

Aviators Thrill Sightseers at Congress Field

Hundreds Visit North Omaha Flying Park Sunday and Inspect Planes Here for Aero Meet.

The North Omaha airplane field, where the International Aero congress will be held next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, was the Mecca of sightseers yesterday. Five small but speedy planes, set up for the races during the meet, were inspected by the spectators who thronged or motored their way through mire to the field.

Activities of Women

North Platte, Neb.—Officers of the North Platte chapter of the P. O. assisted in the initiation of a new chapter at Ogallala with a membership of 14. Mrs. Nell Grantham of Lexington, state organizer, conducted the institutional ceremony.

Easton Star Banquet. North Platte, Neb.—H. H. Andrews of Callaway, grand patron of the Order of the Easton Star, officially visited the chapter of this city and was entertained at a banquet at which over 100 members were seated. The North Platte chapter is classed as one of the most active in the state.

Entertain Teachers. Darwell, Neb.—The Darwell Domestic Science club gave a reception to the teachers and a program at the high school building. It was the first event of the kind and was liberally patronized.

Legion Is Entertained. Geneva, Neb.—The women of the American Legion entertained the legion at a Halloween party at the legion room last night. Sixty guests were present. Mrs. J. K. Waring is president of the women's auxiliary of Post 45 and Miss Regina Cook, secretary.

Hold Curio Exhibit. Sutton, Neb.—The D. A. R. P. E. O. and Bay View club gave an art-curio exhibit at the library for the benefit of the new book fund. Over 2,000 different articles were on exhibition for two days. The exhibit was a surprising display of quilts, hand-woven blankets and wearing apparel of grandmother days. It was historical and educational. A copy of the blue laws of Connecticut, a bit of rock which the capitol at Washington is built, a fragment of alabaster, a bit of the window sill, brought away by a missionary. Also specimens of handicraft from India, China, Japan, Russia, and western Europe. Miss Oscar Swanson hand-carved "cells" and spun them a small oval for yarn to knit socks. Indian curiosities predominated as a class.

Church Dinner. Columbia, Neb.—The women of the Federated church gave a dinner in compliance to women members of the Presbyterian and Congregational churches, now consolidated into the Federated church, and specifically arranged for members who had reached their 70th year. Over 80 women were in attendance, many of them in the 80s and a few in the 90s. The affair took the form of a jollification, with addresses by Mrs. Choldigan, Judge W. L. Henney, J. H. Galley and Rev. E. Booth.

Pawnee City, Neb.—The First Presbyterian church of this city held a reception in the church parlors for a welcome to the many new members taken into the church after their revival meetings held here recently. The affair was held as a Halloween party, the decorations being of witches, jack-o-lanterns and the like. The waitresses wore witch makeups.

Business Changes

Teunisch, Neb.—Harold S. Halsted of this city has bought the Guy clothing store in Teunisch. The store was originally owned by A. L. Guy of Wakefield, Kan., who operates a store at Wakefield. Mr. Halsted has been in the clothing business of deputy county treasurer of Johnson county, but now declines. Treasurer A. Lawrence has named as successor of Teunisch for the piece. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of John Webb, who went to Brownville to accept the superintendency of schools.

Liberty Store Sold. Liberty, Neb.—Charles C. Cocker and Charles Doty have purchased the stock of the Gore mercantile company, which handles a complete line of general merchandise.

Sell Butcher Shop. Geneva, Neb.—The meat market of Good Brothers has been purchased by Schweitzer and Swanson of Staplehurst, who take possession November 1.

Trade Farm for Garage. Teunisch, Neb.—R. M. Cayon has traded his quarter section farm south of Teunisch for Clarence Rader's garage and repair shop in Auburn. Mr. Cayon will move his family to Auburn in about two weeks and take charge of his new business.

Bakery Is Closed. Fairbury, Neb.—A. F. Bergeron has closed the Purdy bakery and taken an interest in the Home bakery with his brother and sister. This leaves but two bakeries in Fairbury.

