

Counter Attack Stops Advance Of Greeks' Army

Constantine's Forces Have Obtained Great Success, But Allies Do Not Consider Decision Reached.

Constantinople, July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Turks have halted 40 miles east of Eski-Shehr, at the Pass of Atikkuq, and also at Seid-El-Ghazi, where a counter-offensive stopped the Greeks' advance.

There seems to be no doubt that the Greeks obtained an important initial success in the taking of Kars and Eski-Shehr due to their great superiority in artillery. Allied military observers, however, do not consider that a decision has been reached in the fighting.

Eski-Shehr, Asia Minor, July 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Greeks entered Eski-Shehr headed by Prince Andrew, but did not stop here. They continued their pursuit of the retreating Turks into the open plains beyond the city.

Was Rapid Advance.

The Greek advance was made with the utmost rapidity. By night, its path was lighted by scores of immense blazes all along the road and up the mountain side, consisting of burning villages, which had been fired by the retreating nationalists.

From Ainegöl on, in a radius of 50 miles around Eski-Shehr, few villages are left. Turkish prisoners say it is the purpose of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, if he must withdraw in this district, to leave the Greeks nothing but homeless refugees to feed.

The roads are choked with fleeing Turkish refugees from burning villages, making their way toward Brussa on buffalo carts, on asses, and afoot, with nothing but hastily gathered intimate belongings. They said their villages were taken and looted by the nationalist soldiers before being fired.

Thus, whole communities are migrating as units in groups of 2,000 and 3,000 each, greatly impeding the supply service of the Greek army and rendering the countryside unsafe.

The crops in the fields along the path of the Hellenic army's advance have been left unprotected by the dispersed and terrified villagers. This presages famine during the coming winter, as the utmost efforts are required on the part of the Greeks to supply its army alone from its base at the Piraeus.

Every Greek soldier is being used in the military operations, the police work at Brussa, and Mudana being done by sailors of the Greek fleet. As the soldiers are required in the front line service, none is available to harvest the ungarnered grain.

The near east relief already is caring for 7,000 Greeks, 4,000 Armenians and 3,000 Turkish refugees in Brussa and are making efforts to meet the appalling new needs created by the recent military developments.

Box Office at Fight In New York Is Robbed

New York, July 26.—As the lights in the rotunda at the entrance of Ebbets field, Brooklyn, went out last night, just before the beginning of the bout between Joe Lynch and Pete Herman for the bantamweight championship, three men in the presence of 2,000 persons, seeking to buy tickets, held up the ticket-seller at window 13, searched all the bills within reach, and made their escape in the semi-darkness.

The exact amount of the robbery could not be ascertained, but Charles E. Ebbets, jr., secretary of the Brooklyn base ball club, owner of the field, admitted that it amounted to at least $800.

House Authorizes Loan Of Equipment for Reunion

Messenger at Pittsburgh Postoffice Bandit Victim

Pittsburgh, July 26.—A masked bandit early this morning held up and robbed a 17-year-old boy employed at the postoffice of Williamsburg, a suburb, of two mail pouches containing registered letters, according to P. H. Rinehart, ticket agent at the Williamsburg railroad station. The loss is unknown.

The bandit, according to Rinehart, held up the boy, Henry Hoffman, while he was transferring the pouches from the station to the postoffice. The robber held the boy at bay with a pistol while he rifled the pouches which he cut open with a knife and placed registered mail in a suitcase.

Dog Saves Life of Farmer Being Gored by a Bull

Harrisburg, Ill., July 26.—Knocked down and gored so badly by a bull that he became unconscious, Loy Barter, 23, farmer, probably owes his life to a small fox terrier, which drove off the bull, biting in so severely that it was necessary to call a veterinarian. Barter suffered a broken jaw and two broken ribs. The dog was uninjured.

