

Odds Given Navy Will Defeat Army In Classic Today

Service Eleven Go Through Snappy Signal Practice at Polo Grounds—High Official to See Tilt.

The probable lineup: Army, Navy, Army, Navy, Army, Navy, Army, Navy, Army, Navy, Army, Navy.

New York, Nov. 25.—The Army and the Navy tonight were awaiting the sound of the bugle that tomorrow should see them plunging into each other for service gridiron honors of 1921.

The lads from Annapolis had their goggles fastened on what they deemed to be the star of victory, for they were given the odds in the betting. But the boys from West Point had come down the Hudson determined to bombard into oblivion the hopes of their cousins in the service, and confident that the defeats they had received from Yale and Notre Dame would only serve as bracers.

Defeated by Penn State. Tomorrow morning after having battered Princeton into submission, the Middies took the field today at the Polo grounds and put in a period of snappy signal practice. Outside the gates, waiting to get in, was the Army, and as soon as the Annapolis eleven had called it a day the West Pointers began frisking over the gridiron.

Tonight both elevens turned in early. Tomorrow morning their waddlers arrive—a regiment from West Point and a regiment from Annapolis, to march on to the field and give New York its annual scenic treat.

Arriving from Washington are officers high in each branch of the service, diplomats and statesmen, figures prominent in the civic, financial and social life of the nation. Accompanying them, to gaze for the first time on a game of American football, were foreign delegates to the arms conference.

Army Star in Reserve. French, the Army's star back, will not be the first lineup facing Navy. He was announced tonight. He probably will be sent into action after the first half. While Conroy, Kochler, Barchel and Cruise will start for Navy in the backfield, Hughes, Noyes and McKee will be used later, Coach Folwell said.

Tecumseh to Ask Game With Beatrice Be Called a Tie

Tecumseh, Neb., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Superintendent L. R. Gregory of the Tecumseh schools has received word from the national football rules committee of Cambridge, Mass., ruling on the two matters under protest in the Beatrice-Tecumseh high school game, played at Beatrice on Armistice day. The rulings sustain the position taken by Mr. Gregory in that the touchdown not allowed Tecumseh because of an offside Beatrice play should count for Tecumseh. The secretary of the committee rules that the offside offense may decline the penalty and take the gain. Again it was ruled that the dispute over the ruling of Referee DuTeau in calling an intercepted pass a safety should be settled by calling the play a touchback, rather than a safety. The ruling of the committee clearly establishes the score a tie at 21. Superintendent Gregory has filed copies of the rulings with the state board of control and will ask that they be called 21 to 21, instead of 23 to 14, as announced at Beatrice.

The local team scored six touchdowns and a place kick. Andes has lost but one game this season, that to North Platte, and has scored more points against North Platte than any team in the state.

The stars for Tecumseh were Captain Hervey, A. Mander, E. Mander, Devenny, and Reynolds. A. Mander ran wild throughout the entire game and his brother's work in receiving passes was equally spectacular. Devenny was the star in directing the team. He was the best that has shown in the high school career. Captain Hervey and Reynolds played a marvelous defensive game, breaking up Ashland's plays time after time. Court to Hear Matty McCue's Suit Against Cornhusker Club

The municipal court is within its jurisdiction in hearing an action brought by Matty McCue against the Cornhusker club for $450, alleged to be due the plaintiff, who boxed in the Auditorium on the night of September 2 with Morris Schlaifer. The defendant club filed a demurrer on the grounds that the state boxing commission was the final arbiter in all cases involving disputes between contestants who have been duly recognized by representatives of the commission.

In this case Poulson boxed under the name of Matty McCue and the bout was stopped in the second round by the referee at the direction of John Kilmartin, boxing commissioner. In his petition for payment of $450, McCue stated that in the first round he was hit upon the head and was knocked down several times, all of which dazed him, but he added that in the second round he was ready to resume the contest when the referee intercepted.

The bout was stopped and the contract money withheld on the grounds that McCue was not matched and failed to make a showing within the provisions of the state boxing law. Judge Holmes has allowed the Cornhusker club two weeks in which to answer the petition filed by McCue.

Columbus Trounces University Place By Score of 56 to 0

Columbus, Neb., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—With Captain Ben Tryba leading the way by sprinting five, 40 and 75 yards for three touchdowns, the Discoverers whitewashed University Place High school here today in the last game of the season, 56 to 0. Playing his last game of high school foot ball, Tryba was by all odds the individual star. His crowning achievement was registered in the second quarter, when he intercepted one of the Methodists' forward passes on the Discoverers' 25-yard line and raced 75 yards for a touchdown. The play was an exact duplicate of the feat by which he beat Grand Island last Friday. He also had several 10, 20, 30 and 40-yard gains to his credit.

Tryba kicked six goals and Poesch one. In addition to Tryba's exceptional work the features of the game were provided by Lowrey, who got away for several runs of 10 to 30 yards, and Hugo Oelrichs snaggled the ball on a fumble and tore off 40 yards.
