The first half of the Gipsy Smith revival campaign came to a close Friday night at the Auditorium with a splendid meeting for the young Net Tightening folk of the city. In the first two weeks of the campaign, young and old alike have become intensely interested in the revival and "back to the church" movement which has been led by Gipsy Smith, the mes-senger of Christ on five continents and a religious worker for 35 years. All church and campaign officials express satisfaction at the progress the revival has made

Few Mistakes Made.

"There is always a certain amount of ground work and preliminary struggle that must be gone through in a movement of this kind before it begins to shape its course and run smoothly," the Rev. Titus Lowe said in commenting on the revival.

The plans we had settled on necessarily had to be changed at times to meet unexpected circumstances and as we were all inexperienced in a work of this magnitude, we had to make a few mistakes before we could learn many important things.

Preliminaries Are Over. "We have got over all the preliminary work and the next two weeks will go off with a bang," the minister said.

Gipsy Smith and his corps of rements: ligious workers are of the same opinion, namely that the next two near the spot where the body of the weeks of the campaign will see priest was found early Wednesday packed houses each night and thou-morning on Poor Man's Guich highsands rededicated to Christ's work. / way, where he had been shot down The raising of the campaign budget from $15,000 to $18,000 was one of the important things done last

Influence Not Local.

Another interesting feature has developed and that is, the influence of the revival is not local. Many persons who have their homes in adjacent states have come to the meetings and have signed pledge These cards are to be forwarded to pastors in the signers' home town. Then too many Omahans who have an intense interest the country.

Thousands Greet Foch By Land and Sea

Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies, upon his arrivel in New York received a welcome such as has not been experienced since the armistice day of 1918. The thunderous din in the harbor, along the water front and along the line of march of the famed old fighter has never been equalled. Cannon on Governor's Island boomed out a deafening salute, transAtlantic steamships vied with tugs and ferryboats with earsplitting blasts of their sirens, and hundreds of river and harbor craft of every description sent out a shrill ovation that added to the gigantic roar. The city, state and nation formally greeted the celebrated marshal when he stepped foot on American shores. The photograph shows Mayor Hylan shaking hands with Marshal Foch. On the right is Governor Miller and on the left Rodman Wanamaker.