Shrewd Salesmanship Sells $1,000,000 Worth of Mississippi Bonds

New York, July 26.—Wall street is telling a story of shrewd salesmanship by Frank Robertson, attorney general of Mississippi, in disposing of $1,000,000 worth of state bonds. The issue, which was for a tuberculosis sanitarium, was offered at par, with 5/2 per cent interest. Bankers were not interested because they felt the terms were too low under present conditions.

Herman Regains Bantam Honors

Trounces Former Champion, Joe Lynch, in 15-Round Wrangle at Brooklyn.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

Brooklyn, July 26.—Pete Herman regained the bantamweight championship by soundly trouncing Joe Lynch in 15 rounds at Ebbets field last night. Herman led right from the opening bell and except for a few flashes here and there, when Lynch managed to rock the little Italian with rights to the jaw, Lynch slowly but surely was passing back the title to Herman.

The weight of both boys was announced at 116 pounds. In the very first round Herman stepped right out and rapped Joseph with a series of left and right smashes to the face. During one of the warm scrammages in the opening frame Lynch went to the floor.

During the rest of the journey Joseph had the utmost respect for the sharp shots being sent through by Herman. In the second round Lynch managed to grab Peter with a hard straight punch to the jaw. Herman reeled back and fell against the ropes.

It was noticeable from the fourth round Lynch did very little execution with his right hand, depending almost exclusively on his south paw in trying to offset the vicious attacks of his smaller opponent. It was reported at the end of the fight that Lynch had fractured a small bone in his right hand during the third round and he was compelled to favor that member considerably afterward. From the seventh round it was all Herman. He rocked and staggered Lynch with ripping uppercuts, accompanied by hard right smashes to the head.

Joe leaped at Herman, throwing all caution to the winds, and tried with his both hands to bring down Peter, but the latter was too strong for him. Again in the last two rounds Lynch tried hard in fact of the odds against him to turn the tide, but Herman had too much in his favor and Joe made his try in the last two jumps from home. Pete had enough left to turn him back and at the final bell the judges were unanimous in voting for Herman and restoring to him once more the coveted bantamweight championship of the world.

Harding to Take Short Vacation At Home of Weeks

Will Devote Several Days Entirely to Recreation Following an Address at Pilgrim Tercentenary

Washington, July 26.—A vacation of several days in the White mountains of New Hampshire is planned by President and Mrs. Harding to follow their attendance next Monday at the Pilgrim tercentenary celebration at Plymouth, Mass. During their outing they are to be guests of Secretary Weeks of the War department at his country place, near Lancaster, N. H.

Under present plans, they will go directly there from Plymouth, arriving a week from today and probably remaining until the following Saturday or Sunday. During the stay, the president expects to accept no invitations but to devote his whole time to rest and recreation.

Make Trip on Yacht.

It is hoped to make the trip to New England and back on the presidential yacht Mayflower.

The president is to make one address at Plymouth as part of the program. Early in the day he will review a military and civic parade and during the evening will attend a banquet depicting the landing of the Pilgrims.

Lancaster, N. H., July 26.—President Harding will be far from the madding crowd when he comes to the summer home of Secretary Weeks here next week. The Weeks' lodge is at the top of Mount Prospect, 2,000 feet above sea level, and 1,240 feet higher than this bustling little border town. It commands a view of all the principal peaks of the White mountains, and also of the Connecticut river, with its right bank on New Hampshire and Vermont on its left. The view from the observation tower which Secretary Weeks has set up near his lodge, has been declared to be the most satisfactory in all the mountain country.

It will be no new scene to the president, however, for as a fellow member of the party that came here from Washington several years ago and enjoyed a stay at the Mount Prospect lodge. In 1918 he came here again as a chautauqua lecturer and renewed his acquaintance with the peaks, notches and intervals.

Building his summer home in the town where he was born a yearling boy, Mr. Weeks at much expense set up a two-story structure atop the mountain with seven chambers, dining room and kitchen on the first floor, and on the second one large room with two fireplaces and four balconies.

