

Witness In Arbuckle Case Grilled

District Attorney Quizzes Movie Bathing Girl Whose Stories to Police and Grand Jury Differed.

Rappe Inquest Resumed

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—Miss Vey Provost, motion picture bathing girl, was questioned by District Attorney Brady today regarding testimony she gave before the grand jury in supposed conflict with her other statements to the authorities concerning her interest in the hotel party where Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, is alleged to have received the injuries from which she died. Simultaneously, Roscoe Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, who is charged with murdering Miss Rappe, went before a coroner's jury in the second day of the inquest into the actress' death.

District Attorney Brady said he was going to endeavor to determine if Miss Provost, who is also known as Vey Provost, was induced to commit perjury in her grand jury testimony last night. This testimony differed widely with statements made to himself and Captain of Detectives Matheson, Brady said.

Mrs. Delmont Testifies.

Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont, who brought the murder charge against Arbuckle, was the first witness at the inquest today.

Mrs. Delmont began her testimony by saying she met Miss Rappe and Al Semmacher, Miss Rappe's manager, in Los Angeles by appointment and they drove to San Francisco, arriving Sunday night September 11.

While she and Miss Rappe were eating breakfast the next day, a telephone call was received by Miss Rappe that a Mr. Arbuckle wanted to see them all at the St. Francis hotel.

Miss Rappe went to Arbuckle's room alone and then telephoned for Mrs. Delmont and Semmacher to join her in Arbuckle's suite. There Mrs. Delmont testified she met Arbuckle, Lowell Sherman, Ira C. Fortoulis and Frederic Fischbach. There were three bottles of the table in the room. Miss Rappe had three drinks of gin and orange juice and Mrs. Delmont had about 10 drinks of whisky. Two more girls came in who she learned later were Alice Blake and Vey Provost.

Hears Screams.

The Rappe girls rose and went into the bathroom off Arbuckle's room. When she came out of the bathroom Arbuckle was in his room. He closed the door.

Here she testified that she had heard that Miss Rappe was screaming into the room. The court ruled this testimony out.

She heard screams coming from the room about an hour later and demanded that Arbuckle open the door. He did so and it was noted that he was wearing a nightgown, hat and the pajamas he was wearing were wet with perspiration. The Rappe girl was on the bed tearing at her clothing and screaming.

"I am hurt. I am dying. He did it."

She removed the girl's clothing and, assisted by Fischbach, placed her in a tub of cold water. This had no effect and so Miss Rappe was taken to another room and put to bed.

Affected by Testimony.

Arbuckle kept his eyes fixed on the witness throughout her testimony and he appeared to be somewhat affected by it.

While Mrs. Delmont was testifying District Attorney Brady announced that Alice Blake, who was reported last night to have dropped from a fifth-story window, was in his office to submit to an examination. Miss Blake explained, according to Brady, that she had gone from her home in Berkeley to a friend in Oakland in order to avoid publicity and notoriety.

Mrs. Delmont finished her testimony at noon. Arbuckle took more (Turn to Page Two, Column One.)

Fifty Warships Assist in Search for Missing Boys

A boat from the destroyer Bailey found the two little fellows shortly after midnight asleep in a row boat. The little boat was reported half full of water.

Cop, Character Which Gave Fatty His Start, Is Nemesis

From His Cell Film Star Views With Grim Reality Operations of Those He Burlesqued in "Breaking In" Days.

Washington, Sept. 13.—From his cell in San Francisco Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle views with grim reality the operations of those whom he burlesqued so successfully in the breaking-in period of his meteoric screen career.

The comedy policeman—his first movie part—long ago died a "faded out."

Now comes a "close up" of the tragic officer of the law whose investigation of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, landed him in jail on a charge of first degree murder.

Sidelights on the screen debut of the round comedian were revealed today by Walter Newman, "Fatty's" first manager and later his "movie" director. Mr. Newman is appearing at a local vaudeville theater in a playlet of his authorship.

Started at $30 Per.

Arbuckle, according to his first manager, made his boy on the stage at the modest salary of $30 a week. A thousandth part of the income he now is reputed to enjoy.

Later as a "Mack Sennett policeman" he worked "extra parts for a remuneration both uncertain and less than his original salary."

"I gave Roscoe his first part in a stock company I was managing in Long Beach, Cal., said Mr. Newman. "From the very first 'side' handed him, he capitalized his huge bulk in every part he played with the intelligence and discrimination which has brought him to stardom in the screen world."

Nearly Broke Up Show.

"I will never forget his first appearance although for it nearly broke up the show, both literally and figuratively."

"We were playing a melodrama in which I, as the hero, was supposed to be at the point of death. The other characters had approached the bedside on tiptoe with hushed voices, but when Arbuckle's cue came he improvised his entrance by tripping over me."

