Cage Practice Starts at Omaha

Thirty Basket Flippers Answer Coach Adams' Call to Hardwood Floor.

Thirty basket ball candidates answered Coach Ernie Adams' call to the hardwood floor yesterday at the University of Omaha gymnasium.

Prospects for another winning quiet at the Moorook knowledge foundry are bright, and with five letter men in the fold the Omaha followers are predicting a successful season in the cage sport.

Among the new material are Konecky, Wilmuth, Burns, Hallis, Hunn and Baker, all experienced basket flippers.

Knickers Fad for Women Net Players

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—Many members of the Women's Park Tennis club plan to appear in knickers today when play begins in the doubles handicap tournament on the courts in Golden Gate park, where many champions have been made.

The first appearance of women in knickers was Sunday when two of the club members appeared in a mixed doubles exhibition match.

The costume included knickers which fasten below the knee, golf stockings and a sleeveless coat, which has a flaring skirt. The coat falls to about six inches above the knee. A detachable skirt, worn to and from the courts is also a part of the costume. The suits are made in white flannels and tweeds.

Sons of Ex-President Students at Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 6.—Two sons of the late President Grover Cleveland are enrolled at Harvard, it became known here today.

The younger, Francis Grover Cleveland, was one of the 25 freshmen who reported to Coach Eddie Parrall of the weight events. His specialty is the shot put. Although he failed to make his track letter at Exeter, Cleveland managed the foot ball team and was president of his class in his senior year.

He shows great promise, however. The other brother, Richard F. Cleveland, who was a member of the Exeter and Princeton track teams, is a first year student in the Harvard law school.

Penn State Coach Gets Warm Reception in Oregon

Eugene, Ore., Dec. 6.—Hugo Bezedek, coach of the Penn State foot ball team, returned to the scene of his first foot ball triumph at University of Oregon here last night and got a rousing reception.

Bezedek's team defeated University of Washington at Seattle last Saturday and he came down by special invitation for a brief stay, at which the Oregon students enthusiastically made the most.

800 Students Enroll in California Boxing Classes Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 6.—Approximately 800 men are registered in boxing classes at the University of California here.

Tremaine Kayoes Brown. Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 6.—Carl Tremaine, Cleveland bantamweight, last night knocked out K. O. Brown of New Orleans in the fourth round of a scheduled eight-round bout here.

Pirates to Let Max Carey Go

The days of Max Carey, Pirate center fielder and captain, as a member of the Pittsburgh team are numbered. Barney Dreyfuss has intimated in Pittsburgh that Carey will not play for his team next year, and Max has let it be known that nothing would please him better than to be traded. Despite the fact that "Scoops" hit over 300 last season and still managed to steal 37 bases, Pittsburgh fans believe the veteran fly-chaser is near the end of his career.

"Skeeters" Provide Thrills for Fans at Elks' Boxing Show-- Mandell Wins on Technical Kayo

To Herbie Schaffer, Chicago, and Buddy Taylor, Terra Haute, Ind., goes the credit of writing success on the Elks' boxing card last night.

These skeeters didn't hurl a pair of gloves in their 10-round draw; they whirled a bushel full. They fought game and clean and their pleasing performance repeatedly brought round after round of cheer from some 2,200 fistic bugs.

Sammy Mandell, the tiger from Rockford, Ill., wore down Sammy Frager of Brooklyn, N. Y., in four rounds in the bout scheduled to be the stellar attraction. It was stopped by Referee Ed Smith with the fifth coming up.

Devine Kayoed. Frager was put out of the running by a straight jab which cut a deep gash inside his mouth and which bled so profusely that in two rounds the ring was taking on the aspect of a sanguine battlefield.

Bob Devine, who hails from bonny old Scotland, kissed the rosin in the ninth round after Tommy Comiskey, St. Paul middleweight, had worn him down with left jabs to the jaw.

But let it be said of the native from the Johnny Walker country that he was game throughout. He has a steel jaw, a cast iron solar plexus and an otherwise rugged physique, for he stopped wicked swings time after time and came back for more.

Devine was floored in the fifth, twice in the sixth and once in the eighth before going down in the ninth.

Fought Like a Tiger. Schaffer was fighting his third professional fight, but never would one think that the Chicagoan was a novice.

Schaffer and Taylor came out of their corners fighting in the initial round and in the tenth they looked like they would like five more to taper off in.

Taylor put up a tiger attack—a vicious, springing, slashing sort. Young Schaffer enulated Woodrow Wilson by adopting a watchful waiting policy. This isn't to say he wasn't a willing mixer and didn't carry the fight, but all the time he had that powerful trip hammer blow ready to turn loose.