First Land Deal. Callaway, Neb.—The first land deal here for some time occurred when Charles Ryan, residing west of here, traded his 25-acre farm for a garage in Brady Island.

Deaths

John Williams. Beatrice, Neb.—John Williams, 27, for three years a brakeman on the Burlington between Wynora and Lincoln, died at Lincoln. He was the son of Mrs. J. J. Williams, old resident of Lincoln. The body was taken to Wynora for burial.

W. E. Johnson. Wayne, Neb.—The body of W. E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson of Omaha, who died in Chicago following a fall in which he sustained a broken hip. For 10 years he had resided on a farm east of this city.

Miss Mary Holter. Broken Bow, Neb.—Funeral services for Miss Mary Holter, who was fatally injured in an auto accident within the city limits of Ansley, were held at the Catholic church. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "death from unavoidable accident."

E. C. Booth. Schuyler, Neb.—The funeral of E. C. Booth, son of Mrs. S. L. Booth, was held in the First Presbyterian church, Rev. G. M. Giddis officiating. Mr. Booth died at Norfolk after months of sickness.

Capt. D. F. Baker. North Platte, Neb.—Capt. D. F. Baker, for 24 years a resident of Lincoln county and for 12 years superintendent of the Ft. McPherson national cemetery, died in a hospital where he was taken following a fall in which he sustained a broken hip. For 10 years he had resided on a farm east of this city.

Modern Adam Comes to Grief Over Modern Eve and Apple

Norfolk Boy Who Escaped From Father Flanagan's Home Blames "Woman" for Starting Him on Trip From Home—Sick Rival Blames Youth for "Eve's" Act.

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The story of Eve and the apple in a modern day edition came to light here in the capture of Frankie Martin, 13, with rusty red hair and an abundance of freckles, who ran away from Father Flanagan's home about two weeks ago.

Frankie's latest mysterious departure occurred at Norfolk, when he left on account of a "woman." The "woman" in the case was the little girl who lived in the house next door to Frankie. According to the little runaway, he and the little girl made a visit to a sick playmate.

While the two youngsters were chatting with a sick friend, runs Frankie's story, some one brought a nice red apple into the room, apparently for the patient.

Then the serpent of Adam's time appeared in the form of a distinct craving on the part of Eve's descendant, who was unable to resist the appeal of the delicious fruit. Eve-like, she munched the apple that later proved the downfall of her Adam.

The sick boy's daddy came into the room and found that the apple was gone. This alleged ogre, so described by Frankie, demanded to know who ate the apple.

Hoping to shield the "woman"—like in the movie scenes—the little boy acting as host—pointed his finger accusingly at Frankie.

Frankie says now, between gulps, necessitated by requirements of national defense, as the paramount duty of the navy of this or any other country should be the protection of the nation against possible foreign aggression. Japan is prepared to accept reduction of her navy if, and so long as, the exigencies of its national defense are thereby duly satisfied.

Q. To what extent should fortifications in the Pacific be reduced as a guarantee to peace? A. The Pacific fortifications should be reduced in accordance with the same considerations as indicated before.

Q. Are not economic and similar questions the basis of all armaments and should not these be settled first? China and the far eastern republic have refused negotiations, what is the best method of adjusting the Shantung and Siberian questions; with these questions disposed of, what other questions disturb the peace of the Orient and what is the best means of adjustment?

A. The Japanese are firmly convinced of the justice in their case in the Shantung question. No effort has been and will be spared on the part of Japan to settle this question to her mutual satisfaction, it being our constant hope that China will embark on negotiations in a conciliatory spirit and settle this question once and for all on the conditions laid down in our recent communications. As to Siberia, Japan is still in the course of negotiations with the far eastern republic and it is expected that a definite settlement will be arrived at before long.

Q. What are Japan's aims at the conference? A. Japan accepted President Harding's invitation, prompted solely by a strong desire to bring about thorough and harmonious co-operation with the United States and other powers and to make whatever contribution it can toward the realization of the lofty ideals the president had in view in calling the conference. No nation is more vitally interested than Japan in the maintenance of peace in the Pacific and the far east.