While playing in tabloid musical comedies known to the profession as "tabs" Arbuckle met a girl in the chorus named Minta Durfee, whom he married, but from whom he later became separated, Mr. Newman said.

Following a tour of the Orient with a musical comedy company, Arbuckle essayed the "movies" and was given a chance to play "extra" comedy roles with the Mack Sennett company for whom Mr. Newman was directing.

"The marked intelligence of Arbuckle made him stand out from the other burlesque 'policemen' and it was this more than his physical qualities which brought him to stardom," said Arbuckle's first manager asserted.

Liquidation Authorized.

The receivers already have been authorized to collect and reduce to money the liquid assets of the company and to sell out everything not necessary to the immediate operation of the business. Among the items offered for sale are membership shares to the Chicago Board of Trade and Omaha and Lincoln grain exchanges.

The four outside banks whose decision not to invest more money prevented the reopening of the Schuyler mill are the Atlantic National bank of New York, to which the company is indebted already to the extent of $69,598; the Continental and Commercial of Chicago, with $143,380 at stake; the Corn Exchange National of Chicago, $60,560; and the Chicago, $50,000.

Omaha Bank Willing.

The Omaha National bank, already involved to the extent of $106,676, was willing to advance more money to help out in this emergency, according to Kennedy, but the eastern banks declined to do so.

They preferred to get out as much as they could without any more risk," said Kennedy.

"Whether they be able to collect 100 cents on the dollar depends on what price the mill and other property will bring."

Asked for $100,000.

The liquid assets of the company are $325,848, and its other property $721,924, according to the receivers' report on file in the federal court.

In addition to 4,649 shares of outstanding common stock, valued at $464,900 and 4,750 shares of preferred 7 per cent cumulative stock, valued at $475,000, there were current liabilities of $380,404. Of the latter, $435,217 is the total owed to the creditors.

While $200,000 was the sum estimated necessary to reopen the mill, the order the receivers sought from Judge Woodruff was permission to obtain only $100,000.

"We expected to realize $100,000 by liquidating some of the assets," Kennedy explained.

Alleged Slayer Wanted in Canada Is Under Arrest

Salt Lake City, Sept. 13.—Corporal Joseph Cadoza of the Canadian mounted police reached here today, having in custody Arthur Saika, wanted in Ottawa, Canada, on a charge of being implicated with four others in the murder of a Chicago detective in the Canadian capital.

On his arrival, Cadoza said he arrested Saika in Pueblo, Colo., Saturday, that he did not jail him there but took him to Denver and there brought him to Salt Lake. Cadoza said he would leave him with his prisoner for Canada tomorrow.

Mammy Wins Son's Pardon

Old Southern Negro Pleads Successfully for Release of Omaha Man From Prison—37 Cases Heard By State Board.

Lincoln, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—An old southern mammy of the anti-bellum days successfully pleaded the case of her boy, Willie, before the Nebraska state board of pardons and paroles this afternoon. Governor McKelvie, chairman of the board, ordered the immediate release of William Thomas, sentenced in Omaha to six years in the penitentiary for stabbing his sweetheart, Jennie Secret.

William is 38, but to his old mammy, he is still the happy little pickaninny, who played the fiddle at a long in the old plantation in Kentucky.

Mrs. Mary Thomas, the mother, lives in Kansas City and she told the state board of pardons and paroles that she wanted to take her boy back with her.

"I'll tell you, governor," she said in soft accents, "that boy never did anything wrong because he always did what I told him to do. He would mind a 6-year-old baby."

Then in characteristic style she kept the officials and spectators at attention until the close of her story. "I am glad you came here," Governor McKelvie told Mrs. Thomas. "I wish there were more mothers like you and there would be fewer boys in the penitentiary."

Lewis G. Conley, 23, asked for a parole to enter the "Lord's service." He has served 10 months on a one to seven year sentence for stealing an automobile in Omaha. He said that he had intended to drive the car back and pay the rental when he was arrested.

"I'm in the penitentiary because Dennis O'Brien had a wife and baby," said Dewey Woodman, not yet 21, sentenced from Omaha for highway robbery for a term of three to six years.

Woodman said that he was called out a poolhall and went with a rian who "pulled" a highway robbery. Prison workers told the board that Woodman had been a model prisoner.

The board considered 37 cases in all at its hearing today.

Quebec Votes Wet

Quebec, Que., Sept. 13.—The city of Quebec voted itself wet Monday by an overwhelming majority, estimated at 12,000 in a total poll of 25,000. The effect of the voting will be to repeal the existing local option law and place the city under the province liquor statute, where the state votes intoxicants in its own dispensaries.

Holder of Mill Stock To Lose All

Stockholders lose all in the failure of the Wells-Abbott-Nieman company, largest milling concern in the state.

Efforts to reopen the mill at Schuyler, through the issue of $100,000 in receivers' certificates had to be dropped, after application for the issue was made to Federal Judge Woodruff, because four outside creditor banks declined to advance additional funds.

