

THE OMAHA BEE

DAILY (MORNING)—EVENING—SUNDAY
THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY
MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BE E TELEPHONES
Private Branch Exchange, 437
For Night Calls After 10 P. M.
AT LANTIC 1000

The Bee's Platform

- 1. New Union Passenger Station.
2. Continued improvement of the Nebraska Highways, including the pavement of Main Thoroughfare leading into Omaha with a Brick Surface.
3. A short, low-rate Waterway from the Corn Belt to the Atlantic Ocean.
4. Home Rule Charter for Omaha, with City Manager form of Government.

Farm Prices and the Reserve System.

The unemployment conference pointed out that the purchasing power of the farmers has been cut two-thirds and recommended the adjustment of prices to give the farmers their fair share.

In face of this the attitude of the Federal Reserve bank of this district has been unchanged. Appeal after appeal has been made, first by Governor McKelvie and later by Nebraska bankers, for a reduction in the rate of discount from 6 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Earhart displays a praiseworthy desire that the monetary system of the United States be kept sound, but it has not been demonstrated that with the huge reserve and the accumulated profits the granting of lower rates and more generous conditions for acceptance of agricultural paper would endanger the system.

Everybody realizes that the sessions of congress have been long and arduous for years; members have been in Washington almost continuously since 1913; vacations have been short and infrequent, and generally a great deal has been required of the national legislature.

With the important revenue measure given the right-of-way over the tariff bill, the leaders of the majority party are not only anxious but insistent that republican senators give attention to the redemption of the party's platform pledges.

The demand of the Nebraska bankers for lower rediscunt rates and more liberal credit is to be endorsed. Agriculture must be assisted by every government agency to get on a paying basis.

Boyhood's love of mystery and longing for power find satisfaction today in other ways than by digging caves, searching for buried treasure or wishing to be a pirate or a policeman.

Many toys manufactured for the enjoyment of children run by electricity. A ride on the street car, a call over the telephone, a ring at the doorbell or the turning on of a light puts them in daily contact with one of the greatest of modern wonders.

The proposal that the United States guarantee the safety of Germany from attack would have had a queer sound during the late war, or even before the war.

The senseless arrangement of railroad tariffs is exposed clearly by the complaint that cement shipped from Superior down into Kansas a few miles and then back to Nebraska has been getting a lower rate than if shipped direct without going out of the state.

Perhaps you noticed that Babe Ruth did not succumb to the call of duty until it was made plain to him that the $1,000 a day he expected as an outlaw was not to be forthcoming any longer.

Politics in Portugal continues to hold something of interest, if only to the officials, who wonder when their turn will come to be assassinated.

Why wouldn't it be wise to let the railroad managers and men make a truce, and then proceed as Sinn Fein and Lloyd George are doing?

German chemists say the mixture which caused the explosion at Oppau was wrongly compounded. Evidently.

Opening of corn husking season has had a marked effect on unemployment in this neck-o-the-woods.

Ford. And it sometimes appears that the men in charge of the transportation lines themselves are not fully alive either to the responsibilities or possibilities of their positions.

Some material relief to the farmers is promised by the reduction in freight rates on grain, grain products and hay, just ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Now that the Interstate Commerce commission has its hand in, it may well take up the matter of rates on fuel and building material, which still are too high.

Commissioner Browne of the Nebraska board estimates a saving to the shippers of $3,000,000 a year on the outbound stuff alone.

One of the difficulties encountered by the republican majority in the senate of late has been the absence of senators from the chamber.

Everybody realizes that the sessions of congress have been long and arduous for years; members have been in Washington almost continuously since 1913.

With the important revenue measure given the right-of-way over the tariff bill, the leaders of the majority party are not only anxious but insistent that republican senators give attention to the redemption of the party's platform pledges.

The demand of the Nebraska bankers for lower rediscunt rates and more liberal credit is to be endorsed. Agriculture must be assisted by every government agency to get on a paying basis.

Boyhood's love of mystery and longing for power find satisfaction today in other ways than by digging caves, searching for buried treasure or wishing to be a pirate or a policeman.

Many toys manufactured for the enjoyment of children run by electricity. A ride on the street car, a call over the telephone, a ring at the doorbell or the turning on of a light puts them in daily contact with one of the greatest of modern wonders.

The proposal that the United States guarantee the safety of Germany from attack would have had a queer sound during the late war, or even before the war.

The senseless arrangement of railroad tariffs is exposed clearly by the complaint that cement shipped from Superior down into Kansas a few miles and then back to Nebraska has been getting a lower rate than if shipped direct without going out of the state.

Perhaps you noticed that Babe Ruth did not succumb to the call of duty until it was made plain to him that the $1,000 a day he expected as an outlaw was not to be forthcoming any longer.

Politics in Portugal continues to hold something of interest, if only to the officials, who wonder when their turn will come to be assassinated.

Why wouldn't it be wise to let the railroad managers and men make a truce, and then proceed as Sinn Fein and Lloyd George are doing?

German chemists say the mixture which caused the explosion at Oppau was wrongly compounded. Evidently.

Opening of corn husking season has had a marked effect on unemployment in this neck-o-the-woods.

Old King Corn may go to market like a monarch yet.

Uncle Sam is a busy old person these days.

Leadership in Democracy

Senate Vote on Panama Canal Tolls Bill Shows Its Need
(From the Boston Transcript)

The passage of the Panama tolls bill, we are told, shows the failure of senate leadership. Both the republican and democratic leaders deprecated such action by the senate, but were impotent to prevent it.

