

Two Speeders Are Sent to Jail by Judge Wappich

Fines Varying From $10 to $25 Meted Out to 16 Others in War on Traffic Law Violators.

Eighteen speeders were fined and two were given jail sentences by Judge Wappich in Central police court yesterday.

The judge has resolved to make life a burden for speeders haled into his court. "Let them beware," is to be his motto in the future, he said.

The United States mail delivery trucks were not exempted in the judge's lecture to violators yesterday. "They have no more right to violate the traffic rules than anyone else," he said. "Bring in the mail truck drivers," he added to policeman and voluntary traffic officers.

Two Are Jailed.
Willis Crosby, jr., 3024 Wirt street, was sentenced to jail for five days. He was released on a $200 bond when his case was appealed to the district court. He was arrested for speeding by a volunteer traffic cop.

Kenneth Harrington, 7624 North Thirtieth street, was the second speed violator remanded to jail. He was given five days also.

Jack Webster, son of John R. Webster, an attorney, was fined $15; B. M. Boyce, 5312 Larimore avenue, $10; Leo Murray of Council Bluffs paid a fine of $22.50.

Other fines given violators ranged from $10 to $25.

Brief City News

One Minute Store Talk

"Every clothing dealer in America ought to make a pilgrimage to your store and see the way you folks have met the price situation. The public can never realize what drastic steps you've taken upon your own initiative. Evidently, the public appreciates it from the crowds you're serving," commented a visiting merchant who traveled several hundred miles "to see a store doing volume business these days"—as he put it.