This admission was made yesterday by Judge Howard Kennedy, of the Federal Trust company, which, with W. J. Coad, is receiver for the defunct company.

Sale Order Expected.

An order from the judge to sell all the property is expected after the inventories are filed and notices sent to the creditors, Kennedy declared.

"There is but one chance to save the mill and that is to get some one to buy in and effect a reorganization," said Kennedy.

"The plant and holdings are of immense value, so that even if this is not done before the receiver's sale some one will undoubtedly step in and undertake to operate the mill, instead of letting it go by the boards."

The receivers already have been authorized to collect and reduce to money the liquid assets of the company and to sell out everything not necessary to the immediate operation of the business. Among the items offered for sale are membership shares to the Chicago Board of Trade and Omaha and Lincoln grain exchanges.

Girl Smuggles Her Immigrant Sister Into U. S.; Jailed

New York, Sept. 13.—Stafania Watrobka of Westport, Conn., came to America eight years ago from Poland, she saved her money hoping to bring her family here. But war, pestilence and famine left only one, her sister, Karolina. Stefania sent Karolina her passage money and waited.

At Ellis Island she learned that Karolina had arrived too late to enter port as one of Poland's quota under the new immigration law. Karolina wept and declared she would kill herself rather than go back to Poland.

Stefania made a resolve. She gave Karolina her American clothing and her pass to New York and sent her to friends and she took the immigrant's place. Stefania later was taken into custody, charged with aiding an alien to enter the United States unlawfully. But she will not tell where Karolina is staying.

Governor Asks Federal Aid for State Farmers

Results of Questionnaire Sent To Reserve Board Head, Who Is Urged to Finance Live Stock Feeders.

Lincoln, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Nebraska farmers are not in a position to stand continued pressure in the financial deflation which has been taking place, Governor McKelvie informs Governor Harding of the federal reserve board in a letter sent out today.

Governor McKelvie goes exhaustively into the conditions as revealed by a questionnaire which he recently sent to over 700 Nebraska bankers asking their views as to what was needed to assist the farmers of Nebraska in recouping their losses of the last year.

The farmers of this section, Governor McKelvie informs Mr. Harding, have been compelled to bear more than their share of the burden. It is time now that the federal reserve banks extend sufficient credit, he says, so that the farmers may hold what wheat remains on the farm and to feed the cheap corn to live stock, giving promise of insuring a reasonable return for their work.

Reporter Claims Burch Confessed

Alleged Slayer Characterizes Statement as Deliberate Untruth.

Los Angeles, Sept. 13.—Chandler Sprague, a Los Angeles Examiner reporter, the newspaper announced today, is under subpoena to appear before the county grand jury to testify regarding the case of Arthur C. Burch and Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, indicted for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Sprague said he expected to be questioned regarding a conversation he said he had with Burch in the jail August 14.

Sprague declared Burch made statements to him regarding the case which he said were to be kept in confidence until Burch gave him permission to make them public, or until Sprague was required to appear before the jury as releasing him from his pledge of secrecy.

Burch when questioned at the jail today about Sprague's statement about the alleged conversation, said, "It's a lie."

Mrs. Obenchain said: "There's not a word of truth in it."

Chicago Contractors to Hire Non-Union Thursday

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Members of the Building Construction Employers' association were planning today to replace all union men who have not returned to work by Thursday morning with non union workmen.

This followed action of Judge E. M. Landis, arbitrator, yesterday in cancelling a date for a rehearing of matters in connection with the wage award he announced last week. The date, he announced would not be fixed until the workers were back on the job.

Seven Rescued From Wrecked Seaplane

Groton, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Seven persons, three of them women and two children were rescued from a wrecked seaplane Monday night after W. H. Manners, pilot of the plane and a mechanic named Baldwin had swam more than a mile in the Hudson river and were picked up by a launch which answered the shouts and cries for help.

The plane developed engine trouble and in making a forced landing from a height of 1,000 feet, the pilot misjudged the distance. The plane crashed to the water breaking up by a series of shocks and throwing the occupants about inside the cabin.

When the cabin began to leak, the women and children were lifted to the superstructure and Manners and Baldwin, after calling in vain for help, set out to swim the two miles to the nearest shore. They were picked up after they had covered half the distance. The plane was towed ashore where the women were found to be hysterical and were given medical attention.

Profits Tax Repeal Set Jan. 1, 1922

Senate Finance Committee Approves House Bill Date for Abolishing Taxes on Corporations.

Corporation Taxes Cut

Washington, Sept. 13.—Corporations would be required to pay excess profits taxes for another year under a decision today of the senate finance committee which finally approved provision in the house bill repealing these taxes as of next January 1, instead of last January 1, as recommended by Secretary Mellon.