Such is the facile comment of the thoughtless, or of the malicious; the comment of those who maintain the assumption that the republican and democratic leadership in the senate is not so much leadership as dictatorship.

In that predicament, they chose, apparently, to pursue not merely the course of least resistance, but also that course, which, in the last analysis, is most accordant with the principles of democracy and of republican government.

When the Colorado river had burst its banks and was flooding the Imperial valley converting it into the Salton sea, private corporations and even the federal government were called upon to help.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. W. A. Evans
Questions concerning hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, submitted to Dr. Evans by members of The Bee, will be answered personally, subject to space limitations, where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed.

EPES RANDOLPH IS DEAD.
Epes Randolph, president of most of the Southern Pacific interests in the far southwest, died recently at Tucson.

When about 25 he laid out the Southern Pacific main line west of San Antonio. Later he built and managed the electric system of the Los Angeles and California.

When the Colorado river had burst its banks and was flooding the Imperial valley converting it into the Salton sea, private corporations and even the federal government were called upon to help.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

Leadership in a democracy is not an easy thing. It cannot properly assert itself through coercion or dictation, any more than through physical force.

The Bee's Letter Box

Also Admires Dudley.
Omaha, Oct. 21.—To the Editor of The Bee: I want to join A. Leo Stevens in his praise and recommendation of Traffic Officer Dudley.

What is the difference between a laboring man and a farmer? Let's take a guess who works eight hours with pay. A farmer is one who works 16 hours without pay.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

Economics and Long Skirts

(From the New Haven Courier-Journal.)
We have paid little or no attention to the decree of the Paris dress-makers that longer skirts must take the place of the short skirts this winter and spring.

It appears that we are wrong and that as a matter of fact it is of economic importance whether at this time the skirts are to be short or long. The government experts have been studying the problem and have concluded that if the Paris decree is obeyed—from which we had supposed there was no escape—25,000,000 yards of cloth will be manufactured and sold over and above the demand of last season.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

There can be no such thing as the disarmament parley. One for each of her dreadnaughts.—Nashville Banner.

Young People and Amusements

How hard it is to find the golden mean! Just when the more liberal elements in the Methodist church clamor for the lifting of the bans imposed by the Book of Discipline on amusements, 14 Episcopal congregations in Louisville make a simultaneous drive against what are coming to be known as jazz amusements, jazz music and jazz dances.

The proposal that the United States guarantee the safety of Germany from attack would have had a queer sound during the late war, or even before the war.

The senseless arrangement of railroad tariffs is exposed clearly by the complaint that cement shipped from Superior down into Kansas a few miles and then back to Nebraska has been getting a lower rate than if shipped direct without going out of the state.

Perhaps you noticed that Babe Ruth did not succumb to the call of duty until it was made plain to him that the $1,000 a day he expected as an outlaw was not to be forthcoming any longer.

Politics in Portugal continues to hold something of interest, if only to the officials, who wonder when their turn will come to be assassinated.

Why wouldn't it be wise to let the railroad managers and men make a truce, and then proceed as Sinn Fein and Lloyd George are doing?

German chemists say the mixture which caused the explosion at Oppau was wrongly compounded. Evidently.

Opening of corn husking season has had a marked effect on unemployment in this neck-o-the-woods.

Children's Weights.

Table with 2 columns: Age, Weight.
10 years..... 55 to 71 pounds
11 years..... 61 to 78 pounds
12 years..... 67 to 85 pounds
13 years..... 73 to 92 pounds
14 years..... 79 to 100 pounds
15 years..... 85 to 110 pounds

Send for Pamphlet.
M. D. writes: "I have great trouble every month owing to painful menstruation. I am 18 years old and have been suffering for the last 16 months. Will you kindly advise me what to do?"

You can overcome this in all probability by regulating your bowels, taking tepid baths frequently and exercising. Send a stamped addressed envelope for pamphlet. Dr. C. D. Mosher has a very good little book on the subject which is sold by the Y. W. C. A.

Bran Bread is Good.
Mother writes: "I. What should be the weight of a little girl 2 1/2 years old? Her height is three and one-third feet. 2. She often complains of her stomach hurting. What foods would be best for her?"

1. About 35 pounds.
2. About a pint of milk a day. Bread, preferably whole wheat or bran; cooked cereals; fruits except those that are very sour; cooked vegetables except corn and cucumbers; fresh meats and eggs, simple desserts, especially those containing fruit, milk, cream or plain ice cream. No candy. No food between meals.

Borrowing Habit.
Some neighbors will borrow anything except the baby.—Harrisburg Patriot.

THE NEW GODS.
The old gods, the gay gods, the gods of Rome and Greece, forgotten all their oracles, their prophecies, their peace.

THE NEW GODS.
The old gods, the gay gods, the gods of Rome and Greece, forgotten all their oracles, their prophecies, their peace.

THE NEW GODS.
The old gods, the gay gods, the gods of Rome and Greece, forgotten all their oracles, their prophecies, their peace.

Not a Peck of Ashes to the Ton
If You Burn
Petroleum Carbon
The Ashless Fuel
ALL HEAT... NO WASTE
PETROLEUM CARBON is the carbon of the crude oil --it is not made from coal as is the case with all other cokes.
The fire is as easily regulated in mild weather as on zero days.
THE SHERIDAN COAL COMPANY
Wholesale Distributors
Douglas 2226 W. O. W. Building OMAHA, NEBR.