Based on Coast Lines. Q. Should disarmament be based on population or what method should govern an equitable reduction? A. Japan sincerely hopes an outspoken exchange of views on the subject of disarmament, as well as the Pacific and far eastern problems, may result in a furtherance of a good understanding among the powers concerned and in the recognition of the legitimate interests in each power represented at Washington. At the same time Japan believes that an equitable reduction should be based on a sole consideration of national security, having due regard not merely to the area or population, but to the length of the littoral lines, the geographical or topographical conditions, etc., of the country in question.

Q. Would a status quo of the present navies be acceptable, or should some other proportion be reached, either by further building of certain navies or reducing of others? A. Whether a status quo is acceptable or some other proportion should be arranged depends entirely on whether the existing ratio is

Man Fined $250 on Liquor Charge, Held Second Time. North Platte, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Harry Stacey, who was fined $250 for the illegal sale and possession of liquor and for keeping a disorderly house, paid his fine and three days later was again arrested for selling liquor. He will have his hearing this week.

Marriages. Howe-Wilson. Barneston, Neb.—J. M. Howe, prominent farmer and banker, was married to Mrs. Nora Wilson, sister of the late Mrs. Howe, at Atlantic, Monday. They will reside in Barneston.

Gardner-Carlson. Plattsmouth, Neb.—Clara L. Gardner, son of Edith Gardner of the Belle Ben hospital at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., following his return from France was married in Chicago to Miss Nellie Carlson of Des Moines, Ia., who nursed him through the greater part of his confinement to the hospital.

Triggs-Huckett. Wynora, Neb.—William H. Triggs and Miss Florence Huckett were married in Marysville, Kan., by Judge Potter. The affair was kept a secret until the arrival of a Marysville paper. Mr. Triggs is a machinist with this business and the bride is the daughter of Master Mechanic George Huckett.

Richardson-McMillan. Oakbrook, Neb.—Bryan R. Richardson and Miss Clara Belle McMillan were married at the Methodist parsonage yesterday afternoon and will make their home at Eustis, that being the home of the groom.

Bookstool-Rudge. Callaway, Neb.—Miss Margaret Rudge of Sand Valley and Glenn Bookstool of Redfern Table were married at Broken Bow.

Rock Island Lines announce important changes in schedules, effective Sunday, October 30th, 1921. Train No. 6 will leave Omaha 3:20 p. m. instead of 3:00 p. m., making important station stops only. Train No. 14 will leave Omaha 5 p. m. instead of 6:05 p. m., making local station stops between Omaha and Des Moines. Local trains Nos. 27 and 28, between Omaha and Belleville, will be discontinued. —Advertisement

Pressure Behind Tax Revision Bill Eases in Senate

Negotiations Looking to Agreement for Date for Final Vote Fall Through—Two Amendments Passed.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Pressure behind the tax revision bill eased off perceptibly in the senate after it had become apparent that there was small prospect of a final vote before the middle of next week. Negotiations between the majority and the minority looking to an agreement for a day for a final vote fell through. Later democratic leaders estimated that the bill might be passed by Wednesday or Thursday. Some senators on the majority side thought the vote would come by Tuesday, while there were other estimates that it might be delayed until Saturday.

"We have now broken the back of the movement to force this bill through without proper consideration," said Senator Simmons of North Carolina, democrat.

Only two amendments were disposed of today. Under one change adopted on motion of Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, income tax returns would be open to inspection by direction of either house of congress. Under existing law, they are opened for inspection only on orders of the president. Senator Reed launched his fight for the soldiers' bonus which he has proposed shall be paid out of funds obtained by continuing the excess profits tax. He declared his amendment was designed "to pay the bonus from the profits of the war profiteers."

"I am only taking the funds," he said, turning to the republicans, "that you propose to throw away and leave in the hands of the profiteers. You can put this money in the hands of the soldiers and not seriously affect the fiscal policy of the government. That answers all arguments raised against the bonus by the president's letter."

