

Executive Board Of Sinn Fein Busy At Work on Reply

Members of Irish Parliament Divide Time Between Secret Sessions of Dail Eireann And Committee Meet.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Members of the Irish Republican Parliament, gathered here to frame the reply of that body to the British government's offer of dominion status for Ireland, divided their activities today between the secret session of the Parliament and a meeting of the executive committee of the Sinn Fein.

The meetings of the two bodies were held in the Mansion House and it was believed both would concern themselves with the attitude taken by the Irish republicans toward the terms laid down by Prime Minister Lloyd George as the basis of a settlement of the Irish controversy.

Considerable speculation was caused here last night by the delivery of a message to Mr. De Valera by Monsignor Edward Mulhera, bishop of Dromore. It was asserted the message had not come from Cardinal Logue, head of the Catholic church in Ireland, but there was no further information relative to the "highest authority."

Clergy Opposes Break. Shortly after the Dail Eireann, conferred, it was declared in some quarters that the Irish clergy was urging such action by the Parliament that would preclude resumption of warfare between the republican forces and the British soldiery or constabulary.

An interesting fact in connection with today's meeting of the Sinn Fein executive is that while all the members of the Dail Eireann have permission to attend the sessions of the Dail in the Mansion House there are many members of the Sinn Fein body who are "on the run," their cases not being covered by the immunity given the Dail members and some of them being men whom the crown forces have been seeking for weeks, and even months.

Heroes Are Acclaimed. The influence of the civil administrators at Dublin Castle and of others in the Irish office who are making all efforts to secure peace in Ireland, was expected, however, to insure against any interference with these men by the military authorities.

Public interest in the popular heroes of the Irish republican army is continuing unabated and they are being acclaimed everywhere they go. Much attention as is given them, however, seems to be palling upon the principal chiefs, and much of the time of such men as Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the Irish republican army; John J. Walsh, popularly known as the "jail breaker"; Austen Stack, minister for home affairs in the Dail cabinet, and others of the leaders is taken up with efforts to escape the hero worshipers.

A. F. L. Drafting Policy to Serve As Labor's Guide

Thorough and Scientific Investigation of Entire Field Of Modern Industry Will Be Made.

Atlantic City, Aug. 23.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today started work on the drafting of a policy to serve as a guide for the labor movement of America. A thorough and scientific investigation of the entire field of modern industry will be ordered, it is stated, and the results of this inquiry will form the basis of the new policy. The inquiry was ordered at the recent Denver convention.

"No investigators or students have undertaken a more fundamental inquiry or inquiry of greater meaning," said Samuel Gompers, president of the federation.

The council had before it today a report of a committee which conducted an investigation to determine the possibility of "co-ordinating the present educational institutions and activities conducted under the auspices of organized labor." This committee also investigated "the strength of demand for a central labor university which may be developed among the affiliated unions."

Wage reductions, labor leaders say, are being accepted by the unions under protest and the question of encouraging the organized workers to strike will not be considered.

Separate Treaty With Germany Is Ready for Signing

Final Instructions for Signature Received by U. S. Commissioner in Berlin From Secretary Hughes.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—Final instructions relative to the treaty of peace between the United States and Germany has been received from Secretary of State Hughes by Ellis Loring Dressel, United States commissioner here and the treaty now awaits signature by the German government.

It is expected the document will be signed in the next few days at a special meeting of the cabinet which will be attended by President Ebert. The document will bear the president's signature and will be countersigned either by Dr. Joseph Wirth, the chancellor, or Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the foreign minister.

The Tagelblatt declares it has learned the treaty would provide ample reservations respecting the safeguarding of German private property in the United States, the Washington government merely claiming the right of "retention" until claims against Germany have been satisfied. Confidence is expressed by the newspaper that these claims will be met by the German government without the necessity of converting the private property of German subjects into cash.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Cigars and cigarettes seized by the government for tax delinquency, instead of being destroyed when their value is not equal to the tax, would be turned over to hospitals in which disabled war veterans were quartered, under a bill reported today by the house ways and means committee.

Ex-Yank Rescued From Lake Receives Check Legion Was Holding

Chicago, Aug. 23.—John Sheldon of Springfield, Ill., an overseas veteran with a service badge, wound stripe and hospital discharge had been tramping the streets of Chicago for more than a month in quest of work. But his search was in vain. Worn and tired, Sheldon strolled down to the municipal pier and jumped into the lake, intending to end it all, but he was rescued by a steamboat fireman.

Sheldon was taken to the American Legion headquarters after his rescue. When he told his name the clerk at headquarters gave a gasp. "John Sheldon," repeated the clerk. "Why, we've got a check for him from the government. It's been here four months. It's for $760."

