James E. West of New York City Taken to Camp Gifford Following Conference With Walter W. Head.

James E. West of New York City, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, visited Camp Gifford near Childs Point yesterday accompanied by Walter Head, chairman of the middle-west regional committee of Boy Scouts.

Mr. West is on a tour of inspection of Boy Scout organizations throughout the country.

Following a conference with Mr. Head regarding new plans of extension work among the scouts, Mr. West was taken by automobile to Camp Gifford.

There he inspected the barracks of the scouts and watched with keen interest the swimming contests and athletic games of the boys.

"America is foremost in Boy Scout organizations today," declared Mr. West. "We must take care of the youth of the land and through further extension work of the organization we hope to bring the boys to a closer love of the country and fellow man."

Mr. West declared there are 414,000 boys enrolled in scout troops throughout the country, while 118,000 business men are fostering the organization.

Free Milk and Ice Mean Life To Tots of Poor

2 Quarts of Milk and 25 Pounds of Ice Needed Daily in Average Home.

Free milk and ice. That's what The Bee's fund means to hundreds of poor children in Omaha, throughout the hot summer months.

Two quarts of milk is the usual daily order for most families of five or six children; one quart for smaller families. The ice is 25 pounds every day, or every other day.

Fund Pays the Bill. The Visiting Nurse association directs into which needy homes the milk and ice shall be sent. The Bee fund pays the bill.

Surely no one who can afford to have as much milk and ice in his home as his heart desires, can countenance such doling out of the necessities of life to suffering little ones, without pang of conscience about it. The least he can do is to be certain he has done his share toward assuring the permanence of the daily necessity this summer.

Way to Help.

The way to insure continuance of the daily milk and ice blessing is for those who can, to contribute to The Bee milk and ice fund. Donations to date are as follows:
