

Equalization Of Reserve Bank Rates Predicted

District Governors and Members of Federal Board Agree To Recommend Uniform Charge in All Districts.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington, Oct. 28.—There is a gleam of light ahead, insofar as the interest rate charged by the federal reserve bank in the Tenth federal district affects loans on agricultural products and farms, growing out of the meeting of the members of the federal reserve board with the governors of all the district banks which have been in session in Washington this week.

Nebraska agricultural interests have been greatly perturbed over the seeming disparity between the interest charge in other reserve districts and in the tenth, and the members of congress from the prairie state are in receipt of a series of resolutions passed by the state banking association asking them to get busy and bring about a reduction of interest charges.

This, it is believed, will be brought about in the very near future, for it is understood that the governors of all the districts to the south of the members of the federal reserve board, have unanimously agreed to recommend a uniform rate of interest in all reserve districts in the United States.

Just when this notice will go out is a matter of conjecture, but it is generally agreed that the governors of the several reserve districts realize the importance of making a reduction to meet agricultural demands and so far as they are concerned they indicate a willingness to cooperate in stabilizing conditions in the middle west.

Congressman McLaughlin, who has interested himself particularly in matters of this character, said that he had a conversation with Governor Harding of the reserve board today and that he felt that recommendations for relief to the severely distressed sections of the western country would be issued within a very short time.

Romance in Origin Of Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING.
Sunday's Baby.

There are several current superstitions with regard to birth and babyhood which are clearly related to sun-worship. Some of them have already been noticed in this series. The superstition which is general in the United States and is found also in England, which assigns Sunday as a propitious day on which to be born is one of these survivals from the days of our remote sun-worshipping ancestors.

The bairn that is born on fair Sunday is bonny and loving and blith and gay.

Is the way they put it in Massachusetts and in New York they say: "The child that is born on the Sabbath day is blith and bonny, good and gay."

In many sections the saying runs: "Sunday's child shall never know want." This superstition is of close kin to the one which says that the baby must be taken first into the sun on Sunday—a superstition already noticed. There is another common superstition which connects the sun with that important event in a person's life, his birth. It is the one which says that "Thursday has one lucky hour, just before sunrise, for birth." The superstition under discussion is a survival of the ancient idea that the child born on the day dedicated to the sun is under special protection of the sun-god. We have dedicated the first and the second days of the week to the sun and the moon, respectively, and the remaining five to other heathen gods. So it is not at all surprising that concomitant superstitions still exist in modern folk-lore.

AT THE THEATERS

"WORLD OF FROLIC" will be presented by Dave Marion and his orchestra this afternoon. The cast will include "Billie" Billy Watson, Lillian Lillian, Jack Cameron, Nell Vernon, Lillian Lillian, Ray Fagan, and Ed Loufing, together with a noted chorus of young beauties make "World of Frolic" one of the best burlesques shown ever produced. Tomorrow's matinee starts at 2.

There is nothing like it, and nothing just as good. The above applies to that wonderful musical, "Twin Beds." Year after year, it continues to attract record receipts wherever played. With a superb cast and production "Twin Beds" is the magnet at the Strand theater to-day and tomorrow, with two performances daily, matinee and evening.

One of the most popular shows the Orpheum has had all this season, headed by Joseph H. Howard and company, is to terminate with tonight's performance. The curtain, as usual for the concluding show, is to rise at 8 o'clock. With the matinee tomorrow Mary Boland will contribute one of the stellar attractions. She is to appear in the one-act play "The Thousand Dollars." Miss Boland was for a consecutive season with the Orpheum with John Drew. "Tunes of the Hour" will be offered by Gladys Chalmers, the singer, as the other stellar attraction. They are capable of being assisted by the Dale Sisters and Jack Landauer, with Bobby Roth at the piano. The bill is to have two featured acts in addition to the headline offerings.

One of the recognized stage beauties is Polly Wilson, appearing at the Empress today. Her costumes are marvels of sartorial art and are on a par with her own beauty. On the same program is Ben Marks, one of the best exponents of "hat" comedy that has appeared here in some time. The stellar act of the show is provided by the Florida Four, a singing quartet who were big at the vaudeville both at home and abroad. Willis Hale and company complete the standard bill with a hilarious and sensational head to hand balancing act.

Madame Bony Hammer, the great Norwegian actress from the National Theater of Christiania, Norway, will appear at the Strand theater for one performance only on Sunday evening.

Madame Hammer will be seen here in "The Master Builder," by Henrik Ibsen. Her bill is considered a notable and distinguished cast to attract these two popular artists.