John boarded a train for Springfield yesterday. "It will mean a lot for the wife and kids," was all he could say.

U. S. Tells Panama Hostilities Will Not Be Permitted

American Note Is In Response To One Saying Force Would Be Used to Resist Costa Rica.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The American State department in a note forwarded to Panama yesterday stated emphatically that the United States would not permit any hostilities growing out of the occupation of the Coto region by Costa Rica.

The American note, it developed today, was in response to a communication from the Panama government indicating that if Costa Rica should attempt to recapture the disputed territory force would be used in resisting unless the United States made it clear that the American government would prevent it.

Panama, Aug. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Panama's reply to the latest note from Secretary of State Hughes, in which Panama was told that disputed territory along the Costa Rican frontier of this country would be placed under the jurisdiction of Costa Rica, has been considered by the Panamanian cabinet and possibly will be delivered on Wednesday.

Although it is generally reported that armed forces have already been ordered to advance on Coto, in the disputed area, with a view to opposing possible Costa Rican occupation of that district, the most recent official declarations here indicate that troops have been dispatched only to Divid, a town some distance from the boundary. The Panamanian government, it is understood, will await further advice from Washington before taking any decided steps.

General preparations to meet emergency calls for men have been made. The chief of the fire department has been instructed to hold himself ready to relieve all police forces, should their removal to the frontier become necessary.

Dublin Insurance Rates Five Times Normal Charge

London, Aug. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Insurance underwriters of Dublin yesterday asked and were paid £3 per £100 to insure the plight of a Dublin newspaper in sympathy with the Sinn Fein against riot or other civil commotion for three months.

This is five times as much as would be paid ordinarily and is taken here to show how divided is the best local opinion on the question of the renewal of the strife in Ireland.

BRANDEIS STORES

THEY FORESAW THE FUTURE

Writing in the Omaha Examiner, Alfred Sorenson, the well known Omaha historian, says: Omaha's growth and prosperity can be well gauged by the increase of room that is from time to time demanded by the leading mercantile houses and other establishments to keep pace with the steady development of trade.

Fifteen years ago J. L. Brandeis & Sons found that their building, known as the Boston Store, was too small to accommodate their growing business, and having the greatest confidence in Omaha's future they purchased the opposite corner, on which stood the Young Men's Christian Association building, and the property adjoining on the west. The building on this ground, covering half a block, with a frontage on three streets, were torn down, and on this site was erected a substantial and handsome eight-story structure. Some wise men of the west, bearing the conservative brand, claimed that this enterprise was far ahead of the town and of the times, and was a risky venture. That was in 1906, and today the building was completed. At first only three floors were occupied by J. L. Brandeis & Sons, the upper floors being given over to professional and business offices.

Today, fifteen years later, with two stories added, the ten-story building is necessary to provide room for the business of this establishment, which has become one of the most attractive show places in Omaha. The office tenants have moved out and the former office has been converted into rooms each half a block wide and a block long, each floor being devoted to a department. To the selling space in this mammoth store there have been added 243,926 square feet more room than was provided in the building of 1906.

"The enlarged building has been arranged so that it will house all the important departments and afford for the display of merchandise an excellent opportunity, which, of course, will be taken advantage of by experts. The men's clothing department, which has for many years occupied the Boston Store building, has been moved to other parties, is being moved to the fourth floor of the enlarged structure, and will size up with any of the largest men's clothing departments in the United States. Trunks and bags will also be found on this floor. Men's furnishings will occupy a large and convenient space on the ground floor. The women's shoe department is on the third floor, together with the hairdressing parlors. Wall to wall on the fifth floor, west end, is a department. The space is occupied by china, glassware, crockery, house furnishings and hardware. Carpets, rugs, draperies, and pictures are on the sixth floor. During the holidays the eighth floor will be used for a mammoth display of toys to the great delight of the juveniles. Later, the seventh and eighth floors will be devoted to the new furniture department, which is to be the most complete and best equipped furniture store in the middle west. The ninth floor will be used for stock rooms and receiving rooms.

"The tenth floor will have the new dining room, men's grill room and ladies' waiting room. These will be opened in September. This floor will be a revelation to the public. Those who have seen the plans and others who have watched the work nearing completion agree that the restaurant and rest rooms on the tenth floor of the Brandeis Stores will be the most beautiful and the most complete of any similar rooms in any section of the country. Many other improvements are going on in this great mercantile establishment. One of these is the large aisle to be constructed through the store directly to the Brandeis Theater elevators. This will prove a great convenience to those desiring to enter the store from Seventeenth street.

"Thus it will be seen that as far back as 1906 the Brandeis Stores managers took time by the forelock and foresaw the future and provided for the coming events that cast their shadows before. They paid no heed to the overcautious and too conservative wise men of the west."