Reading the message of President Harding and the letter of Secretary Mellon opposing the bonus at present, Senator Reed charged that it was the republican plan to "kill" the bonus bill.

"Columbus C. of C. Secures Two Conventions for City. Columbus, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, the state convention of the Travelers Protective association will meet in Columbus in April of 1922.

The local chamber is at present engaged in handling the annual drive for the Salvation Army home service. Last year the efforts of this body resulted in contributing over $400 to the army. The same body secured the Elks state convention for Columbus. It will be held in May, 1922.

County Agents of State Hold Meet

General Subjects Are Discussed at Fremont Conference.

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—County agents representing nine Nebraska counties gathered in Fremont for a conference and general discussion of office and field methods and duties. The counties represented were Holt, Dakota, Thurston, Cumming, Madison, Platte, Colfax, Dodge and Washington. K. C. Fouts, Cumming county, led a discussion on animal husbandry and dwelt upon pig clubs and disease control. H. E. Huston, Thurston county, reported on poultry work and accredited flock project. Miss Mable Lucado, home agent for the same county, discussed clothing and health in rural communities. Agent Nye of Holt county took up the project of rodent control, while Mrs. Blackburn of Platte county spoke on crop and soil problems. Dr. H. C. Kersten, government veterinarian, located in Fremont, described the system of tuberculosis testing of cattle on the area, community and herd plans.

Director W. H. Brokaw, county agent leader, R. E. Holland and home leader, Miss Stella Mather, from the college of agriculture, were in attendance at the conference. In nearly every case, the county agents brought their stenographers or office

County Agents of State Hold Meet

General Subjects Are Discussed at Fremont Conference.

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—County agents representing nine Nebraska counties gathered in Fremont for a conference and general discussion of office and field methods and duties. The counties represented were Holt, Dakota, Thurston, Cumming, Madison, Platte, Colfax, Dodge and Washington. K. C. Fouts, Cumming county, led a discussion on animal husbandry and dwelt upon pig clubs and disease control. H. E. Huston, Thurston county, reported on poultry work and accredited flock project. Miss Mable Lucado, home agent for the same county, discussed clothing and health in rural communities. Agent Nye of Holt county took up the project of rodent control, while Mrs. Blackburn of Platte county spoke on crop and soil problems. Dr. H. C. Kersten, government veterinarian, located in Fremont, described the system of tuberculosis testing of cattle on the area, community and herd plans.

Director W. H. Brokaw, county agent leader, R. E. Holland and home leader, Miss Stella Mather, from the college of agriculture, were in attendance at the conference. In nearly every case, the county agents brought their stenographers or office

Alleged Automobile Tire Thief Is Found Not Guilty

Callaway, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Harry Rudge of Broken Bow, who was arrested last spring, charged with stealing automobile tires from the Fierks garage in Broken Bow, was found not guilty at his trial in district court.

Write for Our New Style Circular—FREE

Send a postal today for our latest circular right off the press. Contains many reasonable suggestions to make your garments more attractive at less cost. We do all kinds of Pleating, Embroidering, Hemstitching, Buttons, Etc. Excellent workmanship guaranteed. Careful attention given to all mail orders. Prompt service. Send for this free circular today. IDEAL BUTTON AND PLEATING CO. 311 Brown Block, Omaha, Neb. "Largest business of its kind in the country."

Pure as milk can be With the cream left in!

Japan's Stand on Armament Based on Coast Lines

Premier Hara Discusses With Frankness Issues at Coming International Conference in United States.

By CHARLES DAILEY. Chicago Tribune Cable Copyright, 1921.

Tokio, Oct. 30.—The Tribune's correspondent has secured an important interview with Premier Hara of Japan, who discussed frankly the Washington issues. Owing to the fact that the premier speaks no English, the questions were submitted in writing and his answers were translated into English. The interview was submitted to the cabinet before it was returned to the correspondent. Therefore it represents the full view of the government and indicates that Japan's stand on disarmament will be based on coast lines and the problems which it involves rather than on population, revenues or other angles which have been suggested.

