

Small Subject To Arrest, Judge Smith Decides

Court Rules Illinois Executive Does Not Have Power to Call Out Troops for Protection.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Springfield, Ill., July 26.—Governor Len Small is subject to arrest and prosecution on warrants taken out, following his indictment by the Sangamon county grand jury for alleged embezzlement of $500,000 interest on state funds, while state treasurer, Circuit Judge E. S. Smith ruled today.

The decision, while holding that warrants should be served upon the governor, states that the chief executive should be permitted "a reasonable time" to make his appearance voluntarily presenting himself before the court. The judge also held that it was "beyond the scope of the governor to call state troops to shield him from arrest, and scoffed at the claim of 'sovereign power'."

Judge Smith, after reading his decision, adjourned court until September 6, giving Sheriff Mester six weeks in which to serve the warrants on the governor, or for the governor to surrender voluntarily and give bond. Should Governor Small decide before the reconvening of court, to accept service the bond can be accepted and approved by the sheriff and State's Attorney Mortimer. Governor Small's bond was reduced to $50,000, placing him on the same level in this respect as Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Verne E. Curtis of the Grant Park bank, who are indicted with the governor.

Conference Refused.

The first move of the state to serve the warrants on Governor Small came this afternoon, when State's Attorney Mortimer telephoned George D. Sutton, private secretary of the governor, suggesting a conference on the situation. Mr. Sutton replied that Governor Small was the only one who had authority to speak on the subject. Mr. Mortimer made no further effort to discuss the matter. The warrant has not yet been turned over to Sheriff Mester.

It is expected that the warrant will be turned over to Sheriff Mester within the next 24 hours unless some communication is received from Governor Small. Sheriff Mester indicated he would attempt to serve the warrant in the usual way, but would not state what course he would pursue if resistance is met with.

Former Governor Joseph W. Fifer, George B. Gillespie and former congressman James M. Graham, who have refused to enter appearance as attorneys for Governor Small before Judge Smith, offering their opinions, as they have stated, merely as friends of the court, pleaded again for their view of the case, but, as they have not entered appearance for the governor, Judge Smith held that their opinions could have no effect upon the findings of the court.

Law Provides for Trial.

In reply to a contention by these attorneys that impeachment was the only punishment possible for Governor Small, while Lieutenant Governor Fred Sterling is not exempt from criminal prosecution, Judge Smith said that the constitution "provides for trial judgment and punishment according to the law."

The assault took place, it is alleged, in the office of Shevlin, but the account of the affair as given by the two men is largely divergent.

Solution of Railway Tangle Is Presented

compensation, depreciation and maintenance.

"The way now would seem clear to early adjustment and relief except for the fact that the railway administration, though possessing assets, does not command the funds necessary to meet what will be its admitted obligations.

Asks for Relief.

"With this end in view you are asked to extend the authority of the War Finance corporation so that it may purchase these railway funding securities accepted by the director general of railroads. No added expense, no added investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burden, it is merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which congress already has authorized the issue and turn them into the channels of finance ready to float them.

"I can readily believe that so simple a remedy will have your prompt sanction. The question of our obligations cannot be raised, the wisdom of affording early relief is not to be doubted and the avoidance of added appropriation of liability will appeal to congress and the public alike.

"Pending proposals for relief and their discussion have already brought to the attention of congress the very promising possibilities of broadening the powers of the war finance corporation for the further relief of agriculture and live stock production. This corporation has proven itself so helpful in the relief thus far undertaken that I cannot help but believe that its broadened powers, as have been proposed, to meet agricultural needs, will enable it wholly to meet the nation-wide emergency. This is an impelling moral obligation to American farming in all its larger aspects, and it will be most gratifying to have your early sanction.

"In the case of the railroads there is a moral and a contractual obligation, and your favorable action is no less urgent and will no less appeal to public approval. Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our healthful industrial, commercial and agricultural life. Everything hinges on transportation.

"After necessary and drastic curtailments, after harrowing straits in meeting their financial difficulties, the railways need only this financial aid which the fulfillment of our obligations will bestow, to inaugurate their far-reaching revival. Its effects will be felt in various industries, and will banish to a large degree the depression which, though inevitable in war's aftermath, we are all so anxious to see ended.

Peace Reports From Ireland Are Optimistic

De Valera in Conference Preliminary to Calling Meeting of Dail Eireann—Complaint Ignored.

By JOHN STEELE.
Chicago Tribune Cable, Copyright, 1921.
London, July 26.—The British cabinet at a meeting this morning received encouraging reports regarding the reception of the peace proposal in Dublin, where Eamon de Valera is now conferring with his associates preliminary to calling a meeting of Dail Eireann. It is reported here that the Irish are impressed with the offer of full dominion status and that it will be impossible for even the extremists to oppose settlement on these lines.

