Wheat Harvested In Northwest Is Of Highest Quality

Miller Report Gluten Content Exceeds Grade in Any Year Since 1830—Lumber Industry Reviving.

By HOLLAND. One of the seemingly paradoxical conditions which have occasioned a part of the difficulty met with in all the attempts to report accurately business and industrial conditions has been characteristic of the Ninth Federal Reserve district. That is one of the largest and now one of the most influential and important districts in the United States; it has reached that prominent postion within the last 20 years. This districts in the United States; it has reached that prominent postion within the last 20 years. This year crop harvesting which in the aggregate has been large and marketing throu-hout the northwestern states have favorably affected some lives of business. John H. Rich, who is chairwan of the board of directors and federal reserve agent in the Ninth Federal Reserve district, calls attention, however, to to two changes which he speaks of as both extraordinary and unseasonal. One was the large and much earlier than normal grain receipts and the other that building operations continue in large volumes although in the autumn operations of that kind its vally fall off.

The money raid for grain makes centain the bondation, of debts in barse demounts while building projects have so far progressed that there will be full employment for labor until the severity of winter compels succession of work of that his labor been observed that the wheat which has been barvested in the bordward which has been barvested in the hometal so been observed that the wheat which has been barvested in the stocks of whest is fine highest quality. Omaha Grain

New York, Oct, 10 .- Interest in today's financial situation was focused primarily on the foreign ex-changes, and more specifically upon sterling, which touched $3.87 and reacted to $3.8514. At the latter price, however, there was a gain of 41/2c, this coming as a sequel to a big rise last week. As compared with change on Madrid was strong.

The advance in sterling was attributable to several influences. For one thing, grain and cotton mills, which would act as a depressing factor, are not in the market in any great quantity. Engiand's foreign trade figures, also, showed a further cutting down of the excess of importa, and more than passing attention is being paid to the hopeful statement by Lloyd George that financial conditions in Europe are on the mend.

In the stock market prices tended to be reactionary, and the call rate, after renewing at 5 per cent, rose to 8 per cent at the close. It is the highest rate since August 18 and the announcement of government withdrawals of 425,000,000 was a factor of importance in making for a higher rate of demand lossy. Trading once again was dull, although there appeared to be some slight public interest in the oils.

Little Sheep Feeding

In Colorado This Year According to John Petrie, live stock agent of the Burlington west of the Missouri river, there will be little sheep feeding in Colorado next season. He said less than 100,000 lambs had been brought to the Colorado ranges for feeding this fall and winter. He said he also had been keeping tab on the movement of feeding lambs in the North Platte valley of Nebraska and he found the number bought up to date did not reach over 25 000.

Unemployment is Largest Problem Of Great Britain

Situation Now Most Serious In History of Country-Total of 1,603,369 Registered as Idle.

bleago Tribune Cable, Copyr.gut, 1921. London, Oct. 10.-With 1,600,369 men and women officially registered as unemployed in the latest figures. Great Britain in the present crisis faces the greatest problem of unem ment in its history. Great Brita.u-particularly Eng-land-always has had unemploy-ment. The nature of this huge concentrated industrial community demands a constant employable reservoir of floating unemployed population wherefrom to draw reserves for periods of industrial speeding up in any given industry. Heretofore there has been a fairly constant economic factor. Today, however, it is out of bonds.

Worst in History.

Official trade union unemployed returns for the past 20 years snow the nuctuations of the unemployed masses, but there has been nothing like today. In 1900 the index hgure for unemployed was 2.5 per cent of the trade union sts. Four per cent was the average up to 1908 and 1909, when a crisis and much distress and Thereafter the figure dropped to 3 per cent and unemployment practi-cally disappeared during war time, dropping to 0.4 in 1916.

Nineteen-twenty was a good year, while the post-war trade boom lasted, the yearly average being 2.4 per cent. The boom crashed in the autumn, however, and the December figure was 6 per cent.

Sixteen Per Cent Idle. Today 16 per cent of the trade unionists are unemployed.

Hundreus of thousands are working for the barest living wage—men and women for unskilled labor re-ceiving 20 to 50 shillings ($3.75 to $9) weekly, which does not pay for the necessities of life for a family Meanwhile every agency of the government is concentrating on a stimulation of trade whereby Great Britain hopes to start its export wheels of industry. A huge scheme for extending credit up to 85 per cent of value to shove out highpriced goods with which Great Britain's warehouses are congested, is being considered. This would help many manufacturing industries.

It is expected the prime minister will present a scheme for extension of temporary doles to bridge the crisis of winter distress when parlianent convenes on October 8, but Great Britain, including even the unemployed-have lost faith in the dole idea, which will be abandoned as soon as possible.
