The stars will be made from the Y. W. C. A. each week at 2 o'clock.

Wind among the green leaves singing, Bend the branches as they go; Gently, gently, that their swaying Hush the little heart below; Still the busy little fingers, Softly close the dark fringed eyes, For no gleam of daylight lingers In the dusky, twilight skies.

Silver stars come peeping, peeping, Weaving with your shining beams, Round my drowsy blossom sleeping, Fairy spells of happy dreams;

Lullaby, O captive rover, All your playmates are at rest; Herbs have left the scented clover, Baby birds are in the nest.

Little rabbits warmly cuddle In the grasses soft and deep; And the wee white daisies huddle In the shadow fast asleep; Lullaby, my bird, my blossom; Sleep, my light-winged butterfly, Cradled soft on earth's brown bosom Till the morning you shall lie.

—A FOREST LULLABY, by Shariot M. Hall in Kansas City Star.

Let's Go Shopping with Polly

Yards of Goblets Do More Than Hint. The Brandeis stationery department is ready for Halloween. You'll surely want the "Bogie Book" at 10c compiled by Dennison Paper company which gives unique illustrations of costumes, decorations for home or hall with original game suggestions, and menus for parties of all kinds. Dinner sets at $1 include everything necessary for a lovely table service; masques at 5c each are weird simulations of skeletons, pumpkin faces, owls, cats. Invitations are interestingly different this year, priced from 35c to 75c a dozen, talies to record laid presided over by a black cat are 25c a dozen; cut out transparencies to cover lights and candles are 10c, of an effectiveness indispensable. Order early!

Vivid Pleated Skirts a Chic Note Under Lustrous Fur Peltries. The Ideal Button & Pleating company, third floor Brown block, Sixteenth and Douglas, are making the jolliest novelty pleated skirts for wear under milady's sweater, flared fur coat. I'll be glad to send out samples of the new blocked plaids together with illustrated catalog from this shop showing the new arrangement of pleats for different types of figures.

Your Halloween Party Will be a "Howling" Success. If you call on Theodore Lieben & Son, Costumers, 1514 Howard. Here one will find available not only the most mirth-provoking costumes imaginable, but quaintly becoming costumes of a bygone day particularly appropriate for the Halloween festival with its candles dully shaded.

Milady's Stylish Colors Chinese Red, Green and Blue With Accompanying Brilliance of Metallic Threads. ARE all expressed by medium of great square sleeves. Seems that the whole dress has heard a command for quiet coloring that it may be the background for an intricately traced embroidery of metallic threads on Chinese brilliancies in satin and crepe. The new braiding is particularly effective on the new sleeves as braided by The Mode Pleating company, fourth floor Paxton block, Sixteenth and Farnam.

Now That Evening Lamps Revolve a Gathering Round the Fireplace. SO many inquiries have come in to the shopping department relative to "where and how much" are bath and lounging robes that I'm happy to reach the selling stage. You will find here a complete line of blanket robes and broad silk lounging robes with slippers to match in individual gift boxings at a price range of $9 to $45.

Manusque, Beauty Shop Feature of New Store. IN the new Herzberg store, 1517 Douglas, there is an exquisitely fitted beauty shop on the mezzanine floor; specially constructed chairs invite chubby little people to perch for a bit for an expert hair bob by girls who have had 15 years experience in the art of "bobbing." An up-to-date beauty shop using the Marinello system, with a complete stock of all Marinello preparations under the management of Miss Irene Gray.

Whatver the Character of the Prentenses of Your Dwelling. YOU will find your satisfaction of permanent ownership results from the fitness of its furnishings and the harmony of their arrangement. The H. R. Bowen Furniture Company, Sixteenth and Howard, have a delightfully complete showing of living room furniture. Charmingly restful to the eyes is the coloring achieved in the broad velvet upholstery on a mahogany and cane living room suite, set in place, on display. Delicately tinted warm taupe with an underlying thread of gold are the softly constructed square slip cushions into which one sinks on long seat of divan, arm and rocking chairs. Relieving the otherwise massive effect of this suite are cane inset backs and sides, especially pleasing when used in small living room. Mammoth overstuffed pieces suitable for the large living room may be had in any color desired, especially pleasing with the new tinted oak tables are the tapestries in old rose, blue, gold and green. One might suggest a console table of dull mahogany with mirror mahogany framed to hang over it by silk rosette cord, a desk and bookcase with convenient drawers underneath, this in lustrous mahogany or walnut, or perhaps one would prefer the spinet? Desk of Martha Washington's day? Living room furniture to meet your every need will be found at Bowen's at prices, much, much lower than last year's quotations.

