Senate Expected To Pass Free Toll Bill October 10

Canvass Shows Enough Votes To Approve Measure Exempting American Vessels Through Panama Canal.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. Washington, Oct. 3.—The Borah bill to exempt American coastwise shipping from payment of Panama canal tolls, involving the question of violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, is likely to be passed by the senate on October 10, unless President Harding's treaty program.

The president supports the republican platform declaration in favor of tolls exemption for American ships, but he has indicated his conviction that it should be achieved through agreement with Great Britain revising or favorably construing the Hay-Pauncefote treaty which provides:

It was the British protest which led to the repeal of the toll exemption law in 1914 and if the Borah bill should become law it is certain that Great Britain, in the absence of a new understanding, would renew the protest and ask arbitration of the question. Some of the advocates of tolls exemption think it would be impolitic to pass the bill on the eve of the assembling of the international conference on limitation of armaments in which the United States desires the support of Great Britain and would gladly postpone action, though this can hardly be accomplished under the unanimous consent agreement to vote on final disposition of the bill on October 10.
