Thousands of Spectators, Stunned at Dramatic Collapse Of French Tennis Wizard, Stand Speechless as European Champion Is Assisted Off Courts Crying and Coughing

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen defaulted to Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, United States champion, in their match today in the Women's National Tennis championship after Mrs. Mallory had won the first set, 6-2.

At the close of the first game of the second set Mlle. Lenglen was seized with a violent fit of coughing and walking over to a chair alongside the referee's stand announced her default to Mrs. Mallory. She was assisted off the courts crying and coughing while the 8,000 spectators, stunned at the dramatic collapse of the famous French champion,

The French racquet wizard who arrived in this country last Saturday heralded as the greatest exponent of the court game in the feminine domain, after being decisively defeated in her opening match against Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, collapsed in a chair alongside the referee's Mile. Lenglen's sudden capitulation to a renewal of her attack of bronchitis and the powerful and aggressive play of Mrs. Mallory left a gallery of some 8,000 spectators stunned into absolute silence by the tragedy which took place on the green-turfed enclosure at their fect. The girl from Paris was undoubteclysthe magnet which drew the ma-jority of the spectators to the Forest Hills grounds. For several years followers of tennis the world over have been enthralled by tales of the marvelous play of the French woman.

Visitors to the English courts at Wimbledon, St. Cloud, near Paris, the Rivera and other continental tennis centers have returned to America with tales of the wonderful speed, stroking and almost mechanical accuracy in placing possessed by Mile. Lenglen. In her own country she was and is as great a popular idol as Georges Carpentier. Today she fell from the pedestal of her particular game in a far more dramatic and decisive manner, perhaps, than did Carpentier on July 2. Notwithstanding the known lack of practice due to her arrival in this country as late as Saturday, Suzanne was generally expected to give Mrs. Mallory a terrific battle with the odds in favor of victory due to her tours and the same of odds in favor of victory due to her tournament record at Wimbledon

Doubtful If French Champion Will Return to Fight Gibbons

By FRANKE G. MENKE.

It's doubtful if Georges Carpentier ever will come back to these parts | teld the sheriff that Malone investo do battle with Tomasco Gibbons, slugging party of the first part from St. Paul. There's a reason-one beyond the story of a fractured bone in the right hand, "which will not heal."

At the time of his marriage the Frenchman is reported to have promised his bride that the tussle with Jack Dempsey, "win, lose or draw," would be the last of his career. This pleased Mrs. Carpentier immensely, because, even though she thinks Georges is the greatest mitt whirler in the world, she is opposed to fighting. She cannot get it out of her mind that the game is somewhat brutal and fraught with the peril of permanent harm to each and eery combatant-including her husband.