Q. What are Japan's aims at the conference? A. Japan accepted President Harding's invitation, prompted solely by a strong desire to bring about thorough and harmonious co-operation with the United States and other powers and to make whatever contribution it can toward the realization of the lofty ideals the president had in view in calling the conference. No nation is more vitally interested than Japan in the maintenance of peace in the Pacific and the far east.

Based on Coast Lines. Q. Should disarmament be based on population or what method should govern an equitable reduction? A. Japan sincerely hopes an outspoken exchange of views on the subject of disarmament, as well as the Pacific and far eastern problems, may result in a furtherance of a good understanding among the powers concerned and in the recognition of the legitimate interests in each power represented at Washington. At the same time Japan believes that an equitable reduction should be based on a sole consideration of national security, having due regard not merely to the area or population, but to the length of the littoral lines, the geographical or topographical conditions, etc., of the country in question.

Q. Would a status quo of the present navies be acceptable, or should some other proportion be reached, either by further building of certain navies or reducing of others? A. Whether a status quo is acceptable or some other proportion should be arranged depends entirely on whether the existing ratio is

Man Fined $250 on Liquor Charge, Held Second Time. North Platte, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Harry Stacey, who was fined $250 for the illegal sale and possession of liquor and for keeping a disorderly house, paid his fine and three days later was again arrested for selling liquor. He will have his hearing this week.

Marriages. Howe-Wilson. Barneston, Neb.—J. M. Howe, prominent farmer and banker, was married to Mrs. Nora Wilson, sister of the late Mrs. Howe, at Atlantic, Monday. They will reside in Barneston.

Gardner-Carlson. Plattsmouth, Neb.—Clara L. Gardner, son of Edith Gardner of the Belle Ben hospital at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., following his return from France was married in Chicago to Miss Nellie Carlson of Des Moines, Ia., who nursed him through the greater part of his confinement to the hospital.

Triggs-Huckett. Wynora, Neb.—William H. Triggs and Miss Florence Huckett were married in Marysville, Kan., by Judge Potter. The affair was kept a secret until the arrival of a Marysville paper. Mr. Triggs is a machinist with this business and the bride is the daughter of Master Mechanic George Huckett.

Richardson-McMillan. Oakbrook, Neb.—Bryan R. Richardson and Miss Clara Belle McMillan were married at the Methodist parsonage yesterday afternoon and will make their home at Eustis, that being the home of the groom.

Bookstool-Rudge. Callaway, Neb.—Miss Margaret Rudge of Sand Valley and Glenn Bookstool of Redfern Table were married at Broken Bow.

Rock Island Lines announce important changes in schedules, effective Sunday, October 30th, 1921. Train No. 6 will leave Omaha 3:20 p. m. instead of 3:00 p. m., making important station stops only. Train No. 14 will leave Omaha 5 p. m. instead of 6:05 p. m., making local station stops between Omaha and Des Moines. Local trains Nos. 27 and 28, between Omaha and Belleville, will be discontinued. —Advertisement necessitated by requirements of national defense, as the paramount duty of the navy of this or any other country should be the protection of the nation against possible foreign aggression. Japan is prepared to accept reduction of her navy if, and so long as, the exigencies of its national defense are thereby duly satisfied.

Q. To what extent should fortifications in the Pacific be reduced as a guarantee to peace? A. The Pacific fortifications should be reduced in accordance with the same considerations as indicated before.

Q. Are not economic and similar questions the basis of all armaments and should not these be settled first? China and the far eastern republic have refused negotiations, what is the best method of adjusting the Shantung and Siberian questions; with these questions disposed of, what other questions disturb the peace of the Orient and what is the best means of adjustment?

A. The Japanese are firmly convinced of the justice in their case in the Shantung question. No effort has been and will be spared on the part of Japan to settle this question to her mutual satisfaction, it being our constant hope that China will embark on negotiations in a conciliatory spirit and settle this question once and for all on the conditions laid down in our recent communications. As to Siberia, Japan is still in the course of negotiations with the far eastern republic and it is expected that a definite settlement will be arrived at before long.

