Tigers Refuse to Send Pitcher Parks To Omaha Buffaloes

Detroit, Aug. 30 .- The Detroit American management has decided not to release Pitcher Vernon Parks to the Omaha club of the Western league, it was announced today. Parks injured his arm in a semi-pro game at Chicago early this year and has been used only as a relief pitcher by the Tigers. For the same reason, it was considered he would be of little assistance to a minor league club, and Manager Cobb decided he should remain on the Tiger bench for the balance of the season.

Ethelda Blebitrey Captures Another Title
