announced his approval of the allotment of $3,100,000 to the board of managers of the national homes for disabled volunteer soldiers to be expended in the development and expansion of five existing soldiers' homes into hospitals for the treatment of world war veterans. Among the approved projects are:

- Leavenworth (Kan.) Soldiers' Home—New hospital for 200 tubercular patients.
Battle Mountain Sanatorium, Hot Springs, S. D.—New hospital for 100 tubercular patients.

The secretary said these projects could be completed by January 1. Previously he has approved seven projects costing $3,000,000. The $18,600,000 appropriations will provide about 6,800 additional beds, a number far short of requirements, as was demonstrated in congress when the fund was voted.

Afford Best Facilities. Explaining the decision to utilize the soldiers' homes, Mr. Mellon said:

"We have taken into consideration the fact that tuberculous and mental and nervous cases require long care for cure and rehabilitation. After looking over the various hospital groupings, such as the public health service hospitals, the army and navy hospitals and others, we have decided that the existing national soldiers' homes afford the best facilities for the treatment of long illnesses. The other institutions will be utilized principally for case records, shorter periods of treatment. Our second consideration in selecting these soldiers' homes for enlargement and permanent improvement, was the probable future need of housing facilities for the veterans of the last war. We have found that within five or 10 years after the civil war, the housing of veterans became a problem that had to be solved and we will have the same situation following the more recent war. We've decided that it is the best sort of economy to expand these permanent soldiers' homes into hospitals to meet the needs of the next decade and we will then have institutions which can readily be converted into permanent homes for those who will require them after the need for hospitalization has passed."

Young Stillman Denounces Father's Attack on Mother

A new and interesting study of young James Stillman and his mother, Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman, has denominated his father for attacking his mother and is sticking close to his mother.

Stillman Case Will Continue Well Into Fall

Second Attempt to Get Letter From Indian Guide Into Records of Divorce Case Fails.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 1.—Attorneys for James Stillman failed today to have spread upon the records of his divorce suit a letter alleged to have been written to Mrs. Anne U. Stillman by Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, named as co-respondent in the banker's complaint.

This letter has previously been received in evidence, and later stricken out. Referee Gleason declined again to accept it. Another attack upon the testimony of Dr. Hugh L. Russell, Buffalo osteopath, was made by John E. Mack, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, the infant whose legitimacy was attacked by Mr. Stillman. That part of Dr. Russell's testimony which declared Mrs. Stillman had told the osteopath that Beauvais was the infant's father was recently stricken out. It was other statements referring to Mrs. Stillman's consultations with the osteopath in 1918 that Mr. Mack sought to have erased today.

Referee Gleason said he would give his decision on the matter at the next hearing, July 13. There were no witnesses at today's hearing which adjourned after several hours of argument. Mr. Stillman attended the session, but his wife was absent.

The banker's serious mein of yesterday was gone. He did not try to slip into the hearing unnoticed, and with his attorneys.

Attorneys announced after the hearing that the plaintiff had not yet rested his case. The next hearings are set for July 13, 14, 15 and 28 and 29.

It was expected the plaintiff would finish up the first day, leaving the other for the start of Mrs. Stillman's counter attack. She is known to have more than 50 witnesses ready to testify, and as it was agreed today not to hold any sessions during August, it seemed probable that this divorce case would still be going strong next fall.

"Gott Mit Uns" in Ill Repute in Germany Since the War

Berlin, July 1.—"Gott Mit Uns" is no longer the slogan in republican Germany. Is the feeling that God abandoned Germany responsible for an increasing tendency for Germany to abandon God? The Berliner Tagblatt attempts to analyze the reasons why Protestants, Catholics and Jews are leaving their churches in increasing numbers. Godlessness is developing in the cities, whereas in the country districts have lost but few members of the church, finds the Tagblatt. In one year the Protestant churches in Berlin have lost more than 80,000 members, the total loss of the Protestant churches for all Germany being about 150,000. The total number of members of the Catholic church in Berlin has receded 7,000 during the past year. The Catholics are in the minority in northern Germany.

Soviet Attack on Constantinople Now Is Forecast

Russians Are Unanimous in Hope of Occupation That Will Mean Realization of Dream of Centuries.

Berlin, July 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—The eventuality of a joint Russian and Kemal occupation of Constantinople is foreseen by Russian exiles throughout central Europe, who are watching with the keenest interest the advance of the bolshevik-Turkish nationalist forces in Anatolia. Regardless of their political views, these Russians are apparently unanimous in the hope, which amounts almost to a belief with them, that General Brusiloff will lead a conquering army into the city by the Bosphorus.

