M RS. ANN ESULLIVAN MACK, teacher of Relen Keller, was for-formerly blind; and when her sight was recovered she became a missionary in the world of darkness. Mrs. Macy is appearing with her famous pupil at the Orpheum this week. Miss Keller, new in her 29th year, has been blind and deaf since she was a year and a half edd. Until she was 7 she was also dumb. Then her remarkable instruction began, so that she can now address audiences, and answer questions put to her by members of the audience. Mrs. Macy repeats the question, and Miss Keller roads with her fingers the Hp and throat movement of her teacher. Some of the answers made by the famous blind wand are now selling for the Christmas performances.

A feature of "East Is West," in which Fay Bainter, who originated the leading role of Ming Toy, will appear at the Brandels theater, for the last two times today, matines and evening, is incidental music to harmonize with the Chinese-American story. Robert Hood Bowers composed this, as well as the Chinese juilaby, which Miss Bainter sings during the action of the play

There are two prominent features of the Empress vaudeville show which closes its engagement tonight. One is the farce comedy 'The Question,' which is successfully portrayed by a cast of seven people. The other is offered by Lulu Coates and Her Crackerjacks. The act offered by Ray and Fox contains singing, dancing and violin playing Completing the vaudeville program is lielen Staples, known as 'The Prims Donna Petite,' whose voice reveals a cultured richness of tone.
