

Indicted Men Hope for Early Trial of Cases Activities Signify Desire to "Get it Over With"—Several Anxious to Plead Guilty.

The next important phase in connection with indictments returned by the recent special grand jury will be the trials in district court. The cases have not yet been assigned. In fact, all of those indicted have not been brought in by the sheriff's department.

Several of the Omaha men under indictment have been revealing a desire to "get it over with," according to the activities of their attorneys, who have communicated with the local office of the attorney general.

Details of these attempted negotiations by attorneys for their indicted clients may be mentioned only in whispers at this delicate stage of the proceedings.

Anxious to Plead Guilty. Several who have been indicted are anxious to enter pleas of guilty, in consideration for which they would ask clemency. They also wish to avoid the ordeal of a public trial with the attendant exposure of "inside information" of their business affairs and perchance in some instances a revelation of some of their private lives.

The attorney general's office here is getting its breath. Judge W. C. Dorsey, special court for Attorney General (Loren A. Davis, has gone to Red Cloud for a few days. Assistant Attorney General T. J. McGuire is looking forward with interest to the forthcoming trials of approximately two score men who were indicted under the blue sky and other laws.

Trial Expected Next Month. Mr. McGuire ventured the statement that the trials will be brought to trial next month. He would not venture any guess on the time that will be necessary to hear all of the cases. Some of the cases will require a week, two weeks or longer. The state legal department is prepared to go into minute details of the financial affairs of the companies whose officers and representatives will be called to bar. Clinics will be held over the stock-selling and general financial methods of these companies.

Judge Dorsey and Mr. McGuire will prosecute these cases for the state. "The entire situation has convinced us that there is need of a strong criminal fraud law in this state," said Mr. McGuire. Victims of stock-selling schemes continue to call at the attorney general's office. Several came from Iowa this week to tell their stories of misplaced confidence.

Stock Salesman in Court, Gives Bond C. W. Burkland, Indicted by Grand Jury, Surrenders To Sheriff.

C. W. Burkland surrendered himself at the sheriff's office in the court house shortly before noon yesterday on a warrant charging him with conspiracy to commit a felony. He was included on the same indictment with Leroy Corliss, in connection with the sale of stock in the Waterloo Creamery company. He is charged with the sale of 7,500 shares of stock in the company. He was released on $5,000 bond signed by Regd Corliss, 2323 Hastings boulevard.

County officials and Assistant Attorney General T. J. McGuire were unable to give any information relative to Burkland. Brower McCague, foreman of the grand jury, knew of him only as a stock salesman.

Bonds Held Taxable If Used As Capital Stock of Bank Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Liberty bonds and federal land bank bonds are taxable if they are used as part of the capital stock of a bank, according to a decision handed down today by the supreme court in the suit brought by the Peters Trust company of Omaha against Douglas county taxing authorities.

This supreme court decision upholds the Douglas county district court. The trust company contended that, as these securities are intrinsically nontaxable, taxes could not be collected on them when they were used as part of the capital stock.

Fremont Youth Disappears Fremont, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Orville Doak, 10, son of George Doak, Fremont, has been missing from his home since he left for school Wednesday. He failed to report at the school and no trace has been found of him. Searching parties have failed to locate the youngster.

High School Girl Is "Handy Man" on Farm

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special.) Edith Middaugh, 16, is a girl with all the feminine love for feathers and finery and frillery. But Edith is useful as well as ornamental. Decidedly so. She is the second of four daughters of J. C. Middaugh, farmer north of Fremont, and here are a few of the things she has done during the last summer.

Hauled 4,000 bushels of grain to market in a big truck; piloted the tractor over many acres of the farm; ran the threshing machine. In house work, Edith's mother says she is no less wonderful than in the mechanical work of the farm. She is a junior in the Fremont high school.

Above is a picture of Edith and the big truck she used to haul grain to market.

