

Warrants Issued For Apprehension Of British Chiefs

Writs of Attachment Out for General MacReady and Major General Strickland in Ireland.

By The Associated Press. Dublin, July 30.—Writs of attachment, calling for the apprehension of General Sir Nevil MacReady, commander of the British troops in Ireland, and Major General Strickland, commander in Munster, were issued today by the master of the rolls. Sergeant Hanna, attorney for General MacReady and General Strickland and also for the governor of Limerick jail for whom a similar writ was issued, announced that a notice of an appeal against the decision of the master of the rolls, would be lodged with the house of lords.

The case had its origin in the failure of those against whom the writs were issued to comply with proceedings in habeas corpus to produce John E. Egan, under sentence of death by a military court in Limerick, in court today.

Sergeant Hanna told the master of the rolls that he had been instructed by General MacReady to inform the court that, pending a final hearing on the appeal, the sentences of death against Egan and another prisoner named Higgins would be unexpected.

No Arrests Expected.

Uncertainty prevails here as to the next step in the case. Dublin is not under martial law and it is therefore presumed that General MacReady who is now in London, and the others against whom the writs were issued, are liable to arrest. While the writs have been issued, no arrests are expected. The contention of the military authorities is that they acted not under the ordinary law, but under martial law, which they claim superseded the civil jurisdiction. The case follows the historic precedent in the case of Wolfe Tone, the Irish revolutionist, who was captured on a French squadron on its way to Ireland in 1798 and sentenced to death.

The Evening Telegraph says Egan no longer is in Limerick jail. It adds that the habeas corpus order made by the master of the rolls was served on the prison governor Wednesday and that three hours later a party of the military arrived in Limerick and removed Egan, whose present whereabouts is unknown.

De Valera Still Silent.

London, July 29.—Eamonn de Valera still is silent, another day having passed with no word from the republican leader.

The general supposition now is that there will be no new move in the peace negotiations pending the expected release of those members of the Dail Eireann who are in jail and the summoning of a full meeting of the republican parliament. Temporarily, the peace negotiations have been overshadowed by the extraordinary action of the military authorities in Ireland. Gen. Sir Nevil MacReady, Maj. Gen. Sir Edward Strickland and others, in defying the master of the rolls by failing to comply with writs of habeas corpus, which he ordered in connection with the sentencing to death of John Egan and the reported spiriting away of Egan to an unknown place.

Legion Will Oppose Move to Pardon Debs

Indianapolis, July 30.—Promising to fight to a finish any move to pardon Eugene V. Debs and other war prisoners at this time, John G. Emery, national commander of the American Legion, wired President Harding that to free such prisoners would be interpreted as a license to disregard law and order.

The telegram was prompted by press dispatches which stated that the president received delegations urging such action and that the matter would have early consideration.

Alvin M. Osley, acting director of the Legion's Americanism commission, wrote Attorney General Daugherty, declaring that the names of Debs and Bergdoll were linked together throughout the country and the unanimous opinion of ex-service men calls for the retention of Debs in prison and the bringing of Bergdoll before the bars of justice.

Hammerstein Theatrical Ventures Are Bankrupt

New York, July 30.—Voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the United States district court today by Oscar Hammerstein, incorporated, and the Hammerstein Opera company, both theatrical producing organizations which grew out of the activities of the late impresario. Both petitions were signed by Emma Swift Hammerstein, his widow.

Oscar Hammerstein, incorporated, declared liabilities amounting to $769,000 with $10,000 of assets, consisting of theatrical apparatus. The Hammerstein Opera company's petitions place its liabilities at $621,000 with no assets.

The petitions followed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed last April against Mrs. Hammerstein, who was declared bankrupt in June.

Indian Skeleton Found In School House Basement

Broken Bow, Neb., July 29.—(Special.)—Supervisor Ralph Johnson reports that the skeleton of an Indian and some gun shells of an early period and an Indian bow were found when an excavation was being made for a school house basement southeast of Comstock.

Aged Woman Burns to Death Trying to Save Her Husband

Fresno, Cal., July 30.—Mrs. John Duckworth, aged 78, made a futile effort to save her bedridden husband, who is 80, when an exploding oil stove fired their home at Clovis, near here early today, and they both suffered burns from which they died a few hours after neighbors had carried them from the house.

