Slain Man Identified as T. E. King by His Wife

"Why, I know him. He's Floyd Forman."

Forman lived near the Murrays for many years and had a bad record, she explained. Police believe Forman and King may be the same man and are endeavoring to connect the records of the two.

Murray's father is a veteran Burlington railroad detective. Bluffs police now are inclined to believe a prisoner in the city jail, Bill Bullis, may prove to be the W. A. Bennett who rented the farm from Mrs. Snyder.

Detective Lane persists in the statement there were six men and one woman at the home when the officers presented a search warrant to Bennett at the rear door, disarmed the men and lined them up in the front room of the house.

Richard Raven, 2215 Howard street, was arrested at 12:30 yesterday noon for investigation by Detectives Danbaum and Palmtag and Special Agent Joe Baughman of the Union Pacific.

Raven served one year at Lincoln prison for box car thefts, according to police, and is suspected of being connected with the Bluffs gang of the Snyder farm.

Date of the inquest over the body of Robert Murray, special agent for the Northwestern, from Norfolk, who was slain by the first bullet fired, has not been set.

Cremonian Violin Found in Columbus Gun Store

Columbus, Neb., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—A visitor to a gun and sporting goods store in this city was attracted by an old fiddle that lay in a dark corner of a wall show case. Asking to examine it, he called the attention of the proprietor to the inscription or label pasted on the inside of the back. It reads, "Nickoli Cremonian, 1690."

The proprietor stated that the instrument has been lying in that show case from the time he bought the store, 10 years ago, and he had no idea of its value. He is still in the dark as to the history and its probable value.

Workers on 17 Rail Systems to Walk Out

(Continued from Page One.) ference for 15 minutes and then returned to the White House where a statement was issued declaring his move was part of a general effort at realignment of the railroad situation.

Joint Meet Called. Chicago, Oct. 15.—Sixteen railroad unions have taken a secret strike vote and authorized their officers to order a walkout if deemed advisable.

Hope Destroyed. Union leaders who had been hopeful of averting a strike, some of whom had even opposed it, declared today that the action of the railroad executives yesterday in deciding on further wage reductions has destroyed the last hope of peace.

The 16 unions involved have a total membership of about 2,000,000 men. The Brotherhood chiefs indicated that an immediate walkout at least on some roads is under consideration following yesterday's conference with the executives after the executives had announced they would apply to the railroad labor board for a wage reduction which they announced they would pass along to the public in the form of decreased freight rates.

Laborers Vote to Strike. Ninety-seven per cent of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes and Shop Laborers union have voted to strike, J. C. Smock, vice president, announced today. Smock said he would announce tomorrow night whether the strike will be carried out.

When the officials of the 16 leading rail unions went into conference this morning Warren Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. G. Lee, president of the railroad union, announced they would leave tonight for their headquarters at Cleveland. The announcement indicated a definite decision by the unions today as to whether the strike shall be ordered.

Big Revival Campaign to Open Today in Omaha

(Continued from Page One.) Years With the Boys in France, and "From Gipsy to Pulpit." During the scripture readings, prayers and solos the Smith meeting, no one will be allowed to move.

The memorable "sawdust" trail of the Billy Sunday campaign will have no place in this campaign. Those who may be impressed by the message of the gipsy will be asked to sign cards. These cards have three parts, which read:

Cards Have Three Parts. "Believing Jesus Christ to be the only savior for sinners, I do hereby and now accept Him as my lord and savior and promise by His grace to love and follow Him."

"I humbly and penitently confess my unfaithfulness as a church member and desire to re-dedicate myself to my God and my church, and this I do just now for Jesus' sake."

"I am a member of a church elsewhere and desire to unite with a church in this city. My choice being—"

The evangelist stated that while he is in Omaha he will make an appeal to the church to "live its religion and not to play it."

He expects that his campaign here will result in the spiritual life of Omaha and that the church will be strengthened.

Saturday Day of Rest. The local committee urges large attendance at the noonday meetings which will be held in the Brandeis theater, beginning Monday noon. These meetings are held from 11:30 to 12:30.

Gipsy Smith promises to tell Omaha the story of his life. He was born in an Epping Forest, 15 miles from London. His parents were children of Romany, "whose dwelling place is wherever their tents are pitched and whose origin is shrouded in the mysticism of the ages."

Father was Horse Trader. His father, Cornelius Smith, was a tinkerer and horse trader, who was converted and held gospel meetings traveling from place to place with wagon and tent. Gipsy Smith said he was converted in a Methodist church in Cambridge, England. His first religious work was with the Salvation Army. His first visit to America was in 1889.

Osborne to Call Semi-Public Tax Hearing Soon

List of Institutions to Be Made Public Monday—Citizens Will Be Sent Out Next Week.

Lincoln, Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Managing officers of hospitals, lodges, tractor schools and other semi-public institutions will be served with citations next week by W. H. Osborne, state tax commissioner, asking them to appear before the state board of equalization in November and show cause why they shouldn't be taxed the same as other state institutions.

A list of these institutions will be made public Monday, Osborne announced. It is reported to be especially long in Omaha and Lincoln.

"I am making no criticism of the persons included in the list," Osborne said, "as it has been common practice in the past to exclude such institutions and associations upon the theory that they were entitled to exemption."

"The state board feel that it is justified in this effort in the hope that it will lessen somewhat the burden of taxation, and in the further hope that it will result in a more complete listing of the properties for next year's assessment."

Youngest Secretary For State Governor

Nebraska not only claims the youngest governor in the United States, but also the youngest governor's stenographer in the country.

Miss Hazel Nigh, who for two years has typed the thousands of letters and newspaper interviews for Governor McKelvie, waved farewell to her 'teens this year.

Miss Nigh gives the lie to believers in environment, who hold that a girl working in an antiquated state house, such as Nebraska possesses at the present time, would be old-fashioned and antiquated.

Miss Nigh looks anything but a bit of antiquity fitting in with the old furnishings of Nebraska's state house.

Yet, she is old-fashioned in that her dancing technique is admirable, and she is much happier when the governor is in Lincoln keeping her busy with dictation than when he is out of the city.

Albert E. Morton of Bellevue visited the stock yards to purchase stock pigs. Mr. Morton said he was going into the cattle feeding business on quite a large scale and that he thought there would be money in the game next season.

He said he was feeding about 100 head of cattle and expected to put onto his feeding lots about 100 more before winter sets in. He said he also expected to fatten several loads of hogs.

"The fact that my place near Bellevue is close to the Omaha market will save me considerable on transportation," said Mr. Morton. "Part of the corn that I can feed for finishing I have on my own land. I can get plenty of corn, having bought 1,000 bushels of old corn at 25 cents and it looks as though I can get some of the new crop at even less. I can drive all my cattle to the Omaha yards the same day and land there with my live stock in good condition."

Farmers Near Oshkosh Will Leave Corn in Fields

Oshkosh, Neb., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—On account of the prevailing low prices for corn much of the crop in this vicinity will not be taken out of the fields. Many farmers are planning on husking out the best only, leaving the balance where it now stands. An average yield is reported for all parts of the county with the exception of a small area in the southern part. If finances could be arranged many farmers would be buying corn and feeding stock as there are lots of young shoats that could be bought cheap.
