

Americans Favor Naval Agreement In Form of Treaty

Many Look on Pact as Only Logical Instrument to Carry Out Decisions.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 24.—Whatever may be the view in other official quarters, at least a part of the American arms delegation believes that any resulting agreement on naval armament should be put into the form of a treaty.

Since the negotiations began, intimations have come from high officials that the probable outcome of the naval discussions would be merely an international "understanding," not requiring senate confirmation. It has been suggested that "understandings" as to policy are well within the province of the executive and that the detail of scrapping ships could be accomplished by an executive order emanating from the same authority which enables the navy to rid itself, without appealing to congress, of vessels it considers no longer useful.

But an indication that opinion might now be turning rather toward the formal treaty plan developed today when it became known that there is in the American delegation, a tendency to look on a treaty as the only logical instrument to carry out conference decisions. One or two delegates are said to have strong convictions on the point and to be ready to advise that so important an agreement ought not to be left in the diplomatic status of an "understanding." The decision, as far as the United States is concerned, is expected to rest with President Harding, although it is taken for granted he will ask for the opinion of his representatives.

"Open Shop" War Fund Being Raised in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 24.—The citizens committee, formed for the purpose of enforcing the wage award made by Judge Landis in the building trades controversy, is collecting a war fund of $3,000,000 to enforce the open shop. The fund will be used to import nonunion workmen in the crafts which refuse to accept the wage awarded by Judge Landis. According to T. E. Donnelly, chairman of the committee, the only trade that has been outlawed thus far is the carpenters' union.

Chicago Thankful.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Thanksgiving today extended even to the turkey and its trimmings, for the cost here for a real Thanksgiving dinner for the average family was 39 cents less this year than last, according to R. J. Poole, secretary of the city council's committee on the high cost of living. Charitable organizations and beneficent persons have made it possible for almost every destitute soldier to have a Thanksgiving dinner.

Farmers Troubles Are Economical, Wallace Declares

Conduct of Affairs on Purely Business Lines Only Remedy, Secretary of Agriculture Says.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 24.—Farmers' troubles throughout the United States are economical and not political and until the time comes when the farm is conducted on purely business lines, their troubles will continue, Secretary Wallace told delegates to the convention of the American Farm Bureau federation yesterday. He said he believed the great work the Department of Agriculture should do now to help the farmer was along economic lines.

He said the department should help the farmer follow his crop until it reached the consumer and the farmer should study all angles of the agricultural business.

"This condition has been realized by congress," he said, "and during the last eight months it has passed more legislation to help farmers than any other congress in the same length of time."

He declared the slowness of banks to realize that the war finance corporation wanted to lend its money where it would do the most good hindered its work. He said that the corporation was making loans at the rate of $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a day. Opposition to government fixing of prices on farm commodities was expressed by the secretary.

Chamber Planning Record Business Program for 1922

The Omaha Chamber of Commerce intends to work out next year the biggest program for business interests in its history, according to a circular announcement being sent out to business men of the city.

"The principal reason why the chamber has not done all that it should for Omaha can be told in just three words—lack of funds," the circular reads. The new readjustment plan of the chamber bids well to raise adequate funds to carry on the entire program of activities in 1922. If Omaha is to keep in the lead among middle west cities, it must look ahead to bigger accomplishments, the circular states.

Chicago Street Car Fares

Ordered Cut to Five Cents

Chicago, Nov. 24.—The Illinois commerce commission last night issued an order reducing street car fares in Chicago from 8 to 5 cents, effective Friday. The rate of fare established by the commission follows closely the petition of the Cook county real estate board for a temporary 5-cent fare, the order not being effective after July 1, 1922, although the commission reserves the right to continue the order after that date.
