

"Marse Henry" Laid to Rest in Vault in Florida

Simple Services Mark Funeral—Aged Negro Servant Weeps at Death of "Old Marse."

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 23.—"Marse Henry" Watterson, content with the selfishness of his life, rested today from his labors.

With only the members of his immediate family present, and with the hour of the service unannounced, the body of the venerable Kentucky journalist died here yesterday.

Because of the grief of his mother and sister and for fear many persons would attempt to attend the brief and simple service at a mortuary chapel which preceded laying away of the body, Henry Watterson, Jr., arranged that the hour of the service not be made public and the family requested that there be no floral tributes, desiring that the service and everything connected with it be as simple as possible.

The country will learn with deep regret of the death of Henry Watterson, said Mr. Bryan. "His ability and long experience and his picturesque style and impressive and genial personality gave him a conspicuous position among the nation's journalists. He was a unique character—no one can fill his place."

Tokio Surprised At Interpretation Given Pacific Pact

Japanese Said to Be Opposed To Application of Treaty To Mainland of Their Country.

By GRAFTON WILCOX. Washington, Dec. 23.—With republican senators friendly to the new four-power treaty planning to appeal to President Harding for clarification of the pact with respect to its application to the mainland of Japan, it was learned last night that aid in this respect may come soon from the Tokio government also.

Senators who are somewhat bothered by the dual interpretation of the treaty believe that if the pact were altered so as to eliminate all ambiguity as to the scope of its application the opposition would be deprived of its strongest weapon and prompt ratification would be assured.

Reports in conference quarters declare that the Tokio government has been surprised at the interpretation of the treaty, which includes the mainland of Japan in the terms of the four-power agreement.

Senators who want clarification before the treaty is sent to the senate say that if the president sends the treaty to the senate in its present form it is likely to encounter much stronger opposition than had been expected and a senate reservation clarifying the meaning of the pact
