Paris Sportsmen Fear Los Angeles May Get Games

No Plans Made for 1924 Olympic Because of Wrangle Over Who Should Assume Charge of French Plans.

Paris, Dec. 9.—Paris sportsmen are now becoming seriously alarmed over the delay in starting arrangements for the Olympic games for July, 1924, awarded to Paris by the International Olympic committee at Lausanne. They fear that, unless something is done before the end of the year, the committee may reconsider its decision and give the games to Los Angeles.

All the architects thus far consulted concede that it will take nearly three years to construct a suitable stadium. Yet neither has the ground for such a stadium been chosen nor has any bill been introduced either in parliament or the municipal council setting aside funds for its construc-

The French foreign office played an important part in securing the 1924 games for Paris. Both President Millerand and Premier Briand realized the value of the propaganda resulting to France if the meet were held here, and they urged French members of the committee to press the claims of Paris very strongly.

The city of Paris also took a strong hand. The municipal authorities argued that the summer season for Paris would thus be prolonged far beyond the running of the Grand Prix, when the capital is usually emptied of thousands of wealthy residents and visitors who go to the scaside resorts. They estimated that the games would bring several milion francs to the hotel and shop-
