

Governor Will Speak at Laying Of Cornerstone

Salvation Army Members From All Parts of Iowa-Nebraska Division to Attend Rescue Home Exercises.

Gov. S. R. McKelvie will participate in one of the biggest events in Salvation Army history—the laying of the cornerstone for the new Salvation Army Rescue Home at Sixteenth and Grace streets, this afternoon.

Salvationists from all parts of the Iowa-Nebraska division, including many from the divisional headquarters at Des Moines, will gather with scores of representative men and women of Omaha, members of the Chamber of Commerce, women's auxiliary of the G. A. R., Rotary club, American Legion, Elks, and other organizations around the foundations of the new Rescue home.

Judge Sutton Will Preside. The program will begin at 2. Details were completed yesterday by Captain G. Cheney, the Omaha corps officer, and Adjutant Lillian Ness. Illness will prevent the attendance of Brigadier William Andrews, divisional commander at Des Moines, who conceived the idea of establishing the new rescue home in Omaha and who was enabled to finance the movement through the aid of the citizens and the advisory board.

Judge A. L. Sutton, chairman of the Nebraska state advisory board of the Salvation Army, will preside. Ceremonies will be opened with a prayer by Dr. O. D. Baltzly, pastor of Kountze Memorial Lutheran church. What the new home will mean in the way of greater service to the community and the state will be explained by Adjutant Lillian Ness, matron of the rescue home, whose subjects are "Our In-cress Facilities—What They Mean in the Way of Increased Service." The home's activities from a national viewpoint will be discussed by Brigadier Wiseman, territorial property secretary, Chicago, who will talk on "The Army's Rescue Home Work—A Great National Asset."

McKelvie to Speak. Just before sealing and placing the stone, Governor McKelvie will deliver the address of the afternoon on the subject, "The Rescue Home's Service to the State of Nebraska."

In the cavity of the cornerstone Governor McKelvie will place a little metal box containing copies of Omaha newspapers and the "War Cry," the Salvation Army organ, Omaha, photographs of Brigadier and Mrs. Andrews and other trinkets. A prayer by Rabbi Frederick Cohn will close the program.

Ensign W. A. Brewer, Iowa-Nebraska general secretary, will represent the divisional command and will head a big delegation of Salvation Army officers from the Des Moines headquarters.

Man, Girl, Ruby Ring. Muny court is puzzled over the case of a girl, a man, and a ruby ring.

Constable McGinnis replevined the ring for Bessie Meyers from Norris Mann at the Y. M. C. A. No one seems to know who Bessie is and the constable forgot to ask Mann. Neither is it known what are the conditions surrounding the ownership of the ring.

City Solicitor Moriarty, who signed the application for the replevin, said the girl told him the welfare board loaned her to him. Walter Wilson of the welfare board has no record of the case and neither name in the case is in the city directories.

Meanwhile, the court has the ring and the hearing of the case is set for next Thursday.

Riot Will Cost Taxpayers Here About $500,000

Amount $45,000 Less Than Estimate; Restoring of Records Lost in Fire Takes $250,000.

The total bill which taxpayers will pay for repairing the court house damage will be nearly $500,000, about $45,000 less than the original estimate, according to a statement by John Latenser, architect. A total of $450,174.79 already has been spent, which does not include carpets and shades, nor the architect's fees, the latter being 7 per cent of the amount expended. It is nearly two years since workmen started to repair the damage which was wrought by the mob on the night of September 28, 1919. Treasurer Endres expects to return to his permanent offices on the second floor, and the court room on the fifth floor which he has been occupying will be restored as rapidly as possible.

In addition to the amount spent on building repairs, about $250,000 was expended for restoring records lost in the fire. Bond of Defunct Refining Co.