Professor's Wife Describes Fall Down Side of Peak

Incessant Shouting During Eight Days She Lay on Perilous Ledge Led Searching Party to Her.

Spray Falls, Alta., July 30.—Mrs. W. E. Stone, resting in an improvised camp on Mount Eanon, described today how the shrill sound of her voice, caught up by the multitude of peaks and crags and echoing, saved her life after her husband, president of Purdue university of Lafayette, Ind., had perished in climbing the mountain, and after she had lain eight days on a perilous ledge.

A searching party had calculated the probable course that Dr. and Mrs. Stone would take in the attempt to ascend Mount Eanon.

From a point of vantage the searchers had scoured every side with their glasses without a sight of anything. Then, as they decided to go on, one member of the party thought he heard the cry of a woman from afar. Listening intently, the searchers heard it again.

Rescue Didn't Take Long.

A minute inspection with their glasses revealed far below and across the canyon the form of a woman. One hour later Mrs. Stone was rescued.

At different periods she had raised her voice with all the vigor she had, expecting that some time it might be heard and she would be rescued.

Dr. Stone was within five minutes climb of the top of the hitherto un-scaled mountain.

The accident happened on July 16. Mr. and Mrs. Stone expected to make the climb, rest at the top and then get back to the food cache that night.

Dr. Stone was climbing above, cheerfully and unhesitatingly, when without a word of warning, a farewell of any kind, not even a sign, he plunged over her head to the abyss below. He fell fully 5,000 feet in the opinion of his wife. She saw the body strike a rock, bound from it from cliff to cliff and on down the side of the mountain; and when found was 3,000 feet below the point where Dr. Stone had fallen.

Was Alone Eight Days.

How Mrs. Stone became marooned on a ledge of rock she does not know. She could proceed neither way. In that position she spent eight days. She had no food, but during the middle of each day when the sun was high a tiny stream of melted snow came trickling down, close enough that she could refresh herself. She never gave up the fight. Every day she cried for help and it was because of this spirit that she eventually was discovered.

Dr. Stone seemed to have had a presentiment that the venture might end in disaster. When he and Mrs. Stone departed from camp on Mount Assiniborne, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies on July 15, he left word that if they did not return in three days a searching party should be sent out. The mountain is almost inaccessible. Last year a Wakefield party made an unsuccessful attempt to scale it. They had reached an altitude of 9,763 feet, when they came to a stone wall which was impossible to ascend. They had no time to make another attempt, but suggested that an ascent might be made from the southeast end of Mount Glory. With this information Dr. and Mrs. Stone made the effort which ended tragically.

Plot to Free Slayer Of Chicago Officer Is Revealed by Chief

Chicago, July 30.—A plot to free Thomas (Tommy) O'Connor, alleged slayer of Detective Sergeant Patrick O'Neill, who was captured in St. Paul before he could be returned to Chicago for trial, was revealed last night by Charles C. Fitzmorris, chief of police.

According to Chief Fitzmorris, three of O'Connor's friends have gone to St. Paul in an effort to free the alleged slayer through habeas corpus proceedings or by force.

Greeks to Continue Drive in Asia Minor

Constantinople, July 30.—Following a military conference at Kutaya, the Greeks have decided to continue their offensive in Asia Minor. Those favoring the continuing of operations pointed out that if the Greek operations were stopped now without a decisive engagement or the capitulation of Kemal, the Greek position would be worse off than it was before the advance started. The proponents of the plan finally won over those who were urging caution lest last year's Eshishehr's rout be repeated.

The Kemalists are calling new classes to the colors, insisting that the Turks must fight to the last man to save the country. The Turks have closed Samsoun and other Black Sea ports to trade because of the concentration of Greek troops for service in Asia Minor.

Army Aviators "Bomb" New York

Metropolis Theoretically Wiped Off Map—To "Attack" Philadelphia Monday.

New York, July 30.—New York and Washington today, in theory, were bombed off the map, following in the wake of Norfolk, Newport News and Richmond, Philadelphia is due for a theoretical bombing Monday.