Little importance is attached, either here or in Dublin, to the complaint by Barry Egan, deputy mayor of Cork, on the carrying out of the trace in the martial law district under General Strickland. It is felt the matter is only a local quarrel between Egan, who is known as an extremist, and some local commandeer. Egan declares the internment camp on an island in Cork harbor is overcrowded and the prisoners are badly fed. General Strickland says the interned are receiving the same quarters and food as the troops.

Refuse to Recognize Rank.

Another complaint about the British officers is that in certain areas they refused to recognize the rank of officers in the "Irish republican army." The matter has been settled by the intervention of the Dublin authorities on both sides.

Prime Minister Lloyd George, in answering a number of questions in the house of commons this afternoon, said he hoped to make a statement in the house on the Irish negotiations as soon as it was possible to do so without endangering their success. He warned members against accepting published versions of terms which he said were all wrong. The prime minister declined to say if he would make a statement this week.

Demand Independence.

The Irish Bulletin, the official organ of the Sinn Fein, in a hot editorial today declares that nothing can satisfy the Irish demands but full national independence.

The Irish people have their own views of what offers are reasonable, the editorial says. They will agree to nothing which denies the ancient unity of Ireland or seeks to impose upon the nation alien dominion of any kind. The Bulletin repudiates the suggestion that the national demand can be settled by fiscal autonomy and says nothing can satisfy that demand but full national independence.

The editor of the paper is Erskine Childers, who is an Englishman and is regarded as one of the most extreme of the Sinn Feiners.

Canning Factory Is Trade Slump Victim

Grand Island, Neb., July 26.—(Special.)—The Grand Island Canning factory is a victim of the reconstruction period and will not put up thousands of cases of canned goods usually preserved in the fall of the year. ### Bergdoll Probe Ends Peacefully; No Report Given

Responsibility for Escape of Draft Dodger Not Fixed—Demand Gold Be Confiscated.

Washington, July 2.—The Bergdoll investigation ended finally Monday—and ended peacefully.

There was no statement from the committee, directed to fix responsibility for the escape of Grover Bergdoll, draft dodger, while hunting last year for a buried tube of gold, or as to disposition of the case of Maj. Bruce R. Campbell, army officer, accused by Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll of accepting $5,000 to help get her son out of the clutches of the law.

An unexpected turn at the last moment was a demand by Representative Lohring of Indiana, republican member, that the alien property custodian be ordered to recover $125,000 in gold taken from the treasury a year or more ago and alleged to have been buried by Grover Bergdoll. The evidence developed indicated that the gold was obtained from government vaults for bribery purposes and that if still buried, as the woman asserts, it ought to be dug up and put back in government hands.

Members of the committee refused to say whether they would recommend that the Campbell charges be dismissed or turned over to the War department for such investigation as the inspector general might suggest.

In view of the clash Saturday between Representative Johnson, democrat, Kentucky, and Charles A. Braun, brother of Grover Bergdoll, a big crowd gathered today, most of the spectators being women. Only passing reference was made to Braun's testimony. John H. Sherburne of Boston, committee counsel, asserted that there was no truth in the statement that he, Sherburne, had made suggestions to Mrs. Bergdoll, except that if she was "beset by grafters, as she charged, that he go to the president of her bank for advice about hiring lawyers.

Major Campbell's 70-year-old father, W. R. Campbell of Lexington, Ky., corroborated the son's statement that a $500 fund placed by the late Milton Young of Lexington, in 1915, grew in two years to $6,000 and that the money, without a word of explanation, was turned over to the officer. Major Campbell stated that this same money, some of which was in $1,000 bills, was deposited with a Wall Street firm last year about the time Mrs. Bergdoll swore she had given him $5,000.

This Is the Way to Make Every Buy a Bargain

BUY advertised goods. Only GOOD goods, fairly priced, can stand the spotlight of publicity.

A merchant or manufacturer would not dare to advertise merchandise that is poor in quality, poor in make or that will not give reasonable wear. The penalty of such tactics is too heavy. No goods—and no business concern—can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

A merchant places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. Naturally enough, he is careful of what he says and when his statement is placed in the newspaper—where everyone in town may read—so that any untruth in it will be known to all of his employes and most of his friends—then you may be sure he is doubly careful.

When you buy advertised goods you get a bargain because THEY MUST BE AS ADVERTISED.

So it pays you to read advertisements. Advertising protects you. Read the advertisements in this paper and get the best of the bargain.
