

Poisoned Candy Sent to Nurses in Chicago Hospital

Four in Critical Condition After Eating Sweets Sent Through Mail—Police Hunt Sender.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—An exhaustive search for the sender of a box of poisoned candy, responsible for the critical illness of six nurses at the West End hospital, was being conducted today by postoffice inspectors.

The box came through the mail and was addressed to Miss Helen Rosenfeld, a 17-year-old student nurse. It contained home made "fudge" analysis of which by Dr. H. D. Valin, laboratory expert of the institution was said to show that the supposedly deadly poison permeated all the candy.

Miss Rosenfeld came to America nine months ago from Austria and has been a student nurse in the hospital since that time.

In the candy box was a typewritten note bearing the following inscription:

"From a patient who was an ardent admirer. This candy was faithfully made."

The girl invited six other nurses to share the candy with her and within a few minutes all of them became ill.

One of the theories advanced by the postal authorities is that instead of a patient some jealous suitor sent the box to Miss Rosenfeld.

Following a preliminary investigation it was said the authorities had found two brothers, each of whom had paid attention to Miss Rosenfeld. The authorities said each claimed he was engaged to the girl.

Two-Minute Sermons

Written Especially for The Bee by Gipsy Smith

LET YOUR HEART DICTATE

If you get your heart right, you will want your body to be right, too. We can't purify the well by painting the bucket. That is why it is a mistake to spend so much time tinkering with externals instead of dealing with the real, basic things.

There is a savage race in the Orient whose women wear 17 skirts, but that does not make them Christians, or even moral.

As I said in my sermon the other night, "Let your heart dictate, not your head."

Hazlitt, the English essayist, was right when he advised that in any question of moral or spiritual living one who trusted his head alone was most likely to go wrong.

Mind Follows Heart.

This isn't making religion a senseless, blind, foolish thing, for by letting the heart lead, the mind follows, and one comes to believe with all his mind, his strength and his soul.

I believe in setting up the New Testament standard of religion.

People are quick to accept this and say, "That's the thing I want; that's my mother's religion."

Hearing the message in this way they don't shy off.

Demands New Heart.

The New Testament standard is "Ye must be born again."

No man can live a new life with an old heart. He must be converted and become as a child. The new life demands a new heart.

We cannot keep the Ten Commandments as law—they must become more of a personal contract with God. It is the individual God as after—the Last, the Lost, the Least.

Text: For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh. That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.—Romans VIII, 3-4.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. L. K. Andrew, Table Rock; senior vice president, Mrs. Weekly, Lincoln; treasurer, Mrs. Wendle, Falls City.

Lure of Pretty Clothing Too Much for Alliance Woman

Alliance, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A longing for pretty clothes and a depleted pocketbook caused the arrest of Mrs. Hazel Montgomery, waitress in a cafe, on a charge of petit larceny. The complaining witness was Miss Erma Wagner, who told the officers that after she had befriended Mrs. Montgomery by sharing her room with her so that she might save room rent while Mrs. Montgomery was out of work, the latter suddenly departed, taking with her a new dress and other garments belonging to Miss Wagner. Miss Wagner discovered Mrs. Montgomery hurrying to take a train out of the city and notified the officers. Mrs. Montgomery was wearing the missing dress.
