

Castetter Bank Of Blair Reaches New Milestone

Opposition to Defunct Institution Buys Building—New Employees Are Announced.

Blair, Neb., July 3.—(Special)—The name of The Banking House of A. Castetter will soon be erased from the windows of the institution that was a landmark and refuge in time of financial need for Washington county citizens. The bank's failure a few months ago was a severe shock to the citizens of Blair and as efforts to reorganize it failed, it will no longer seem like a monument of failure, rather than the success upon which it was looked by the many friends and patrons.

The Castetter bank building has been purchased by the Farmers State bank, which will take possession sometime during the month of July. With the announcement of the purchase of the building the bank also announced a change of personnel in their own institution.

C. M. Hitchman and E. K. Rickman of Omaha will enter the employ of the bank. All of the old stockholders will retain stock and President J. H. Gibson will remain in an official capacity.

Mr. Hitchman was formerly in charge of the country bank business of the Live Stock National bank of Omaha. Previous to that time he was with the First National bank of Weeping Water, Neb. Mr. Rickman was employed by the Live Stock Cattle Loan company. Previously he was cashier of both the Citizens State and Chadron State banks of Chadron, Neb.

Take Your Medicine, Father Advises Son Accused of Murder

"Be a man and take your medicine, son," was the advice given to Rolla De Hart, in the city jail here awaiting trial on the charge of murdering John Mize of Platte, S. D., by the elder De Hart in urging his son to plead guilty.

Rolla wept with his parents in his cell as he promised to follow the advice and throw himself upon the mercy of the courts. The body of John Mize was found in the Niobrara river north of here a month ago. Circumstantial evidence led to the arrest of De Hart and his wife, who is being held in the county jail, where she also was visited by her husband's parents. Mrs. De Hart does not appear to be worrying. Her husband, however, who has just recovered from a siege of smallpox, spends most of his time crying and lamenting over his predicament.

County Against Allowing U. P. Land to Go Tax Free

Central City, Neb., July 3.—(Special)—A flurry of articles appearing in the state press, the publication of the county board's proceedings this week discloses the fact that Merrick county has not acceded to the request of the Union Pacific that their excess right-of-way be stricken from the local tax list.

Public sentiment, voiced through letters in the local press, demonstrated that Merrick county refuses to acknowledge, but that the state has the right to classify property within its borders for purposes of taxation, and that if the Union Pacific insists on holding strictly farming lands in this state they shall be compelled to pay agricultural taxes upon them.

Alliance Country Club Will Open New Home

Alliance, Neb., July 3.—(Special)—The Alliance country club will be formally opened to the members at a big celebration July 4. A golf tournament, motor boating, water sports, fireworks and a big dance in the evening are on the program. The clubhouse, one of the finest in western Nebraska, has just been completed. The exterior is covered with pine bark slabs from the Black Hills and the interior is of the materials and workmanship. The clubhouse is on the shore of Broncho lake, two miles west of the city. The club now has more than 100 members.

Alliance Business Men Sponsor Bathing Beach

Alliance, Neb., July 3.—(Special)—A number of Alliance business men are sponsoring plans for the building of a community bathhouse and pier at Broncho lake, two miles west of the city. A substantial sun has been raised for the purpose and the bathhouse and pier will be built on a strip of land joining the lake and which was recently purchased by the county commissioners for right-of-way purposes. It is proposed to make it into an ideal public bathing resort, which will be free except for a nominal charge if service is provided.

Alliance Ranch Employe Injured by Vicious Horse

Alliance, Neb., July 3.—(Special)—S. A. Moore, employe of the Kilpatrick ranch here, suffered a compound fracture of his leg when a vicious stallion kicked him. He had gone into the pasture on horseback to drive up some horses. The stallion refused to be driven and when Moore attempted to coerce him, the horse kicked.

Horse Seeks Safety From Firecrackers

Frightened by firecrackers, a driverless horse galloped madly from Twentieth and Farnam streets, ran east, narrowly escaped injuring hundreds of persons and ended its journey by plunging into a six-foot area-way in front of the county court house on Farnam street, shortly after yesterday. The runaway horse had jerked the cool breezes, and the splendid action of the university players combine to make this season a most successful one. The plays will continue each week until July 12.

Business Needs Trained Workers

Omaha Man Complains There Are Not Enough Young People Educated in Business.

"I am unable to get all the competent trained help I need, although I am aware that a good many young men and women are out of employment," said an Omaha business man the other day.

It could impress upon young people the necessity of training for business life. Most of the applicants for positions today have not been educated for the work they would like to do. Consequently, work is scarce for them. On the other hand, those who are properly equipped have steady positions at good pay. They are even more valuable to their employers, now than when times were "easy."

Business men of today do not want employes to work up via the "office boy" route. They have no time to train them in the fundamentals. Recognizing this fact, Boyles college loses no opportunity to impress upon young people the need of a specialized training. It offers intensive courses in specialized lines of business endeavor and urges the prospective student to pursue a line of training that will fit him to do some one thing better than the other fellow can do it. Many young people have responded to the advice and are spending the summer months in acquiring a business education that will place a higher cash value upon their services.

University Notes.

Charles Mayer has presented two marble busts to the art gallery of the university. One is that of Eugene W. Wright of Florence, Italy. The other is a bust of Adm. Hahan. Both busts are placed on beautiful pedestals.

Dean Philo M. Duck of the college of arts and sciences was called to Omaha to help the DuChesne college, the academy of Sacred Hearts, establish a university extension course in English and civics. In the latter departments, economics, political science and history will co-operate.

Adventures of TOURING TIM

Misery No. 9

Who could have more beautiful trout in the wonderful roads than Touring Tim?

Perhaps excepting mother here. She was the one who said: "What's the use of getting any extra canteens for gas and water; we can't use 'em and not get 'em."

Well, she's the one who gets blamed this time anyway. We used up all my gas running in low, and boiled all the water out of the blasted radiator pulling fifteen miles through this West Nebraska sand, and it's 18 miles further to that next burg.

Now well, I can remember those beautiful little handy canteens that strap on the running board like they showed me for only $1 at

The Problem of Selecting The Boarding School

Presents to parents the following conditions, vital to the child's moral, educational and social welfare.

BOARDING SCHOOLS which fail to sustain these conditions create an atmosphere unhealthy for the child, warp their minds and inculcate unnatural and improper habits.

- ⌘ A quiet environment of refinement.
- ⌘ Supervision of play and study periods by competent instructors.
- ⌘ Discourse in correct English only.
- ⌘ Observance of table manners and daily courtesies.
- ⌘ Applied studies.

Information concerning boarding schools will be gladly furnished by The Bee's Educational Dept.

SENIORS

You who are graduating from High School or Prep School, what goal does your ambition point? Do you lean toward a career in business or in one of the professions? Is it your intention to become an educator, a scientist, an agricultural expert? Do you plan to prepare yourself for the strenuous battle of life by thorough special training in any line? There has never been a time when such training was more essential, when its advantages were more apparent. We live in an era of transition and adjustment in a world new-born after the cataclysm. Profound changes have been wrought. Trying times, and times of glorious opportunity, are just ahead. The University trained man or woman will approach these trials, these opportunities, equipped with sound training and sure knowledge. And in comparison with these advantages, the time, the effort, the money involved in securing such training will count as little. Your State University, time-honored and hallowed in tradition, offers a well rounded education in your chosen vocation, together with a host of pleasant and worth while activities for your leisure hours. A comprehensive curriculum, an unexcelled corps of professors and instructors; athletics, debating societies, music, dramatics—all these await you at Lincoln.
