Rise in Cotton Price Benefit to Entire Country

bape is strong that this increase subject as it may be to some fluctuation will be maintained and in fact enlarged.

What it Means to Country.

This increase, sympathetic with, perhaps caused by improved business and industrial conditions, not only here but in Europe, will make it possible to liquidate debts. One of the authorities states that new buying power has been created by this increase and an over-night change from something like penusy of an approach to affluence. This will affect all industries and all business. Should this change in the cotten situation be coincident in point of time with the undertaking by Mexico to meet her outside financial obligations, followed by the recognition of Mexico by this increase in the price of cotton, because they will be able now to manufacture and market their cotton follows they have been exated.

Not only Europe, but Japan, will be slimulated by this increase in the price of cotton, because they will be whe now to manufacture and market their cotton follows at a reasonable price. They should find also that the public, who have been holding off in the belief that 5 further decline in the price of cotton will take place, will now, realizing that apper-calation instead of decline is in progress, begin luxifue cotton goods.

It is a most significant fact that at the moment when this government and Mexico seem about to establish normal neighborly relations the price of the great staple cultivated in the south, much of it near the Mexican boundary, should have increased.

THE LOCATION

THE BUILDINGS

On the Loop road, or at the intersection of Thirtieth street, and the road to be called Memorial boulevard. One mile by cinder road to pavement. Level roads all the way to town. The north-and-south direction of roads keep them clean in all weather.

The house is of nine rooms, newly painted and papered inside and out. Electric lights, furnace, cistern and well. A comfortable, roomy home, built to enjoy life in.

Convenient to the house is a brick and concrete cave, ideal for vegetables and fruit storage, even in the hottest weather.

Thirty minutes north of the Postoffice, a short distance past Florence, is a 60-acre tract for sale to some man or men who have an appreciation of natural advantages and convenience—STUDY THIS OFFER! with hard maple, making it an ideal dance hall. Room for 15 couples. To give you an idea of this barn's construction, the uprights are 3x8 feet and the joists 3x12 feet. The chicken house is 16x32 feet, with the hog barn underneath.

THE CROPS The orchard has apple, plum, pear and cherry trees all bearing.

TIMBER The twenty-five acres of timber on this tract were cruised a short time ago and estimated to contain 530 cords, valued at from 514 to 516 a cord. A variety of wood is there, comprising ash, elm, hickory and bass wood or linden.

HERE'S A REAL FARM HOUSE, suitable for a dairy farm on account of its close proximity to the city and the nature of the establishment. But because of the location and view to be had, no better site for a country estate could be found. Come and look it over. Phone Doug-
