Prospects Bright for Strong Grid Machine at Nebraska This Season

Eighteen Letter Return to Play On Husker Team

Captain Swanson Turns Down Appointment to West Point to Play With Cornhuskers.

Lincoln, Sept. 17.—(Special.)— Two score of Cornhusker grid war-riors turned out Thursday at the word of Head Coach Dawson, preparatory to the opening of the ac-tual foot ball season for practice as candidates for the University of Ne-braska team. Eighteen of these men have worn the Husker moleskins in former battles on the field skins in former battles on the field of honor for the Scarlet and Cream, while many others have spent at least one year on the Freshman squad at the university.

Among the older pigskin handlers who will try out for Coach Daw-son's eleven are Captain Clarence Swanson, Howarth, Lyman, Weller, Pucelik, Monte Munn, Scherer, Wright, Hoy, Schoepel, Wenke, Russell, Thompson, Bassett, Klempke, H. McGlasson, Hartley and Moore. From last year's Freshman squad come Berquist, DeWitz, Ress McGlasson, Peterson, Nixon, Moser, Noble, Lewellen and Preston.

Coach Dawson, together with his assistants, Captain "Bill" Day of last year's team and Owen Frank of more ancient Husker fame, does not believe in guessing that the Ne-braska team can beat all comers. Neither does he believe that the team can be made a perfect one, but he does believe that he has some splendid material with which to mold a strong, formidable, aggressive ma-

Turned Down Appointment. Captain Clarence Swanson, who

turned down an appointment to West Point in order to be with the Huskers this season, has retained the speed which made him a favorite with Cornhusker grid fans last season. "Swannie" will again go out for the end position, which he has heretofore handled without a peer in valley. During the summer the all the pointers that he could possibly collect in regard to the han-dling of the 1921 team.

Scherer will go after the other end of the line and stands well to help Swanson in getting down under punts. Scherer has a lot of speed with experience to back him and handles himself well. Lyman will be holding his own for the tackle job. He returned to the university this fall in splendid condition and has been training for some time preparatory to the coming of the grid discus hurler in the intercollegiate meet in Chicago in July. Bub's toe appears to have retained its kick in spite of the warm weather and the punting heavyweight may again be called to leave the line to boot the Huhkers through to victory during the coming season.

who hurried Thompson of Dartmouth during several hurdle events in the past season. Wright has a world of speed and is heavy enough to make headway through a mighty lot of opposition. Lewellen, former Lincoln High star, shows up with lots of fast footwork and a true and mighty wallop in his right boot. Lewellen's drop kicks may also be a valuable asset to the Husker crew this fall.

Harvey also manages Al Reich, heavy, and Tommy Maloney, lightweight Yankee boxers. It is the intention of Mr. Harvey to try and arrange a tournament before one of the big clubs between the American and English boxers, four or five matches of 19 rounds each, or more, if they want it.

Joe Conn is favorably known on this side, as he was over here about two years ago for a few months and ity to handle these remains unques-tioned. "Dinty" Moore of Lincoln High school fame, will again try out for the backfield.

Monte Munn Back. Monte Munn will rest his heavy body on the opposite side of center from Bub Weller and his 222 pounds will be a great aid to the Husker stone wall. Monte as six feet, five inches in height and has loots of speed for a large man. His footwork has been developed by boxing workouts and the heavy guard will probably be of great help to him in his attempt to pocket the guard job. Moser and Peterson of last year's youngsters have not lost out on getting into action and promise great things for the center of the line. They will have Captain Day's years of experience at the center position upon which to draw information. Berquist will have a chance for the opening of the tackle jobs.

Harold McGlasson, Harry How-arth and Lewellen will all be candidates for the master-mind jobs. Mc-Glasson and Howarth have repre-sented the Huskers before while the former Lincoln high man will be up DeWitz, Noble and the other candidates for the varsity have plenty of speed and ability. Coach Dawson will leave the backfield men to Assistant Frank and trusts that the Seattshiff manter will be able to Scottsbluff mentor will be able to handle the men with ease. Coach Day will be in charge of the line and has already been putting the men Batteries: Brady, Sherman, Lingrei through the elementary work.