More Truth Than Poetry

PUT NOT YOUR FAITH IN PRINCES

The average king, as we've often remarked, Without a suggestion of malice, Is never so happy as when he is parked In a large and luxurious palace. In fact, so attached to the cinch they have got The monarchs all over the globe are, That they cling to their sceptres unless they are shot Or pried from their thrones with a crow bar.

Yet over in Paris there recently sat A king who expressed the opinion That the very last place he would hang up his hat Was his own and ancestral domain. "The glory," said he, "of a glittering throne Is something I don't think a thing of; I'd rather sell sox on the Castiglione Than reign in the land I am king of."

Uncovered at last was a pretty romance; Notwithstanding his regal connections, A lissome and lovely young lady of France Had captured the monarch's affections. If he didn't attend to the duties of state While courting the glorious creature, His subjects would probably give him the gate; Then hot for the ring and the preacher!

But this, bear in mind, was a few weeks ago When a King, though he had the endurance To sit on his throne for a fortnight or so, Couldn't possibly hope for insurance. But now, when it's safe in the royal domain— (Ah! Princes should never be trusted) He is back there conducting his regular reign And the Paris engagement is busted.

Bessie Love's appearance with Sessue Hayakawa in "The Swamp" will be of particular interest to the many fan admirers of these two stars. Miss Love, herself a star, was delighted to appear with Mr. Hayakawa since the role gives her an opportunity for greater dramatic work than it has ever been possible for her to portray.

Germany Still Looking

For Ambassador to U. S. Berlin, Oct. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—The German government is still endeavoring to find a man willing to accept the post as ambassador to the United States, but available candidates are becoming more scarce as the mark depreciates in value.

Very few possible candidates are willing to assume the financial burden of upholding the social rank of an ambassador in Washington, where the cost of living, it is believed in some quarters here, would be especially heavy on a German resident.

The latest candidate to be considered is Prince Von Hatfeldt-Trachenberg, former counselor of the German embassy at Washington, and now commissioner of the occupied Rhineland zone. He is a son-in-law of Baron Von Sturm, a former German diplomat, and a leading industrialist of the Saar region.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "gulliness" and that lacy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lacy" and "heavy." They "clear" cloudy brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 25c.

Pep' Rally Held At Central High

Enthusiasm Meeting Staged On Eve of Beatrice Game.

Central high school students held a "pep" meeting Friday to develop enthusiasm for the Beatrice-Central game which will be played this afternoon at 3:30 at the Buffalo Western league park. All members of the team were on the stage and a number of them made talks to the student body. Captain Lyle Horner, who has secured an appointment to Annapolis, urged the attendance of every student. Galloway, who plays tackle, also made a short talk.

The speeches were followed by selections by the school orchestra, under the direction of Byron Grunwald. Dr. Mulligan, former athletic coach of Central high, gave a talk on the psychological part which the rooters must play. Mac Ohman then put on a little stunt for the entertainment of the students.

The prizes for the ad selling contest for the High School Register were then presented by Principal Masters. George Warner, winner of first prize, received a beautiful white sweater. The second on the list, Kate Goldstein, received an Eastman kodak while Jessie Baldwin, third prize winner, was presented with a gold engraved fountain pen. During the intermission the cheer leaders led in a number of yells and at the close of the meeting the students joined in singing "Omaha."

Estates Worth $100,000 Are Disposed of By Wills

Two wills filed yesterday in county court disposed of property valued at more than $100,000.

Emil W. Gunther, who died October 6, leaves a farm of 200 acres to his son C. Gunther, a bequest of $25 monthly to a brother and sister, $1,000 each to the University of Omaha and the Old People's Home, and the balance to his wife. His estate is valued at $78,000.

The will of Paul J. Hoagland, who died August 15, leaves an estate of $44,000 to the widow and four sons.

EXPERIENCE OF NEW YORK WOMAN IS REMARKABLE

Mrs. Lehman Had Suffered Ten Years From Indigestion—In Splendid Health Now.

"I suffered for 10 years from nervous indigestion. I had no appetite and always felt miserable. I was in such a serious condition I thought my time for this world was getting short. My food didn't seem to nourish me at all and I only weighed 85 pounds."

"After taking Tanlac, I now weigh 108 and am gaining every day. Oh! there is such a wonderful change now. Tanlac relieved my troubles so quickly it surprised me. My appetite is splendid. I have plenty of strength and feel better than I have in years. I wouldn't take one thousand dollars for what Tanlac did for me."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Clara Lehman, Bristol Hotel, Rochester, N. Y.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by the Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.