The committee also inserted a provision in the house measure repealing the capital stock tax effective next year and adopted an amendment increasing the corporation income tax from 10 to 15 per cent instead of 12 1/2 per cent effective next January 1.

Report Called For.

These represented the major decisions reached today at two sessions, although it was said officially that the committee practically had decided to amend the house bill to continue the tax on express packages and oil transported by pipeline. Whether any portion of the taxes on the transportation of freight and passengers will be retained after next January 1, will depend, Chairman Penrose said, on a report to be made tomorrow by the treasury as to the savings in expenditures expected to be made this fiscal year by the various government departments.

This report was called for today by the committee, which was represented as taking the position that it could not complete the levy sections of the bill until it had more detailed information as to how the departments expected to accomplish the $350,000,000 cut agreed on at the White House tax conference last month.

Rapid Progress Made.

With this information in hand, Chairman Penrose said the committee probably could get through with all of the levy sections of the bill tomorrow. Rapid progress was made today, the committee completing consideration of a number of administrative as well as levy sections.

Provisions in the house bill stricken out today included those exempting from the income tax the salaries of the president and the judges of federal courts; the first $500 of the total amount of income in building and loan associations and contributions made by corporations for charitable purposes. The committee also disagreed to the house provision allowing traveling salesmen to deduct from their income all expenses incurred while on the road.

Returns on $5,000.

A new section added to the house bill would require individuals having a gross income of $5,000 annually to make a return, irrespective of whether the total amount of income was taxable. Chairman Penrose said that the treasury expected to collect income tax from many persons not now making returns, through this provision.

Another provision added would permit banks to deduct for federal (Turn to Page Two, Column Six.)

Baltimore Puts Ban On Plans for Auction Sale of Unemployed

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—Auctions of the unemployed, as was proposed to be started here today, will not be permitted by either state or city officials.

This was announced just as a crowd of jobless seafaring men were preparing to march from the harbor front to hold a "sale" on the city hall plaza.

Governor Ritchie telephoned Police Commissioner Gaither forbidding the auction. He declared that the idea could not be tolerated, adding that "no man's services should be offered in this state in a way which would violate the self-respect of the American working man."

Hitch Occurs in Negotiations on Peace in Erin

Irish Delegates Return From Scotland Conference With Lloyd George to Explain Points to Dail.

By The Associated Press.

London, Sept. 13.—An unexpected hitch has arisen in the Irish negotiations. Premier Lloyd George, who is at Garloch, Scotland, today received Harry Boland, secretary to Eamon de Valera, and Joseph McGrath, another Sinn Fein representative, according to an official communication issued tonight and Messrs. Boland and McGrath are returning to Dublin with his explanation of certain points in the government's proposals for consideration by the Dail Eireann.

It is said Mr. de Valera's reply dealing with the question of accepting or not accepting the invitation to a conference will not be delivered until Friday or Saturday.

It is understood that the letter which Couriers McGrath and Boland bore to the premier asked for fresh explanation of the British government's latest communication and that these points are of vital importance, necessitating return of the couriers to Dublin for consultation with Mr. de Valera and his colleagues.

The new developments will delay the proposed conference between the government and the Irish plenipotentiaries beyond September 20, the date suggested by Mr. Lloyd George. Apparently nothing has been definitely decided as yet on the composition of the Irish delegation. Michael Collins, commander of the Irish republican army is mentioned now as a possible delegate and it is still possible Mr. de Valera will consent to head the delegation.

New York to Have Auction of Humans

Man Who Conducted Boston "Sale" Promotes Another.

New York, Sept. 13.—Urban Le Doux, also known as "Mr. Zero," who auctioned off jobless men on Boston commons, said today he would hold a similar auction next Monday near the New York public library during a parade of the unemployed on Broadway. He said that not only would he put jobless men on the block, strip them to the waist and sell their services to the highest bidder, but that he also would auction off the services of any unemployed women who might apply.

Asked if his methods with women would be the same as with men, he said: "Why certainly, if necessary," and called attention to the modes of dress of women in Broadway musical comedies and on Fifth avenue.

He said the officials of an old-time New York Episcopal church—St. Marks-in-the-Bowery—had turned over its chapel on the East Side to him and he would provide shelter and food there for the hungry and homeless until they could get jobs.

Fishermen Protest Against Bomb Tests

New London, Conn., Sept. 12.—Fishermen from New London plan a protest to Washington against the extinction of fish in the waters of some parts of Long Island sound. A delegation of loyal fishermen accompanied by representatives of the Fulton Fish Market in New York, called on the commandant at the submarine base and asked him to take his submarines far off shore for practice in dropping depth bombs.

No content with seeing the commandant, the fishermen entered the aid of James G. Hammond, secretary of the New London Chamber of Commerce and Representative Richard G. Freeman. A protest will be made to the secretary of the navy.