An anti-bolshevik Russian officer of the old army under imperial regime, expressed this view today in discussing the advance of the Russian force.

Russians Will Be Thankful. "If Trotsky leads a conquering army into Constantinople, I will take off my hat to him," he said. "I hate bolshevism, but it won't last long, and if the Russians enter Constantinople they will never leave and our dream of centuries will be realized. All Russians will rally around the man who restores Constantinople to our sphere of influence."

"Brusiloff is now west of here with his army which is being supplied with ammunition from Moscow, and is moving through a country where there are abundant supplies. City Now Unprotected. "It must be remembered that the Gallipolis peninsula is no longer fortified and that consequently it cannot be held so easily by the forces now occupying it. The warships in the Bosphorus will be of little use against land forces, as the straits are so narrow and the hills surrounding are so steep that the big guns cannot get into action. Nature affords a fine screen for an army moving against Constantinople from the east. It is impossible for warships in the Sea of Marmora or the Black sea to check movements by land from Anatolia because of the irregular rugged hills, and it is doubtful whether the Greeks can muster sufficient land forces to protect the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus as well as the Smyrna area.

Soviet Journalist Talks With U.S. Senator. Riga, July 1.—A bolshevik journalist who interviewed United States Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, now on his way to soviet Russia, for Moscow and Riga newspapers, among them Noy Put, the official bolshevik organ here, quotes Senator France as having declared that American and Russian co-operation would suffice to counteract Japanese designs in Siberia, and as advocating close co-operation between Russia, Germany and the United States in economic and political spheres. Senator France told The Associated Press that in the main the interview was correct, but that he did not mean to advocate a German, American and Russian political alliance.

Appropriation Bill of Navy Is Tied Up in Senate

Objections to House Reductions Cause Delay—Technical Lapse in Funds Is Result.

Washington, July 1.—Objections to house reductions in the naval appropriation bill tied up the measure in the senate and with all appropriations expiring with the fiscal year at midnight tonight, caused a technical lapse in funds.

Final disposition of the bill tomorrow was the aim and hope of leaders of both the senate and house, but they were prepared to rush through an emergency resolution continuing present naval appropriations, should the deadlock continue. Numerous conferences were held between senate leaders and it was finally decided to throw the entire matter into the senate tomorrow, with the result still in doubt.

Senate opposition to the house conference report was largely on two items—elimination of all provisions for airplane carriers and a house amendment broadening the navy retirement pay to extend privileges to enlisted men as well as officers of the reserve corps.

Elimination of appropriations for the Sand Point, Wash., aviation base also met objection.

Help Yourself Club

The following standings include the total votes of all active club members in The Bee's $29,500 "Help Yourself Club" campaign, which closed Saturday night, June 25, at 10 p. m. The names and pictures of the winners are shown on another page of this paper.

A Burroughs adding machine was used in arriving at the totals. Each club member's record has been carefully gone over and we are satisfied, beyond a doubt, that the votes are correct, as listed. In order that we might have a double check with the club members, a letter was sent to the higher ones, showing the total number of votes they were entitled to, according to our records. If they found the votes to be correct, the statement was signed and returned to The Bee office. A large majority of these have been received from club members with their signatures attached.

Prize winners may call at The Bee office for their orders for automobiles any time today, as well as orders for building and loan deposits.

Those who are entitled to a commission will receive their check through the mail in a very short time.

As outlined at the beginning of the campaign, a ten per cent cash commission will be allowed to all club members who failed to win one of the regularly listed awards, providing they secured at least $50.00 in subscriptions.

COMMISSION INSTEAD OF AWARDS. In answer to a number of inquiries as to whether a club member could have a commission on the business they sent in instead of the awards they have won, owing to the fact that The Omaha Bee has bought and paid for the awards, it is impossible to allow the commissions instead of the awards, so please do not ask for them.

THANKS TO ALL. The Bee Publishing Company desires to take this opportunity of congratulating the winners and to thank them for making the "Help Yourself Club" the success it has been.

For those who have worked hard these many weeks and failed to win one of the larger awards there is sympathy aplenty. It is a fact that The Bee could not award everyone an automobile or a house and lot, but we are certain that when the less fortunate club members take into consideration the fact that "in every battle there is bound to be wounded," they will not feel so badly about having lost the award they desired.

A number of letters have been received from club members asking us to convey their thanks to their many friends who so faithfully came to their assistance with substantial subscriptions. Without these friends, the campaign could not have been as successful as it has been.

The Bee trusts that the winners of the various awards will enjoy them to the utmost and that they will be a satisfaction and pleasure to them for many days to come.
