Glenwood, Ia., Dec. 30.—(Special.) At the annual meeting of the Mills nty Farm bureau at Malvern nday, D. N. McGrew of Emerson l'discuss the campaign for a corn eage reduction. Farmers trading Glenwood say the acreage here amount of pasture ploughed under during the war and planted to corn relieve the food shortage, will be n Some farms will be tenant-Men who sold their farms and ed to town will go back to the and get along with little help and will pasture more land, and the corn acreage will be reduced by all visible operating causes 15 per cent. Merchants estimate that to improve business and to give the farmer some money to spend after paying his debts, corn must sell for from 55 to 65 cents. One merchant said. "50 cents would unload a lot of corn in this vicinity and help wonderfully."

Farmers Holding Corn. York, Neb. Dec. 30,-(Special.)he farmers of York county are taknotice of the advice given by N. Updike, member of the Corn Belt visory committee of the War Fi-tee corporation, to hold the corn w in crib and to cut down the case for next year unless prices advance. Corn will move here if the price should reach 40 cents a hushel. A few farmers declare they will hold for 50 cents. Farmers seem to think it will not pay to let the ground lie idle to cut down the corn acreage.

Plan Small Reductions. Shenandoah, Ia., Dec. 30.—(Special.)—Reducing the Iowa corn acreage for 1922 will not be adopted universally by Iowa farmers, but will be gulated by individual cases of timers in this section of the state. every farmer will reduce his a small amount, but as there roblem as to what to raise in of it, there will not be any acreage reduction.

When farmers reduce their corn eage considerably they run into proposition of what to cultivate the place of corn," says one lowa

"Unless market prices go up there will be a smaller amount of corn planted," says the owner of many

"As to holding the corn for highprices, all farmers are doing it to have a place to store it and re financially able to wait until the tarket improves," says Howard M. who buys from dealers in owa, Missouri and Nebraska. "In my travels over the state I have found that the majority of farmers regard the reduction of corn acreage in connection with crop rotation and will depend on individual cases," says E. L. Quaife, rolessor of animal husbandry at the State college at Ames. "Iowa is primarily the corn state and its principal product shou'd continue to be the major crop for Iowa. The farmers, realize they make their money on corn in the long run and will continue to grow corn." will continue to grow corn."

Poetry and Rhyme at Kiwanis Dinner

Michigan Lawyer Says Poets Predict Events and Politicians Fulfill Them.

Poetry and rhyme flowed with nd without reason at the moonday tonal purity conference here yester-Rome hotel yesterday noon. In Kinety per cent of the divorce his address. "Poets and Politicians,"
Thomas Barkworth, a Michigan attorney of 44 years practice, here for the annual convention of the Nebraska State Bar association, in a most scholarly manner dweit on the part poets and politicians played in life.

Takes are caused by a departure troin the stricter standards of purity among married couples declared Rev.

The break down of purity is at the bottom of the world's troubles today he declared, adding that the part poets and politicians played in life.

On the other hand, Bob Hall, Or- morality. heum headliner this week, contributed extemporaneous rhymes about members of the club, the dis-tinugished speaker and local events. Mr. Barkworth declared that the poet projected his imagination into the future and predicted future events and that politicians fulfilled those predictions. He gave excerpts from Tennyson's "Locksley Hall," predicting the conquest of the air, as an example.

Bob Hall said that his rhyme was just for fun and that up to date he hadn't done any predicting.

Nine Killed by Holiday Liquor

Gray Haired Woman and Boy Among Victims-Five Blinded by Drinks.

New York, Dec. 30.-A gray-haired woman and a 14-year-old boy last night were added to the list of New York victims of poisonous holiday liquor, which now totals nine dead and five blinded or seri-

The woman was found lying on the sidewalk on East Thirty-fifth street near Fifth avenue and died en route to a hospital.

In her handbag was a slip of paper bearing the name, "Miss Sargent."

She was about 50 years old and well dressed. Medical examiners said she had drunk wood alcohol.

The boy, John Dooley, was taken from his home after losing consciousness. At the hospital, police au-nounced he had been given liquor by neighbors and also had drunk some he found near his West Twenty-sixth street home. During the day Charles Williams

a negro, died in a hospital where he made his way half blind from drinking poison which he thought was gin Hospital attaches said it was wood

The fourth fatality within 24 hours was George L. Henry, a salesman of Brookline. Mass. who was found dead in bed in a Broadway hotel. An empty bottle labelled "gin" and another containing alleged whisky were found nearby.