Omaha Man Wins $40,000 Verdict State Supreme Court Declines New Trial for W. O. W., But Cuts Judgment.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—William A. Dailey of Omaha will get $40,000 from the Woodmen of the World for injuries he received when he fell down the elevator shaft of the Woodmen of the World building July 19, 1919.

The state supreme court today handed down a decision cutting down the big judgment won by him in the Douglas county district court from $50,000 to $40,000, but declined to order a new trial.

Dailey was about to step into an elevator in the building when the elevator girl started the car and he fell to the bottom of the shaft upon a piece of machinery.

The verdict in the district court in Omaha was said to be the largest personal injury verdict ever returned by a jury in that court.

Fort Crook Baby Has Sticky Time on Arrival Lincoln, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—State sheriffs report a new excuse for non-registration of motor cars in a Fort Crook garage. According to the sheriffs the following explanation was made by John R. Kolb, who, together with Fred Lerrig, owns the garage.

A new-born baby girl arrived at the Kolb home and it was necessary for the father to administer ether to Mrs. Kolb, who was very ill. He was next ordered to go to the pantry for goose grease for the nurse to rub on the baby.

A short time afterward the nurse complained of the baby's hair being sticky. On investigation it was learned that instead of goose grease he had brought out varnish. The ether was blamed.

The officers agreed that Mr. Kolb had had enough worries to cause him to forget the motor register and he was released with a warning.

Legislation Will Not Help Farmers, Says Pugsley Washington, Oct. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Assistant Secretary Pugsley of the Department of Agriculture, in his interview yesterday with Representatives McLaughlin and Jeffers, who called to pay their respects and talk over agricultural conditions, said that legislation would not better the farmer, not would executive action give the farmer relief.

"Time can only solve the problem of the adjustment of values, and I have profound belief that in a little while the farmer will come into his own," declared Mr. Pugsley. As one of the members from Nebraska expressed it, "Pugsley wants practical legislation to help the farmer and not pulsating platitudes."

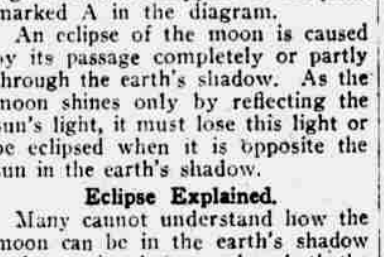

Eclipse of Moon Sunday Evening To Be 94 Per Cent

Omahans Will Have to Look Sharply, However, as Sun Will Be Shining at Time.

By WILLIAM F. RIGGE. The moon will be eclipsed 94 per cent Sunday evening, October 16. The time, 4:54 p. m., will be too early for Omaha, because the moon will be here that day at 5:42, 48 minutes after this maximum has occurred.

When Omahans see the moon it will look like the annexed figure, in which N, S, E, W are its cardinal points, and T, B, L, R are its top, bottom, left and right points. The upper two-thirds of the disk, as far as the broken line which shows its upper boundary, will be eclipsed and more or less completely invisible.

Must Look Sharply. As the sun will set at the same time, the sky will be so bright yet that one must look sharply at the eastern horizon 12 degrees or, in nautical parlance, one point north of east, if he wishes to see the moon.

at all. The eclipse will diminish gradually until 6:34 when the last sign of it will disappear at the point marked A in the diagram. An eclipse of the moon is caused by its passage completely or partly through the earth's shadow. As the moon shines only by reflecting the sun's light, it must lose this light or be eclipsed when it is opposite the sun in the earth's shadow.

Eclipse Explained. Many cannot understand how the moon can be in the earth's shadow and opposite the sun when both the sun and the moon are visible at the same time. This difficulty comes from not taking into account the relative sizes and distances of the sun, moon and earth.

If a globe six inches in diameter be made to represent the earth, the moon will be a one and one-half inch ball 15 feet away. The sun's diameter will be 55 feet and it will be more than a mile distant. If one can get a good grasp of these relative dimensions and he imagines himself somehow on the earth's surface or in space circle, the difficulty in question will vanish at once.