Hundreds of Dresses Promise Smartly Clothed Fashion Followers. ORKIN BROS., Conant Hotel building, Sixteenth and Harney, have a delightful new showing of dresses, hundreds of them, a model or two of a kind, bought by the representative for the Orkin chain of six stores which permits an extremely low selling price. Surprise will be uppermost in your mind at viewing the excellent quality of material, the smartness of cut in these dresses ranging in price from $19.20 to $39.50. Sized from 14 to 44, all the popular new style notes are to be found here, daring color introductions, the new collar lines, wide revers, ribbon-trimmed, the deep loose-hanging mantle collar, metallic and ivory griddles, an alluringly styled dress showing, at prices you'll not resist.

And When it Comes to Furs, Capes, Stoles and Coats. WILL be quite the last word if you are a follower of Dame Fashion's suggestions. The Goldstein Fur Shop, 1520 Douglas, over Fry's shoe store, have a lovely line of capes, in seal, beaver, and marten at from $25 up; seal, squirrel and mink stoles, $25 up; and those charming little coats so comfy, so becoming, in exquisite peltries of seal, squirrel trimmed at from $30 up. Values to surprise, due to a direct factory to wearer service which as Mr. Goldstein says, "enables us to sell furs from 25 to 50 per cent less than we could otherwise do."

Milady's Chapeau Follows a Diversity of Charming Ways. DARINGLY flaunting the big brims of Spanish coquetry, demurely rolled the tiny fitted hat for driving, all equally becoming if one is to judge by the lovely models displayed in the F. M. Schadel & Company Hat shop, Sixteenth and Douglas. The prices, mes amies, of a lowliness to delight!

Tables Moved From Airy Veranda to Cosy House Interior. AT Hillcrest, 2811 Caldwell street, that popular home cafe of Alfred Jones, they have moved the tables from the airy porch which proved such a pleasing innovation during the summer months into the cosy interior of the house. And how truly delicious everything is during these first frosty days and evenings of fall! Chicken, fish and steak dinners are especially featured at this cafe, although there are countless additional delicacies served. You will be interested to know of the splendid catering services rendered by Mr. Jones. His ideas are conservative, but original, with a distinction of service which is true joy, including everything needed, linen, dishes, silver and flowers, as well as food.

An Age of Quality Appreciation. PERHAPS never before have the women of the American public so appreciated excellence of quality in apparel worn. L. Kneeter, exclusive ladies' tailor, second floor Sixteenth and Howard, is showing beautiful fabrics for the fashioning of wraps which will speak even to the untutored of fabric quality not to be denied, a tailoring studied in personality, expression, a distinctive styling not possible in the ready-to-wear wraps shown. Your wrap will be "different," charmingly so if it is a tailored one.

When the First Chill Winds Roughen Delicately Textured Skins. ONE is grateful for the soothing effect of that delightful Chapala, a creamy lotion sold at Green's Pharmacy, Sixteenth and Howard. Delicately fragrant, healing skins already roughened, preventing further discomfort, it is one of the few lotions that permit one to pick up the most dainty sewing or draw on soft gloves after rubbing a bit of it in. Two sizes it is priced 25c, 50c and $1.25. Green's cold cream, an unusually effective cream, adapted to all types of skin, is in two sizes, one at 25c and one at 50c. Please include postage with cut-out orders.

Velvet Chosen as Favored Frock for Evening. LULU HAMPTON, Modiste, third floor Securities building, Sixteenth and Farnam, is modeling lovely new velvet frocks for dinner and dance wear.

Did Jack Frost's Arrival Find You Unprepared? SURELY there is some excuse for the belated wearing of summer apparel when Jack Frost's first visit comes unusually early in the season, but its almost ludicrous to wear summer sweaters and suits now merely because you have delayed the cleaning and repairing of last year's overcoats, tailored suits and dress frocks and furs. Dresser Bros., Twenty-second and Farnam, have an unusual large cleaning establishment which includes scientific departments of cleaning for all wearing apparel, household drapes, bedding, rugs and upholstery, furs, hats and yes, shoes. In each department will be found expert repair facilities. Hats, furs, and gloves, everything necessary for a comfortable meeting with Jack Frost will be found in this great modern plant. Call Atlantic 0345 for immediate service.

Carved ivory roses hung about the neck on a long, colored silk cord, sometimes red, sometimes blue, sometimes purple and sometimes green.

When tired ensemble; perhaps we may be a bit Victorian in the fussiness of our apparel. But who says it is not trend charming?

Large Spanish combs are being used as trimming for fall hats.
