

Escaped Bank Robber Caught At Mondamin, Ia.

South Who Escaped From Youth Dakota Penitentiary Tuesday Is Apprehended On Way to Bluffs.

Making a beeline for home after his escape from the state penitentiary at Sioux Falls, S. D., last Tuesday Jock Spill, 21, former Council Bluffs youth was captured yesterday at Mondamin, Ia., 45 miles north of Council Bluffs, according to Deputy Warden A. C. Muchow, who has arrived to take the prisoner back.

Spill was convicted with "Rube" Clabney and Claude Boyles, former Sioux City policeman, of participation in the daring daylight robbery of the bank at Dempster, S. D., in August, 1919.

The robbers escaped with $900 at the time, but the trio was apprehended in three different cities two weeks later.

Young Spill, according to Muchow, won a place as trusty at the prison and soon became a chauffeur, being allowed to drive back and forth from the penitentiary without guard.

Last Tuesday he drove away. He was to be released on parole in two months, Muchow said.

Hemingford Auto Thief Sentenced to Penitentiary

Alliance, Neb., Nov. 10.—(Special.)

James Glandon, 18, itinerant farm hand, who was arrested a month ago on a charge of stealing an automobile from Sherman Wright, farmer living near Hemingford, was taken to Rushville and pleaded guilty in district court before Judge C. O. Stauffer of Omaha, who has exchanged Glandon temporarily with Judge Westover. He was sentenced to serve from one to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

Glandon admitted stealing the car from in front of a church in Hemingford, where Mr. and Mrs. Wright were attending services. He drove to Alliance and attempted to dispose of it, together with an extra tire and casing, to an Alliance man. He at first denied the charge but later confessed to the officers. Owing to lack of room at the state prison, he was brought back to Alliance and placed in the county jail.

France Able to Safeguard Own Security, Briand Says

Premier Says Nation Will Not Ask for Anything at Disarmament Conference—Declares Interference Would Amount to Usurpation Against Sovereignty.

By HENRY WALES.

(Paris Correspondent Attached French Commission to Pacific-Disarmament Conference.)

Washington, Nov. 10.—In an interview to the American newspaper correspondents who accompanied him across the Atlantic on the La Fayette, Premier Briand yesterday exposed the French attitude toward the Pacific-disarmament conference. M. Briand stated:

"First, France intends to ask for nothing at this conference. It has no intention of attempting to reopen the question of the Anglo-Franco-American defensive alliance.

"Second, France is entirely capable of safeguarding her own security and must insist that she do it in her own way. Any interference would amount to usurpation against her sovereignty.

"Third, 'Moral solidarity' among the great powers convened here is necessary, and just as France must interest herself in the affairs of the Pacific, so the United States cannot disinterest herself wholly from the affairs of Europe.

"Fourth, France has no intention of raising the question of war debts, which are not on the agenda for the conference and could only be added by unanimous vote."

It was evident from the premier's statements that any attempt by the conference to interfere with France's defensive military organization would be regarded as assailing the sovereign rights of that state. He dwelt on the respect for sovereign powers of all states that the United States has always championed, and violations of which was threatened by the league of nations, according to administration critics of that organization.

Although M. Briand stated that France would not ask that the financial situation be added officially to the agenda of the conference, it is, nevertheless, expected that in unofficial conversations with the American government, the French will seek certain concessions in settlement of their war debt to the United States.

Fixation of the date at the exchange rate at which it was contracted, averaging 5 1-2 francs to the dollar, instead of 13 1-2 francs per dollar as exists today, and easements in payment of interest is what France hopes to obtain. In these questions, she would have the solid support of Britain, Italy, Belgium and other small debtors to America, all of whom borrowed at much more advantageous rates to them than prevail now.

M. Briand confirmed the report that M. Louis Loucheur, minister of the liberated regions, reported the richest man in France, and financial wizard, will come to Washington immediately after he (M. Briand) returns to Paris.

Replying to a question as to whether France would ask for a defensive alliance with Britain and the United States, M. Briand shook his head.