BEDDEO 1417 DOUGLAS ST. CREDIT CLOTHIERS TO MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

MONEY BACK If Any Cash Store Sells for Less

We defy any merchant anywhere to give you the terms we do at the prices we submit. You are privileged to pay a little each week or month and take the merchandise at strictly cash prices. An entire family can be clothed this way in the height of style and quality on very small outlay. We are going into strict competition with the exclusive cash stores in the matter of prices, but we are not asking you to pay cash. When we say you may have your money back if any exclusive cash store will give you equal values for less, we emphasize our determination to revive business. Our grounds for this action are so unprecedented nothing can possibly keep the crowds away once the people come and see how the offer is being backed.

Credit to Out-of-Town People No matter where you live you may enjoy BEDDEO'S easy terms.

Nebraska Farmers Will Not Burn Corn Is Indicated at Norfolk

Norfolk, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—New low prices on corn have opened in all parts of north Nebraska, several towns reporting sales of old shelled corn at 22 to 23 cents a bushel. In Norfolk Thursday morning the price was announced at 25 cents, the lowest quoted in Norfolk elevators for many years. Oats in Norfolk were bringing 21 cents a bushel.

One farmer who sold his oats here Wednesday took hard coal on exchange, indicating little basis for the persistent reports that farmers have decided to burn corn as fuel. One farmer remarked Thursday that he had decided to snap a load of new corn and give it a test as fuel for the kitchen stove. He believed that new corn would sell under 20 cents and at that price he thought it would be cheaper to burn than high-priced coal.

Coal dealers state that as much coal has been hauled out to the farms this year as last and they predict that very little corn will be substituted for fuel.

Names of War Heroes to Be Placed on Fremont Memorial

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Names of 33 soldiers who died during the recent world war, will be inscribed on the bronze tablet to be erected on the $5,000 memorial monument recently donated to the city by L. M. Keene, sr. These soldiers were all sons of Fremont who gave up their lives as a result of their services on the field of battle and in camp. The monument is in the process of erection now at the city park and will be officially unveiled on Armistice day, with special ceremonies, under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion. The monument is donated to the city through the American Legion by Mr. Keene, banker and prominent citizen of Fremont.

Omaha Will Be West Terminus Of Big Air Line

Airplane Express Service to Start March 1, Says Col. John A. Jordan, Here On Visit.

Four big hangars, costing about $25,000 each, machine shops, warehouses, etc., will be built here in the near future and Omaha will be constantly the headquarters of air pilots, mechanics, wireless operators, etc., as the western terminal of a new air express and freight line, according to Col. John A. Jordan, who was in Omaha Thursday in the interests of the Aerial Transport corporation, 505 Fifth avenue, New York.

"The ships are being built in New York," said Colonel Jordan. "They will carry one ton each, be equipped with Liberty motors and have wooden wings. The first ship will be completed March 1, 1922."

The first of the air express and freight lines to be inaugurated will be the New York, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Kansas City line. The next will be the Boston, New York, Chicago and Omaha line. The plans include making Omaha the most important half-way stopping point in the transcontinental air freight and express service with a schedule of 44 hours between Boston and San Francisco for express shipments.

Son of Wealthy Land Owner Held on Charge Of Passing Bad Checks

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Robert L. Gates, a Milwaukee real estate man who claims to be a son of James L. Gates, owner of 22,000 acres of land near Eau Claire, Wis., occupied a cell at the detective bureau yesterday, charged with issuing $50,000 in bad checks.

He was arrested in Boston after he had ordered a rubber check certificate stamp from a manufacturer who took the trouble to look up his antecedents before delivering the stamp. He laid the matter before the police and they found a circular from the Chicago police asking them to watch for Gates.

Gates insists it is all a mistake. He says his predicament is due to a bad check he took in payment of 2,200 acres of land near Eau Claire which he sold to a man in Billings, Mont. The checks turned back against him, he insists, were written against the Billings check.