Q. What are Japan's aims at the conference? A. Japan accepted President Harding's invitation, prompted solely by a strong desire to bring about thorough and harmonious co-operation with the United States and other powers and to make whatever contribution it can toward the realization of the lofty ideals the president had in view in calling the conference. No nation is more vitally interested than Japan in the maintenance of peace in the Pacific and the far east.

Based on Coast Lines. Q. Should disarmament be based on population or what method should govern an equitable reduction? A. Japan sincerely hopes an outspoken exchange of views on the subject of disarmament, as well as the Pacific and far eastern problems, may result in a furtherance of a good understanding among the powers concerned and in the recognition of the legitimate interests in each power represented at Washington. At the same time Japan believes that an equitable reduction should be based on a sole consideration of national security, having due regard not merely to the area or population, but to the length of the littoral lines, the geographical or topographical conditions, etc., of the country in question.

Q. Would a status quo of the present navies be acceptable, or should some other proportion be reached, either by further building of certain navies or reducing of others? A. Whether a status quo is acceptable or some other proportion should be arranged depends entirely on whether the existing ratio is

Man Fined $250 on Liquor Charge, Held Second Time. North Platte, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Harry Stacey, who was fined $250 for the illegal sale and possession of liquor and for keeping a disorderly house, paid his fine and three days later was again arrested for selling liquor. He will have his hearing this week.

Marriages. Howe-Wilson. Barneston, Neb.—J. M. Howe, prominent farmer and banker, was married to Mrs. Nora Wilson, sister of the late Mrs. Howe, at Atlantic, Monday. They will reside in Barneston.

Gardner-Carlson. Plattsmouth, Neb.—Clara L. Gardner, son of Edith Gardner of the Belle Ben hospital at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., following his return from France was married in Chicago to Miss Nellie Carlson of Des Moines, Ia., who nursed him through the greater part of his confinement to the hospital.

Triggs-Huckett. Wynora, Neb.—William H. Triggs and Miss Florence Huckett were married in Marysville, Kan., by Judge Potter. The affair was kept a secret until the arrival of a Marysville paper. Mr. Triggs is a machinist with this business and the bride is the daughter of Master Mechanic George Huckett.

Richardson-McMillan. Oakbrook, Neb.—Bryan R. Richardson and Miss Clara Belle McMillan were married at the Methodist parsonage yesterday afternoon and will make their home at Eustis, that being the home of the groom.

Bookstool-Rudge. Callaway, Neb.—Miss Margaret Rudge of Sand Valley and Glenn Bookstool of Redfern Table were married at Broken Bow.

Rock Island Lines announce important changes in schedules, effective Sunday, October 30th, 1921. Train No. 6 will leave Omaha 3:20 p. m. instead of 3:00 p. m., making important station stops only. Train No. 14 will leave Omaha 5 p. m. instead of 6:05 p. m., making local station stops between Omaha and Des Moines. Local trains Nos. 27 and 28, between Omaha and Belleville, will be discontinued. —Advertisement

The right way to buy Prunes

HEALTH is too big, too vital, too elastic for any bottle to hold it. Yet health can be bought in the marketplace. But you must go to the right place for it. Nature, in cooperation with the prune growers of California, has HEALTH ready for you at your nearest grocer's.

Why are prunes so essential to good health and right living? Why has Nature in her wisdom singled out prunes as the fruit-food that keeps you fit through natural means?

Is it because their high sugar content gives you quick-to-use energy? Is it because they are rich in tonic iron and other mineral and "vitamine" elements? Is it because they contain certain salts and acids that improve the quality of the blood and help to "balance" the diet?

The right way to stew prunes: There's all the taste-difference in the world in prunes when they are properly prepared. And it's just as easy to prepare them right. First—soak overnight if possible; if not, for several hours at least. Cook slowly until tender in the water in which they were soaked. Use plenty of water so the fruit will be "loose." Be sure you don't cook them too long as they will become too soft. Flavor with stick of cinnamon or lemon or orange juice. No sugar is needed. —California Prune & Apricot Growers Inc., San Jose, Cal.