"That is all in the past," he said. "We have no intention of bringing it up again here. We are quite ready to safeguard our own security."

Receipt of Tax Money by State Averts Crisis

Democratic Propaganda Is Exploded—Registration of Warrants Will Not Be Necessary Now.

Lincoln, Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Receipt of $60,000 in tax money from county treasurers at the office of D. B. Cropsy, state treasurer, and assurance of the early receipt of many thousands more, insures against registering state warrants and explodes another large quantity of democratic political ammunition behind their own lines.

Two months ago democratic newspapers announced in black headlines that Nebraska was bankrupt and the issuance of state warrants was inevitable.

Last week the state was obliged to withhold payment of warrants in order not to drain the treasury to the last cent. The warrants withheld amount to approximately $200,000, it was stated at the treasurer's office, which totals the cash money put into bonds and which could not be used to help cut and meet the emergency.

It was stated at Cropsy's office today that warrants being withheld would be payable probably next week as there is every promise that the winter tax money will begin pouring in in the next few days.

Pageant Staged By Students for Teachers' Benefit

Dr. H. B. Alexander, Author Of "Nebraska," Is Interested Spectator at Two Performances.

The pageant, "Nebraska," was repeated yesterday afternoon in the Brandeis theater before a large gathering of visiting teachers who are attending the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers' association. All of the teachers could not be accommodated at the morning performance.

Mayor Dallman, who attended in the morning, was enthusiastic in his praise of the efforts of the school boys and girls whose talents were brought to the fore by a staff of assistants under the leadership of Lena May Williams, who is in charge of dramatics at Central High school.

Author Is Present. Dr. Hartley B. Alexander of the University of Nebraska, who wrote the book of the pageant, witnessed both presentations yesterday. He said that the Omaha school children deserve credit for their splendid presentation of the pageant and he added that able direction was reflected in the production.

He was particularly impressed by the Procession of the Years in part 3, and the solo, "The Americans Come," by Mrs. Fred G. Ellis in the same part.

Magnificent Procession. Filing before all, the "Procession of the Years" swept by, each member bearing her magical gift in a bowl of iridescent crystal. The young women of this procession were from the High School of Commerce. Benson high school was represented in part 3. Central high sang in part 1 and South high in part 2.

The following were in charge of the various departments of the pageant: Director, Lena May Williams; costumes, Helen Thompson; music, Henry Cox; chorus, Juliet McCune; dancing, Constance Platt; organization, Ira A. Jones; dramatics, Mabel Reed; make-up, Clare Mackin; literary, Zora Shields; business, Fred Hill; properties, Mary Parker; floats, H. E. Bennett and Louis Bexton.

Daily Rural Route Service To Be Started at Alliance

Alliance, Neb., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Alliance is to have its first daily rural mail service starting November 16. Postmaster Robert Graham has received orders from the postal department at Washington calling for the establishment of a six-day-a-week service, to replace the present three-day-a-week service. The carrier, William R. Shanklin, will receive an increase in salary from $1,170 to $1,980 a year. The present service was inaugurated October 16, 1920.

Six months later the postal department threatened to abolish the service due to lack of sufficient patronage. A number of patrons became dissatisfied because they could not at that time secure daily service and withdrew from the route. Those remaining, however, held onto the route by subscribing for a sufficient number of papers and periodicals to meet the postal requirements of an average of 150 pieces of mail per mile per month for rural free delivery. Those who withdrew from the route will now become patrons again.

Why not replace boiler tubes with soda straws?

THE idea's ridiculous—of course. BUT hardly more so than the idea of making replacements in a Continental Motor with parts that never were intended to WORK in a Red Seal product! The Continental Motors Corporation has devoted many years of research work to perfect each part. Only genuine parts can be expected to function properly with other Red Seal units.

If you want a continuance of Red Seal performance—specify genuine Continental parts to your dealer and remind him that he can get them here.

A few moments later he called to his cousin that he had stepped in a hole, but in the darkness the latter could not locate him. It is believed that he drowned and his body was carried down the river. His shotgun was later found on a small island in the river.
