Society

Wedding a Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip McMillan an-nounce the marriage of their daugh-ter, Miss Ruth Agnes, and Edwin F. Ryan, son of Michael S. Ryan on November 14 at St. Columbkills church in Papillion. The Rev. Father Hoheisel performed the cre-mony, which was very quiet not mony, which was very quiet, not even the two families being pres-ent. The wedding has been a secret and has just been announced to their friends. Mrs. Ryan is a gradu-ate of Mt. St. Marys seminary and Mr. Ryan is a Creighton graduate. They are making their home with the groom's father, Michael S. Ryan.

Announce Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wickersham announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Dorothy Hale, to Frank W. Matters, son of Frank R. Matters, a pioneer banker of Odebolt, Ia. Miss Hale is a Denver girl who has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wickersham for the last our years. Mr. Matters is an Ames graduate and a Phi Delta Chi. The wedding will be a quiet one and will take place December 26 ::

Miscry: Your lot is evidently so and that I do not like to censure you at all, but I am bound to point out one great mistake you made in the beginning of things. You said, "I decided to marry the first chance

"I decided to marry the first chance I got, a man who would promise not to interfere with my studies and who would be willing to help me along financially in my art." That is a mercenary, selfab rea-son for marriage and happiness does not follow it. Of course, it did not work out your way. When the babies came, you gave up the other things to care for them. But did you do it cheerfully? You seem to indulge in a great deal of self-pity. You seem to think you have been sacrificed because you could not pur-sue your art. You seem not to know that a healthy, well-reared family is the best art a woman does. that a healthy, well-reared family is the best art a woman does.

Matron: Man is himself plus what he reads. So saith the adage. Read good magazines, newspaper editor-ials, good books. Train yourself into the good reading habit, if you can only stick for 10 minutes a day at start. After all, a good mind is the beauty of age. So better be-gin now getting the wrinkles of dis-content out of yours, because it adds to the beauty of youth as well. Ridiculous to say men don't want or appreciate brains in a girl. Haven't you heard brother criticizing a girl for being "dead from the chin up?"
