

Big Boy Leaves Home; Fags and School Blamed

Youngster of 14 Shuns Classmates Smaller in Size—Has Man-Size Desire.

A boy of 14, cast in a man's size frame, has troubles that the average sized boy doesn't know.

"Shucks, mother, I can't go to the sixth grade in the fall with all those little boys," Harry Saunders, 14, but who wears 18-year-old clothes, has been telling his mother, Mrs. Lillian Tabor, all summer.

But mother insisted that Harry complete his schooling.

The boy was morose. As each day brought him closer to the end of the school vacation and nearer to the day when he would have to march back to class with boys much smaller than himself, the spirit within Harry rebelled.

A week ago Monday he disappeared.

His mother, who lives at 4173 California street, believes he may have headed for relatives on a South Dakota farm.

"We were on the farm several years ago and Harry liked it immensely there," she said. "He likes to do odd jobs to earn money and probably is making his way north."

Harry had another "worry" little boys don't know.

He thought his man-size entitled him to be permitted to smoke. His mother thought otherwise and reprimanded him.

Harry has been living with his grandmother, Mrs. Marion Pruden, 3623 North Sixteenth street, and attended Druid Hill school.

One was that of Lewis P. Nielson, engineer. The other was that of another member of the train crew, believed to be an Omaha man because of an oval pocket mirror with the name Beddoe Clothing company, 1417 Douglas street, Omaha, on the back, found in his pocket. He has not been identified. He was about 50, six feet tall, weighing 280 pounds, had blue eyes, gray hair and light complexion. He wore a light brown suit with a black pin stripe, tan shoes and carried an open face Elgin watch.

Name W. J. Bryan Means Nothing To Cops in Wilds of Sucker State

Chicago, July 28.—William Jennings Bryan had delivered a lecture at Delavan, Wis., and was making a fast automobile jump to Waukegan, a Chicago suburb, where a chauffeur audience awaited him. His driver had been doing a little better than 50 miles an hour when he slowed down for a curve at Antioch and made the acquaintance of Marshal J. B. Congdon.

"Where are you going, and who are you anyway?" was the introduction.

"I'm going to Waukegan. I'm William Jennings Bryan and I must deliver a lecture in Waukegan in just a few minutes."

"Live in Waukegan? What's your business?"

"I'm a writer on subjects of political economy. I've been in politics 41 years. I have been a candidate for president on several occasions and have served as secretary of state. In Lincoln, Neb., where live, I am fairly well known as a law-abiding citizen."

"That may go in Lincoln, but I never heard of you Mr. O'Brien. You will have to tell the judge about it."

At the village hall a democratic politician recognized the commoner immediately and after apologies, Bryan sped on his way.

There was no further adventure until Zion City was reached, where a motorcycle drove the machine to the curb.

"I'm William Jennings Bryan," said Mr. Bryan to a request for his name.

"Glad to know you," said the motorcycle cop. "I'm Woodrow Wilson and that man in uniform across the street is Robert E. Lee. Christopher Columbus is out shooting crabs with Queen Elizabeth."

The commoner for once in his life had no answer ready and the party proceeded to police headquarters. The police chief took one look and said:

"Let me shake the hand that raised grape juice to its present high state."

Mr. Bryan complied and sped on to Waukegan.

Rail Man Reports Grain Crop Good Better Than East, Great Western Official Asserts

Business conditions are much better in the west than in the east, especially those which particularly affect the railroads, according to W. R. MacFarland, Chicago, general passenger agent of the Chicago Great Western railroad, who was in the city yesterday on an inspection trip.

"Manufacturing centers in the east are in a bad way," Mr. MacFarland declared. "Manufactured products are not moving and the absence of business is harming industry as well as the railroads. The railroads are hauling little freight and many concerns have called in their salesmen because of the lack of business."

"In a majority of the grain districts of the west the grain crops are good. In Iowa I heard the oat crop had proved a failure, wheat was marketing well and the outlook for a bumper corn crop was encouraging."

Mr. MacFarland has been making a tour of the western lines for several days, getting a line on business conditions in general. He will leave today for Des Moines, where he will make a similar visit.

"Well, well," quoth the pastor, "I married his father and mother 30 years ago." The records of the "marrying parson" showed that the elder Bolts, Harry and Mary, were number 206 in his list of wedding ceremonies. He has now passed the 5,100 mark.

