

Prosecutor in Thorsdale Case Named by Board

Appointment of T. J. Guthrie To Assist Prosecution in Murder Trial Made Despite Opposition.

Des Moines, Sept. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—Despite vigorous opposition from Judge Hubert Utterback of the district court, the Polk county board of supervisors Tuesday morning appointed T. J. Guthrie, special prosecutor, to appear in the Thorsdale murder case. Appointment was made upon the application of County Attorney A. G. Rippey, who submitted to the board a choice of three attorneys whom he declared specially fitted. They were, besides Guthrie, James Parsons and Charles Hitchinson. Rippey held out for the appointment of Guthrie on account of requests made for his appointment by relatives of Sarah Barbara Thorsdale, the murdered school teacher. Before action was taken on the appointment, Judge Utterback was sent for by members of the board. He had asked to be present when the matter was to be taken up. After Rippey read his application for additional help in the prosecution of the case and the application was filed, Judge Utterback declared he would not confirm either the appointment of Guthrie or Parsons. The investigation of the murder of the Valley Junction school teacher has assumed the proportions of a political row in the last month and Judge Utterback maintained that Guthrie's appointment was just another move in this warfare. He insists that the special counsel cannot serve without approval of the trial judge.

PRETTY SOFT

Postmaster General Hays has instructed all postmasters to assist automobile tourists as far as possible.

The postoffice window's deserted; We ain't had no mail for a week. The postmaster's out on an R. F. D. route That runs into Rattlesnake Creek. He's guidin' a party o' tourists. The way that his orders requires: He's cuttin' their wood, like a postmaster should. An' learnin' them how to make fires.

Last month, when we went to the village To get us a couple o' stamps, He wasn't in sight, he had gone off that night To settle some dudes in their camps. An' when he had cooked 'em some flap-jacks Like the government wants him to do, An' helped 'em a spell, why he pleased 'em so well That they kep' him a fortnight or two.

He ain't been about much this summer; Them folks with the automobiles That drive up the road when the red is dried out Is always around at his heels. An' what with his guidin' an' cookin', An' pointin' out highways an' trails An' creeks, and what not, small chance he has got To spend any time on the mails.

Of course this ain't always convenient; It is cheerin' to hear from your kin, When breakfast was done it was always good fun To set while the letters come in. But the postmaster, he never grumbles, He's happy an' hearty these days, An' he'll often allow to his cronies as how He thinks a hull lot o' Will Hays!

WHERE THEY OUGHT TO BELONG.

Sooner or later the judges will discover that the only place where speed maniacs can't speed is in a two by six iron cell.

TOO LATE.

The Crown Prince of Germany is looking for a wife, but unfortunately for him there are no more members of the Leeds family left.

OLD STUFF.

P. M. G. Hays says that postal employees are doing a splendid work. What we'd like to hear him say is that they're going to draw splendid salaries for it.

CHIROPRACTIC

Consists Entirely of Adjusting the Movable Segments of the Spinal Column to Normal Position

HOW BIG A THING IS CHIROPRACTIC?

- Chiropactic comes upon the field and makes vast pretensions. For five thousand years the best minds of the medical profession have searched the heavens and earth, trying in vain to find the cause of disease, which Chiropactic teaches is to be found within the body.
- Against the wonderful organization known as the American Medical Association, with its endowments of millions, its secure position in educational institutions and the popular prejudice of the public, Chiropactic has nothing to hurl but the constantly increasing "Whereas I was sick and am now well" of those upon whom all other methods have failed.
- To succeed where all others fail is the supreme test, and unless Chiropactic can do this it has no excuse for its existence.
- Though but a quarter of a century has elapsed since its discovery, 10,000 practitioners in the United States alone place it second among the professions engaged in getting the sick well, while in efficiency it has easily stepped into first place and is already heralded as the "pinch-hitter" in the health game.
- Honest and open-minded members of other health professions acknowledge its merit, while progressive and forward-looking ones study its theory, and are led in increasingly great numbers to adopt it and to abandon their former methods.
- Unfortunately it has also attracted to itself a horde of pretenders, who find the word CHIROPRACTIC the most profitable addition they can make to their business cards.
- Chiropactic has won legal recognition in twenty-three states in spite of strenuous, and sometimes unscrupulous, opposition.
- To an unbiased judgment it would seem that any method that can be built upon the failure of others, in spite of ignorance and prejudice, and in spite of organized opposition backed by millions of wealth and unlimited legal power; any method that can convert the members of antagonistic professions and multiply its practitioners and converts at such a phenomenal speed, MUST BE A BIG THING.