Taylor would shade Schaffer in a round and then Schaffer would turn the tables on him in the next. Then

Draft Discussed on Opening Of Major League Meeting-- 26 Circuits Are Represented

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Twenty-six minor league circuits, embracing 170 clubs, were represented at the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues here today.

It was said to be one of the largest gatherings in the history of the association. The annual address of President Michael Sexton, the report of Secretary John H. Farrell, the election of officers and amendments to the constitution were on the program.

The possible return to the draft whereby the majors can draw on the minors for new playing material was one of the chief topics of discussion before the delegates. Among the three big minor leagues classified as AA, and including the new international, the American association and the Pacific coast leagues, opposition to any change of the arrangement entered into a year ago seemed to be strong. A considerable number of delegates from A, B and C leagues were inclined to encourage those favoring some modification, at least so far as the leagues below Class AA are concerned.

Consequently during the heat of the pennant race, when the Giants and Pittsburgh were see-sawing for the lead, Carey was in the game when he should have been in. Dreyfuss has sent out feelers to other clubs asking what they will give up for the former speed boy of the National league. Despite the fact that most players regard a transfer to St. Louis as a sentence, Carey is most anxious to be traded to the Cardinals. St. Louis is Max's home town, and he also considers the Cards as probable pennant winners in the National league next season.

Arrange Dates For Running Race Meeting

The second annual Ak-Sar-Ben running race meet next May will be a 13-day affair, according to an announcement made yesterday by Charlie Gardner of the Exposition company.

It is the plan of Ak-Sar-Ben officials to make the 1922 running meet one of the best in the west. Horses from all sections of the country and Havana and Cuba will be entered in the various races, which start May 27 and continue to June 8.

Six races will probably complete one afternoon's racing.

The eight-day meeting last summer was a success from every angle and went over with such a blast that a 13-day meet was arranged for this coming summer.

Several horse owners in the south have written Ak-Sar-Ben officials inquiring if the running meet would be held in May.

Charlie Gardner and Secretary Trimble, both of the Ak-Sar-Ben returned yesterday from Chicago where they attended the meeting of Western Fair association.

Bears Undecided About Grid Game

Washington, Pa., Dec. 6.—The Washington and Jefferson foot ball club, scheduled to meet the University of California at Pasadena January 2, is going through an intensive training period preparatory to its post seasonal gridiron battle.

Coach Earl Neale has indicated that there will be no let down on the rules until after the game. The squad is expected to leave for the west December 18.

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 6.—No decision as to whether University of California is willing to meet Washington and Jefferson in the annual tournament of roses foot ball game at Pasadena January 2 was reached at a four-hour conference of California athletic officials last night.

It was a definite decision would be reached and given out soon.

Barnes and Hutchison Start On Exhibition Tour Thursday

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Jim Barnes of the Pelham club, New York, American open golf champion, and Jock Hutchison of Glenview, Chicago, holder of the British open title, will leave Thursday for Vancouver, B. C., to engage in a series of exhibition matches along the Pacific coast to include the California open tournament.

Central High Has 10 Promising Players for Basket Ball Team

With a week's practice behind them, Central's cage men are beginning to show signs of improvement. Coach Hill has had the team out every night working on the essentials of the game, and Friday he gave them a stiff workout in floor tactics.

With their first game less than a month away, and the greater part of the time being vacation, Coach Hill is confronted with a big job to get his men in shape for the coming season.

So far no definite team has been picked. However, Beerle, Sauter, Keyt, Dutton, Percival, Koniky, Johnston, Reynolds and Howell have shown up the best and the selection probably will be made from these.

Dutton made the first team in his freshman year and then went away to a military school. This year he is back and is showing up in his old form.

Koniky also played on the first squad two years ago, but then left for a trip to New York. He is showing up better than in his previous years.

Melady Accepts Rickard's Terms for Caddock to Meet Stecher in Madison Garden

TEX RICKARD, who is waging a battle with Jack Curley for supremacy in the rough and tumble sport around New York, is about to put over a match between Earl Caddock, Walnut, Ia., and Joe Stecher, Dodge, Neb.

This contest should prove the "battle of the century" in the grappling ranks, for Caddock and the Nebraskan are the most popular wrestlers in the game today.

Gene Melady, Caddock's manager, has accepted the New York promoter's offer and the only thing which remains for the match to be complete is for Stecher to sign his name to a contract.