Evangeline Booth Pessimistic Over Winter Outlook

Worst Condition, Industrially, Country Has Experienced for 15 Years, Forecast of Salvation Army Head.

New York, July 28.—Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in the United States, says that the country is facing the worst winter industrially it has known in 15 years.

"In New York City alone," she declared yesterday, "we are receiving an average of 800 registered applications a week for regular employment. That is less than one-third of the actual number applying because we do not register the transient or unskilled men; nor does it include the hundreds who come to us daily for food and lodging. Of the applicants for work, today 34 were really professional men whose credentials entitle them to good paying positions."

"Most of the men who apply to us for relief are young men under 40, who are willing to work but there are no jobs for them. Last week we had 84 families to care for, with little children who were actually starving. Eviction because the rent money was lacking was imminent for most of them."

"I'm William Jennings Bryan," said Mr. Bryan to a request for his name.

"Glad to know you," said the motorcycle cop. "I'm Woodrow Wilson and that man in uniform across the street is Robert E. Lee. Christopher Columbus is out shooting crabs with Queen Elizabeth."

The commoner for once in his life had no answer ready and the party proceeded to police headquarters. The police chief took one look and said:

"Let me shake the hand that raised grape juice to its present high state."

Mr. Bryan complied and sped on to Waukegan.

There Is No Supposing About It—

Milk is a perishable product, easily contaminated. Pure at its source, on the farm, unless constantly and intelligently guarded, its purity and cleanliness will be sacrificed by the time it reaches you.

So that "trusting to luck" that the milk you are getting is pure and clean and SAFE is like fooling with a loaded gun and hoping it won't go off.

You ought to be SURE of the milk you buy. Sure that the dealer from whom you buy it is competent to give complete protection to it every step of the way from the farm to your table.

Our organization of men skilled in handling milk, our equipment, afford our customers absolute assurance that the milk they are getting is pure, clean and SAFE beyond all doubt.

Contracts Awarded For Federal Aid Road

Atlantic, Ia., July 27.—(Special.)—Cass county's first federal aid project, embracing three miles of new highway extending from Anita east to the Cass-Adair county line, has been contracted for. The contract has been let to an Omaha firm for 22.3 cents a cubic yard. This is one of the lowest figures at which a federal aid project has been let.

That part of the project which lies within Cass county will be completed this year, say the contractors. There are 79,000 cubic yards of earth to be moved.

Monticello Now Offered for Sale To United States

Home of Thomas Jefferson Can Be Purchased by Nation for $500,000—Comprises 700 Acres

New York, July 28.—After refusing for many years to sell Monticello, estate of Thomas Jefferson, in Albemarle county, Virginia, Jefferson M. Levy now offers the historic mansion and grounds at private sale, but would be glad to sell it to the nation for $500,000. It has been in the possession of his family since 1833, when Commodore Levy of the United States navy acquired the house and grounds seven years after the death of Jefferson.

"The place has become a great care and expense to me," said Mr. Levy yesterday. "and I am getting too old to stand the burden."

Mr. Levy added that several years ago both Andrew Carnegie and Jacob H. Schiff had told him they would be willing to buy the historic estate and present it to the nation as a Jefferson shrine.

Both offers were refused. Mr. Levy said, because he had the idea at that time that the nation itself might buy the Jefferson mansion as a summer White House for the president.

Mr. Levy said that he expended more than $1,000,000 on the estate, now comprising 700 acres, and its price to private buyers certainly would run into the millions. If the mansion went to the government, he said, he would give the art of objects, which experts say would bring at auction $250,000 or more.

Mr. Levy estimated that 50,000 persons visited the mansion annually and added that it had been necessary for him to charge a fee of 50 cents.

Unidentified Man Killed by Switch Engine at Fremont

Fremont, Neb., July 28.—(Special Telegram.)—An unidentified man, about 60, was instantly killed here in the Northwestern yards when he was mangled by a switch engine Thursday night. It is not known whether the man was run down in the darkness or whether he deliberately planned suicide.

His body was found by the engine crew after the train had passed over him. It was lying between the tracks with the head completely severed from the shoulders. A small purse containing a few pennies and a safety razor were his only possessions besides a tin can apparently used as a drinking cup.

The officials are of the opinion that the man was either attempting to catch the freight train or wandered into the railroad yards from the Lincoln highway nearby. He was about five feet in height, weighed about 110 pounds and had gray hair and gray mustache.