SUNSWEEP CALIFORNIA'S NATURE-FLAVORED Prunes

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

Yes—all this and more: it is because prunes are a natural corrective—a laxative made in Nature's own pharmacy.

The tasteful part of it is that prunes—when properly prepared—are so good-to-eat. Why shouldn't they be—these fine, full-flavored, natural sweetmeats! Especially when they are Sunsweet Prunes. For these are the pick of California's pack. Doubly rich in health-and-flavor value for that reason!

If you think it worth while to get the finest prunes California produces, specify "Sunsweet" whenever and wherever you buy. And send for the new Sunsweet Recipe Packet. It will show you—as it has shown 300,000 thrift-wise women in America—how to keep the family food-bill down and the family health up!

The right way to stew prunes: There's all the taste-difference in the world in prunes when they are properly prepared. And it's just as easy to prepare them right. First—soak overnight if possible; if not, for several hours at least. Cook slowly until tender in the water in which they were soaked. Use plenty of water so the fruit will be "loose." Be sure you don't cook them too long as they will become too soft. Flavor with stick of cinnamon or lemon or orange juice. No sugar is needed. —California Prune & Apricot Growers Inc., San Jose, Cal.

SUNSWEEP CALIFORNIA'S NATURE-FLAVORED Prunes

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

HEALTH is too big, too vital, too elastic for any bottle to hold it. Yet health can be bought in the marketplace. But you must go to the right place for it. Nature, in cooperation with the prune growers of California, has HEALTH ready for you at your nearest grocer's.

Why are prunes so essential to good health and right living? Why has Nature in her wisdom singled out prunes as the fruit-food that keeps you fit through natural means?

Is it because their high sugar content gives you quick-to-use energy? Is it because they are rich in tonic iron and other mineral and "vitamine" elements? Is it because they contain certain salts and acids that improve the quality of the blood and help to "balance" the diet?

The right way to stew prunes: There's all the taste-difference in the world in prunes when they are properly prepared. And it's just as easy to prepare them right. First—soak overnight if possible; if not, for several hours at least. Cook slowly until tender in the water in which they were soaked. Use plenty of water so the fruit will be "loose." Be sure you don't cook them too long as they will become too soft. Flavor with stick of cinnamon or lemon or orange juice. No sugar is needed. —California Prune & Apricot Growers Inc., San Jose, Cal.

SUNSWEEP CALIFORNIA'S NATURE-FLAVORED Prunes

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

HEALTH is too big, too vital, too elastic for any bottle to hold it. Yet health can be bought in the marketplace. But you must go to the right place for it. Nature, in cooperation with the prune growers of California, has HEALTH ready for you at your nearest grocer's.

Why are prunes so essential to good health and right living? Why has Nature in her wisdom singled out prunes as the fruit-food that keeps you fit through natural means?

Is it because their high sugar content gives you quick-to-use energy? Is it because they are rich in tonic iron and other mineral and "vitamine" elements? Is it because they contain certain salts and acids that improve the quality of the blood and help to "balance" the diet?

The right way to stew prunes: There's all the taste-difference in the world in prunes when they are properly prepared. And it's just as easy to prepare them right. First—soak overnight if possible; if not, for several hours at least. Cook slowly until tender in the water in which they were soaked. Use plenty of water so the fruit will be "loose." Be sure you don't cook them too long as they will become too soft. Flavor with stick of cinnamon or lemon or orange juice. No sugar is needed. —California Prune & Apricot Growers Inc., San Jose, Cal.

SUNSWEEP CALIFORNIA'S NATURE-FLAVORED Prunes

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

— YOUR GROCER HAS THEM

It's toasted Notice this delicious flavor when you smoke Lucky Strike—it's sealed in by the toasting process

Woodward's EXCEPTIONAL CHOCOLATES INNER-CIRCLE CANDIES