Caddock's acceptance of Tex's terms goes to show the fans in the mid-west that the Iowan is not under the control of the Curley regime, as has been charged since the wrestling trust has been exposed.

According to Caddock, Stecher has been side-stepping him for some time.

The match will mean a large sum to both grapplers.

Melady says Rickard figures that the contest should draw 25,000 or more, which would be the largest wrestling crowd ever packed into Madison Garden.

Ruth's Suspension Is Blow to Yankees

Sultan of Swat's Chances of Breaking Homer Record in 1922 Slim.

New York, Dec. 6.—"Babe" Ruth's base ball employers today admitted that the sultan of swats suspension by Judge Landis will in all probability prevent him getting any new home run records next year.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York American league club, would not, however, comment on the likelihood of its operating against Ruth's anticipated higher salary demand, based on the proposition that the other clubs next league contribute a part of Ruth's salary in view of the fact they share largely in the receipts piled up through the home run king's qualities as an attraction.

The season starts the middle of April and Ruth will be penalized more than a month next season in his endeavors to break last season's four-base hit mark.

In addition to setting Ruth back in his hitting activities the suspension will be a blow to the Yankees, not only in playing strength, but also in the gate receipts.

Ruth's vaudeville contract runs until the latter part of March.

Vancouver Millionaire Hockey Players Defeat Seattle Team Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 6.—Vancouver's Millionaires defeated Seattle's Metropolitans, 2 to 1, here last night in the opening of the Pacific Coast Hockey association meet.

The game was fast throughout. The score was tied in the last period and it included the California open tournament.

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—University of Southern California athletic officials early today reversed a decision reached last night and announced that the foot ball team of that institution would not play Centre college at San Diego, Cal., December 26.

The Trojan officials previously had accepted an invitation to play Centre under the auspices of San Diego civic organizations, but differences arose over the final details of the arrangements. The decision not to play at San Diego was reached in a five-hour conference which wound up early this morning.

Henry Bruce, graduate manager, said: "San Diego may make a further bid for the services of the Trojans, but I think it unlikely."

Hand Ball Doubles Champions Defeated

Lawler and Dygert, last year's doubles champions, were defeated by Ritchie and Worth yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. annual hand ball tournament.

Ritchie and Worth disposed of the 1920 champs by taking two out of three games, 21-13, 13-21, 21-17.

McGuire and Avery defeated Erion and Nelson in three straight games, 21-7, 24-14, 21-5.

Pat McGill to Leave Nebraska

Pat McGill of Wisner, Neb., a comer in the light heavyweight wrestling class, who recently laid down the gauntlet to Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb., will move to Cleveland January 1 to make his future home.

McGill has four or five matches in view around Ohio's metropolis.

The Nebraskan has been in the mat game for about two years. He has defeated all the smaller fry and is now ready for bigger game. He has been taken in charge by Gene Melady, who is now mapping out his winter's campaign.

Cardinals Won't Play Colonels

Los Angeles, Dec. 6.—University of Southern California athletic officials early today reversed a decision reached last night and announced that the foot ball team of that institution would not play Centre college at San Diego, Cal., December 26.

Ten Games Tentatively Matched for Bulldog

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 6.—Yale's 1922 foot ball schedule contains 10 games, the first time for many years that the university has listed more than nine. The tentative schedule follows:

Sept. 23—Bates; 30, Vermont; Oct. 7, Tufts; 14, Iowa; 21, Williams; 28, Army; Nov. 4, Brown; 11, Maryland; 18, Princeton; 25, Harvard.

Indiana Eleven Loses Great Star

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 6.—John Kyle's career as a foot ball star at Indiana university ended with this season. The husky Crimson captain brought added fame to himself in his last appearance when, with his team facing a scoreless tie with Purdue, he grabbed a fumble and then booted a drop kick for the winning score.

Stechem believes that from the ranks of this year's freshmen he will be able to pick some good men to fill in the holes which will be left when the eight players just mentioned leave school.

Locke Elected Captain of Iowa

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 6.—Gordon Locke, slashing fullback on the University of Iowa team, champions of the big ten, was elected captain of the team for 1922 last night. Locke has played fullback for two years for the Hawkeyes, and his sensational line plunging in every game this season made him unanimous choice for all-American fullback.

Iowa celebrated its first conference foot ball championship in 20 years today with a mass meeting in the armory, which was attended by 3,000. Students were given a holiday from classes. Coach Howard Jones returned from Chicago and was met by the band. In the evening the foot ball squad was banqueted at the home of President Walter A. Jessup.