Wholesale Decline In Prices Slows Up

Washington, July 26.—Wholesale prices in the United States, according to figures compiled by the federal reserve board for the purpose of international comparisons, showed a decline in prices during June of 2 per cent, against 5 per cent during May. On the basis of prices in 1913 equal to the index number 100, commodities imported shifted from an index number of 105 during May to 102 during June. Prices of exports also declined from 125 in May to 122 in June. The all-commodities index stands at 139, as compared with 142 in May.

This index number is compiled from 90 wholesale price quotations for representative commodities taken in leading United States markets. In most cases weekly quotations are averages to obtain the monthly figures, and these in turn are weighted according to the importance of the commodity, then the next number is constructed.

Youth Sticks His Arm Into Hydrant; Suction Holds It; Dad Spanks

New York, July 26.—The Dutch boy who plugged up a hole in the dike with his hand and saved all Holland is a prototype of 5-year-old Davey McCluskey of Harlem. Davey's arm got stuck in a fire hydrant for half an hour before six firemen took the hydrant apart and freed him.

Davey and some chums found the cap of the hydrant loose and uncrewed it. Davey shoved his left arm in up to the shoulder. When he tried to withdraw it he couldn't because of the suction. He did not even whimper while being rescued and the firemen shook hands with him and called him a "game little kid." But McCluskey, sr., happened along and Davey's reward was different than the Dutch boy's.

Japanese to Act On Harding Plan

Definite Action Regarding Disarmament Acceptance Is Anticipated.

Tokio, July 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Official circles last night were disposed to forecast definite action by the Japanese cabinet today in acceptance of President Harding's suggestion for a far eastern conference. Apparently the talks between Ambassador Shidehara and Secretary of State Hughes in Washington have gone far toward clarifying the situation.

According to Japan's understanding of the American viewpoint as given out here, America's idea is to make the basis of the conference a broad discussion of policies and principles, although each participant would have the right to introduce specific subjects if they were germane to the principle under discussion, and if the powers generally in the Pacific were affected. The idea is said to prevail that questions affecting two powers should be left, wherever possible, to the powers concerned.

Allied Supreme Council to Meet In Paris Aug. 4

Meeting Compromises Differences Existing Between France and Britain Over Procedure in Silesia.

London, July 26.—The allied supreme council will meet in Paris August 4, according to an official announcement this morning. It is understood the session will be brief, dealing only with the Silesian question.

Marquis Curzon, secretary of state for foreign affairs, and A. J. Balfour, lord president of the council, will represent Great Britain, as it is improbable Premier Lloyd George will be able to leave London.

The British experts who will examine the Silesian question before the council meeting already have left for Paris.

It is understood that Ambassador Harvey will attend the supreme council sessions in an advisory and unofficial capacity.

The call for this meeting of the supreme council compromises, to a degree, the differences between Great Britain and France over the procedure to be adopted in connection with upper Silesia, where the situation owing to the continued German and Polish rivalries in the disputed area is said to be increasingly threatening.

A dispatch from Paris Monday night indicated that Great Britain had agreed to a meeting of the supreme council August 4 and a preliminary examination into the upper Silesian question by a committee of experts as France has desired.

Harding Urges Probe Of Pellagra Epidemic In Southern States

Washington, July 2.—Alarmed at reports of a semi-famine, coupled with an epidemic of pellagra in a large section of the southern cotton belt, President Harding today requested both the public health service and the American Red Cross to make immediate investigation and report what could be done by the federal government.

The fullest co-operation of all federal agencies in the relief measures was promised by the president, who declared, if found necessary, congress would be asked to pass special legislation. He urged that no time be lost in ascertaining conditions and applying to them an effective remedy.

"The threat of famine and plague," the president wrote, "seemed to arise from the fact that depressed markets had made it impossible for the people of a large section to sell their stocks of cotton. The resulting shortage of money, he said, apparently had deprived many thousands of the variety of food necessary to ward off pellagra."
