Buffaloes Trim Des Moines In Second Contest

"Lefty" Daniels Hurls Sweet Ball-Receives Excellent Support From Entire Buffalo Herd

Good pitching won another game for the Omaha Buffaloes yesterday atternoon when Jack Coffey's Des Moines Boosters lost the second contest of the series by the score of 5 to 1. "Lefty" Daniels was on he mound for Burch's hirelings, and the southpaw beaved as nice a game as could be expected of any pitcher. The Boosters collected only six bingles off the offerings of "Lefty" during the nine innings he occupied the box. Half of this number were doubles, while the others were just plain single base blows. He was in tight places a couple of times, but en each occasion the side was retired without any damage being done along the line of scores.

Three visitors hit the breeze for the well-known strike out, while not one Booster trotted down to first base without first giving the Buffaloes a chance to throw 'em out at

Daniels received the regular Omaha support and that means a great deal when it comes to winning an oil ball game, "Whitey" Gislason, Haney and Massey made a flock of good stops, and this, coupled with the work of the three Buffalo pasture performers, robbed the lowans of several good hits. Jack Lelivelt, who holds down the first sack for the Buffaloes, walloped out a double and a single in three times up. His sacrifice in the eighth resulted in two runs, while his double in the first inning scored Gislason. Incidentally, Lelivelt wichita boosted his total number of hits since the season started to 134. in the initial round when he singled, went to second on Haney's swell sacrifice, scoring on Lelivelt's double to center. Griffin started the fuss in the fourth when he doubled to left and took third on Brown's bob-ble. Still Confident Beat Champion Of Being Able to

France Believes War Hero Will Some Day Rule Realm Of Heavyweight Leather Pushers.

Paris, July 6.-Georges Carpentier still believes that he is able to knock out Jack Dempsey. He believes the reason he did not do it on July 2 at Jersey City was due to the bigness of the boxing gloves. In an interview with the New York correspondent of L'Intransigeant, Carpentier declared: But for the last minute concession to the reformers to use eightounce instead of four-ounce gloves I would be heavyweight champion of the world today. "The additional weight of the gloves saved Dempsey from a knockout in that second round. France concedes all the glory of victory to Jack Dempsey, but confidently believes that Georges Carpentier one day will be heavyweight champion of the world. Carpentier, it is believed, will now fight his way through the light heavyweight class in the United States and will then be prepared to enter a ring for a second contest with the heavyweight champion. No one can be found in Paris who believes Carpentier will give up his tope of becoming the premier boxer Excited interest in the fight has ot yet completely abated here and the moving pictures of the bout are eagerly awaited in order to obtain an exact description of the blows exchanged, particularly the ones leading to Carpentier's defeat. Contradictory descriptions have been received in France, some showing that an uppercut to the jaw knocked out the Frenchman, while others say that a double blow to the stomach proved the finish. Referee Ertle's description of the fight as published here has impressed sportsmen that the fight was fair and proves that the challenger was beaten by the strength and weight of his opponent. Most of the sporting writers agree with Ertle that the best man won. Carpentier's own account in which he said he was beaten fairly and completely defeated and paying homage to Dempsey was satisfactorily