The fate of the various cities was made known by Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service, when he stepped from his plane after leading three squadrons of 17 bombers on an aerial "attack" against New York.

A simultaneous attack on Washington by 70 machines had been ordered.

All these air crafts are part of a war problem which army aviators are working out after having participated in the recent bombing of former German warships off the Virginia Capes.

The haze that hung over the land made observation of the planes flying at 8,000 feet virtually impossible and officers declared the planes could have bombed away without fear of successful counter attack from the ground anti-aircraft guns.

After the forts had been put out of action, the squadrons swooped down to 4,000 feet and flew over Wall street. The sub-treasury was their chief "target."

Although curious New Yorkers never knew it, thousands of them were slain—always theoretically—and scarcely a building was left standing in the financial district.

The aviators declared they had opened the way for a hostile force to steam into the harbor and seize the city.

Life Convict Killed in Riot at Oklahoma Prison

McAlester, Okla., July 30.—One convict was killed, the shirt factory was practically wrecked, and several guards were slightly injured in a riot which broke out in the shirt factory at the state prison this afternoon. Mack White, life termer from Pittsburgh county, was killed when he attempted to rush the guards.

Workmen Raze Big Army Tower

Scout Observation Platform At Omaha Declared Dangerous to Children.

The giant observation tower above Fort Omaha is being razed. Workmen are tearing down the structure that children may not suffer further mishaps on it.

During the war, the tower was used by practicing military observers at Fort Omaha. In the past two years, children in that neighborhood have played about it and climbed to its full height.

The tower claimed its first victim June 22, when Ralph "Puddy" Groves, 12, 3038 Stone avenue, fell 35 feet, fracturing both arms. He has recovered. Several other children have fallen from the tower.

ANNOUNCING NEW NATIONAL USED CAR SALES POLICY AND PRICES

Suspicion!

That word unfortunately, describes the attitude of ninety per cent of those good people who today would buy a good used car if they had complete confidence in the man who offered it for sale, and the price at which he offered it.

Manufacturers in the past have feared to associate their good names with the sales of used cars of other makes for fear of losing prestige.

It has always been the policy of the Jordan organization, in dealing with used car purchasers, to keep in mind that fine regard for the good name of Jordan which has always been associated with the sale of new Jordan cars.

The Jordan company now publicly reiterates this policy! It assures prospective used-car purchasers that they can buy a good used car from a Jordan dealer with that same degree of confidence which all Jordan owners feel.

Unusual Price Reductions

Last spring Jordan was first to announce an astounding reduction in the price of new Jordan cars.

Now the Jordan company, uniting with all Jordan distributors throughout the United States, makes public the most unusual price reductions ever offered on used cars.

This inspiring statement of Jordan policy and these startling price reductions are in keeping with the spirit of the Jordan organization.

That spirit is characterized by a profound recognition of the selling power of truth.

It is likewise in recognition of that splendid confidence which has been accorded to the Jordan organization by the American people since the day the company was organized.

National Sale of Good Used Cars

On Monday morning, August 1st, in every Jordan distributor's sales room in the United States, there will be displayed the finest selection of used cars ever offered to the public by any organization in the industry.

And these cars will be offered at prices which will result in their immediate sale.

For ten days consecutively the Jordan distributor in this city will offer for sale the best used cars available, strictly in accordance with the same fine policy which has always governed the purchase of a new Jordan car.

Jordans Among Cars Displayed

The Jordan car has always commanded higher prices in the used car market than any car in its class. Used car buyers tell us, that, barring two makes of automobiles of the cheaper class, the Jordan has the highest proportionate resale valuation of any automobile built in the world.

In this special offering of good used cars, there will be a few Jordans for early buyers.

For ten days, those individuals who have been waiting for just such an opportunity may buy a used car from any Jordan distributor with complete confidence in the character of the car—in the condition of the car—and in the price at which it will be sold.

Two Specials Every Day

Every day, for ten days only, two specials will be picked for early buyers at prices so low as to seem ridiculous.

It is only necessary to read the car descriptions listed below to be convinced that this sale of used-cars is a truly remarkable one.

The doors will be opened at eight o'clock. Every Jordan salesman throughout the United States will devote his entire time for the ten day period to the reception of used-car buyers.
