

earnest, headed... awake to their... generous, devout congrega...

Women's Part in the Revolution. Dedication of a monument to the mothers of the revolution in Westchester county, New York...

The Bee's Platform. 1. New Union Passenger Station. 2. Continued improvement of the Nebraska Highways...

The Softening Influence of Age. Seneca, wasn't it, who devoted some attention to considering one of the accompaniments of advancing years...

Clémenceau, "Tiger of France," is the latest to add his testimony to the accumulation of human experience in this regard. Addressing the village gathered to celebrate the establishment of a war memorial at his birthplace...

Patience is the one lesson experience can teach without fail; that and a gentler tolerance for others, is the reward years bring home.

Art Progress in Nebraska. A delicate subject, indeed, and one that perhaps may require a little adjustment of standards before it is determined if progress is really being made.

Real Human Prosperity. Gratifying indeed is it to read that the value of American manufactured goods in 1920 represented a three-fold increase over that of 1910...

When Gipsy Smith Comes. The evangelical churches of Omaha have made great preparations against the advent today of a notable evangelist.

THE HUSKING BEE - It's Your Day - Start It With a Laugh

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN. The shimmy must go, say the dance supervisors. To wiggle is naughty and vulgar and crude...

PHILO-SOPHY. An eloquent man is one who can win a poor argument by force of rhetoric. Usually the lower down a man gets the harder up he is.

What a storekeeper finds a lead nickel in the day's receipts he imagines the country is infested by a desperate band of counterfeiters.

"Prohibition officers find still in cornfield." -Yows Item. You break, you may shatter the jug if you will; but the moonshine will come from the farmyard still.

UNIMPORTANT ITEM. As far as we know the Esquimaux have never had a fire-prevention week.

ONE GUESS ONLY. "I guess it's time to go," he sighed. "Just as the cuckoo clock struck ten; 'I hope,' the weary maid replied, 'That you won't have to guess again.'"

BUT THEY DON'T R. S. V. P. When a woman enters a crowded street car she mutely extends to the men a "standing" invitation.

AYE, AND WORTH IT. Dear Philo: I notice where an Omaha woman was so extravagant as to pay $90 to a beauty parlor for a permanent wave.

ISN'T IT TRUE? If you're the goods, you've naught to fear. A man will wear his hat's sincere. No trick can down good common sense, And cold facts beat hot arguments.

COME AGAIN. D. J. Lockwood, Omaha, Ia., wins the five iron men by a neck and a collar button, with the following LIMERICK.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS. Questions concerning hygiene, sanitation, disease, and health, submitted to Dr. Evans by readers of this Bee, will be answered in this column...

FLU AND HEALTH RECORDS. Three years ago right now we were in the midst of an epidemic of influenza, part of the epidemic of the disorder which involved all that part of the world that has a highly developed civilization.

PHILO-SOPHY. An eloquent man is one who can win a poor argument by force of rhetoric. Usually the lower down a man gets the harder up he is.

What a storekeeper finds a lead nickel in the day's receipts he imagines the country is infested by a desperate band of counterfeiters.

UNIMPORTANT ITEM. As far as we know the Esquimaux have never had a fire-prevention week.

ONE GUESS ONLY. "I guess it's time to go," he sighed. "Just as the cuckoo clock struck ten; 'I hope,' the weary maid replied, 'That you won't have to guess again.'"

BUT THEY DON'T R. S. V. P. When a woman enters a crowded street car she mutely extends to the men a "standing" invitation.

AYE, AND WORTH IT. Dear Philo: I notice where an Omaha woman was so extravagant as to pay $90 to a beauty parlor for a permanent wave.

ISN'T IT TRUE? If you're the goods, you've naught to fear. A man will wear his hat's sincere. No trick can down good common sense, And cold facts beat hot arguments.

COME AGAIN. D. J. Lockwood, Omaha, Ia., wins the five iron men by a neck and a collar button, with the following LIMERICK.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

The Dante Myth Exploded

(From the Los Angeles Times.) taken her away. Had he been a stolid Puritan, he would have kept his mouth shut about her and would have said a few good words for his own wife.

PHILO-SOPHY. An eloquent man is one who can win a poor argument by force of rhetoric. Usually the lower down a man gets the harder up he is.

What a storekeeper finds a lead nickel in the day's receipts he imagines the country is infested by a desperate band of counterfeiters.

UNIMPORTANT ITEM. As far as we know the Esquimaux have never had a fire-prevention week.

