Urges Military Affairs Committee to Allow Use of Camp Equipment at Reunions Of Veterans.

By E. C. SNYDER. Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee. Washington, July 20.—(Special Telegram.)—"Big Jeff" played a clever game of politics today for members of the 88th and 34th divisions, A. E. F., who are planning reunions in Des Moines and Omaha in August and September.

Some time ago the Second district congressman was asked by Capt. Anan Raymond and Lieut. J. F. McDermott of Omaha to secure, if possible from the War department, the loan of cots and bedding for the Des Moines reunion. "Jeff" got busy, ascertaining through a personal visit to Secretary Weeks that the War department was permitted to loan tents to organizations like the 88th division, but could not loan cots or bedding.

By this time the Iowa delegation, through its senators and representatives, was enlisted in the cause and Congressman Dowell of the Des Moines district, instituted a joint resolution directing the secretary of war to provide cots and bedding for the reunion of the 88th division, in view of the fact that such camp equipment was available at Camp Dodge.

Desiring to establish a precedent, Jeffers and Dowell today had a hearing before the military affairs committee of the house on the Dowell resolution. "Big Jeff" took the position that where cots and blankets were available at camps where reunions were to be held service men should have the whole of them, for nothing, was too good for their happiness and comfort. He said he could understand the position of the War department in not wanting to spend money in transporting cots, blankets, etc., but where they were available, as at Des Moines, he could see no reason why the veterans of the world war should not be permitted to use the equipment on the ground.

Congressman Dowell of Iowa presented the main argument in behalf of his resolution, which was unanimously agreed to by the military affairs committee and a favorable report authorized.

Having assisted in thus establishing a precedent, Congressman Jeffers will introduce tomorrow a similar resolution as the Dowell resolution authorizing the secretary of war to provide cots and blankets for the reunion of the 34th division, which will meet in Omaha during Ak-Sar-Ben week, September 19, 20 and 21.

Emery Moves Into Bungalow He Won

Then Traffic Officer Takes Spin in Car He Also Gained in Bee Contest

Tuesday was moving day for Sgt. George Emery, motorcycle officer of the Omaha police department. But George had a few thrills that don't generally go with moving day. George moved from 2554 Pratt street into a nice, new, modern, five-room bungalow at 2578 Titus avenue. It was the Minne Lusa bungalow which Clara Kimball Young visited when she was in Omaha and over which she enthused.

It was the bungalow which George secured for his very own when he nailed it as the capital award in The Bee's big Help Yourself club campaign for subscriptions.

The home alone was valued at $7,800, but after George and his wife got all settled into it last evening they threw dull care away and took a cooling drive in their new $1,650 Overland sedan, which he also won as a special award during the Help Yourself campaign.

"George sure is a lucky guy," sighed a number of his fellow officers at Central police station, as they listened to his tales of moving day thrills, but George only grinned in reply.

Mathews' Bank in Denver Is Closed

Failure of Pioneer Bank Here Reflected in Plight of Colorado Institution.

Denver, July 20.—(Special Telegram.)—The Denver State bank in Denver, owned almost exclusively in Omaha, was closed yesterday by the state bank examiner.

Practically all of the bank's stock is held by M. V. Mathews, president of the institution and also president of the Pioneer State bank of Omaha, which was taken in charge recently by the state bank commissioner of Nebraska.

Representatives of the Colorado commissioner said the failure of the Omaha institution is reflected in the present embarrassment of the Denver bank, which is understood to be solvent. Its assets are listed at about $150,000.

Chief Deputy State Bank Commissioner Olsen, who took charge of the bank, stated that no check of the assets, the notes held and other pertinent matters had been made and that he could give no authentic statement as to the exact condition of the bank.

The bank had a capital of $50,000 and deposits of $150,000. Officials said assets were ample to cover deposits, but were described as "slow nature."

The local bank was not a member of the Denver clearing house.

Phipps, 71, was called into court for disobeying traffic rules and cursing the traffic cop.

"Well, your honor, I did not see the policeman at all. I was looking at a picture in the window of a Lemp beer saloon and wishing I had a glass of beer. I came six blocks without meeting a policeman and had forgotten all about traffic cops."

"In that case," Judge Bonner said, "we will fine you $25 and costs, just the price of six kegs of beer."

Later Judge Bonner suspended the fine when Phipps promised to forget about beer while he was driving down town.