ONE GUESS ONLY. "I guess it's time to go," he sighed. "Just as the cuckoo clock struck ten; 'I hope,' the weary maid replied, 'That you won't have to guess again.'"

BUT THEY DON'T R. S. V. P. When a woman enters a crowded street car she mutely extends to the men a "standing" invitation.

AYE, AND WORTH IT. Dear Philo: I notice where an Omaha woman was so extravagant as to pay $90 to a beauty parlor for a permanent wave.

ISN'T IT TRUE? If you're the goods, you've naught to fear. A man will wear his hat's sincere. No trick can down good common sense, And cold facts beat hot arguments.

COME AGAIN. D. J. Lockwood, Omaha, Ia., wins the five iron men by a neck and a collar button, with the following LIMERICK.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

CENTER SHOTS

Figures showing the cost of living are being prepared for the employment conference. It might serve as a useful purpose to lend them to the conference on the limitation of armaments.—Boston Transcript.

PHILO-SOPHY. An eloquent man is one who can win a poor argument by force of rhetoric. Usually the lower down a man gets the harder up he is.

What a storekeeper finds a lead nickel in the day's receipts he imagines the country is infested by a desperate band of counterfeiters.

UNIMPORTANT ITEM. As far as we know the Esquimaux have never had a fire-prevention week.

ONE GUESS ONLY. "I guess it's time to go," he sighed. "Just as the cuckoo clock struck ten; 'I hope,' the weary maid replied, 'That you won't have to guess again.'"

BUT THEY DON'T R. S. V. P. When a woman enters a crowded street car she mutely extends to the men a "standing" invitation.

AYE, AND WORTH IT. Dear Philo: I notice where an Omaha woman was so extravagant as to pay $90 to a beauty parlor for a permanent wave.

ISN'T IT TRUE? If you're the goods, you've naught to fear. A man will wear his hat's sincere. No trick can down good common sense, And cold facts beat hot arguments.

COME AGAIN. D. J. Lockwood, Omaha, Ia., wins the five iron men by a neck and a collar button, with the following LIMERICK.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

PHILO-SOPHY. An eloquent man is one who can win a poor argument by force of rhetoric. Usually the lower down a man gets the harder up he is.

What a storekeeper finds a lead nickel in the day's receipts he imagines the country is infested by a desperate band of counterfeiters.

UNIMPORTANT ITEM. As far as we know the Esquimaux have never had a fire-prevention week.

ONE GUESS ONLY. "I guess it's time to go," he sighed. "Just as the cuckoo clock struck ten; 'I hope,' the weary maid replied, 'That you won't have to guess again.'"

BUT THEY DON'T R. S. V. P. When a woman enters a crowded street car she mutely extends to the men a "standing" invitation.

AYE, AND WORTH IT. Dear Philo: I notice where an Omaha woman was so extravagant as to pay $90 to a beauty parlor for a permanent wave.

ISN'T IT TRUE? If you're the goods, you've naught to fear. A man will wear his hat's sincere. No trick can down good common sense, And cold facts beat hot arguments.

COME AGAIN. D. J. Lockwood, Omaha, Ia., wins the five iron men by a neck and a collar button, with the following LIMERICK.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

AFTER-THOUGHT. It is better to be a small noise than a big echo. PHILO.

Advertisement for NICHOLAS OILS. Includes a portrait of a man and the text "Business is good thank you" and "L.V. NICHOLAS OIL COMPANY".

Advertisement for WHITELEY THE TIRE AND RADIATOR MAN. Includes a picture of a car and text "We fix anything" and "320 So. 13th St. Phone Doug. 6605".

Advertisement for The Gulbransen Player. Text: "Inspires Better Singing of Better Music! Three Distinct Models. White House model... $700. Country Seat model... $600. Suburban model... $495. Reduced Prices. In mahogany, walnut, and oak cases. Convenient terms of payment."

Advertisement for A. Hospie Co. Text: "To Husbands and Fathers. You plan to support the members of your family for life. Whose life—yours or theirs? The husband and father who cares not what happens to his family after his death need not make a Will or think about the best Executor or Trustee. But such men are few. The usual reason for neglect to make a Will and to consider matters of Estate conservation is not indifference but carelessness. Men do not realize how vital this action is to the future of the family concerned. You owe it to your family to get and read our booklet, 'To Husbands and Fathers.' United States Trust Company. 1612 Farnam Street. Omaha, Nebraska."