Martin-Krug.

The marriage of Miss Clarabel M. Krug, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Krug, and Raymond L. Martin took place Thursday evening in the Kountze Memorial church, the Rev. O. D. Baltzy officiating. The bride wore a gown of brocaded white satin trimmed with chiffon, and the coronet which held her veil was trimmed with pearls worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. Miss Krug's bouquet was of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Margaret Greening, the bridesmaid, wore apple green crepe and carried pale pink roses. Her hat was of silver. A supper at the home of the bride's parents for the family and wedding party followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Martin are in their new home in the Minne Lusa district. They will take their wedding trip later in the spring.

The marriage of Miss Lilly E. Elliott and C. H. Gale took place Thursday afternoon in the parsonage of the Hanscom Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. Arthur Atack performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Gale will make their home here.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Letter to "Old Fashioned." To Old Fashioned: I have just read your letter and felt that I should like to express my opinion on your subject. Before going farther I will say that I am a member of that class about whom you inquire and of about your age.

Now I feel that you should have said, "What is the matter with some, or possibly the majority, of our young men?" Unfortunately many young men have been allured from the companionship of a girl of your type to those "hand-painted," "jazz-crasy" or, as you say, "fast" type of your sex.

You want to know what to do to make the boys want to go with you more, and my advice is to continue to do as you are now doing. By no means should you sacrifice any of those high ideals for which you have striven. In doing so you will attract the attention of a lower type of manhood than that which will eventually be yours.

There will be a reaction against the "wild women" just as there has been a reaction against "jazz" and I predict that it will occur soon. I am happy to say that I am one of that class which has been unaffected by the "charms" of the vamp. I have seen so many of these immodestly-clothed, immorally-acting creatures that each new instance simply makes it more repulsive.

Old Fashioned do not take one step downward, but be patient, and when the right one comes along you will be happy in your so doing. You are of that class which will win my sincere admiration.

RESPECTER.

Admits It.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I have read your splendid advice to others and thought you might be able to answer a legal question for me. About four years ago I received a valuable watch from the man who is now my husband. About one year later it was stolen. I know who took it but every time I have asked for it this party tells me it is at home. 1. Do thefts of this kind ever outlive? 2. After how long? 3. How shall I go about it to recover this watch?

Work of Russian Artist on Display

In the words of Nicholas Roerich, the artist who painted it, this picture represents "cosmic voices not ordinarily understood by mortals." Roerich, who was before the war the head of the largest school of art in Russia, is the highly imaginative type of painter, who flies from realism. He is a man steeped in the legends of his country, and in his striking composition he stands alone, the vigorous northern element in Russian art, according to Maurice Block, director of the Fine Arts society, under whose auspices the exhibition of Roerich's work is now on display in the public library. "To me it seems strange, until we get used to his method, but he is not considered at all radical in Russia," Mr. Block added.

THIN FRAIL PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE TANLAC

Hundreds of Men and Women in Omaha Appear to Be Physical Wrecks Simply Because Their Systems Are Starving for Nourishment.

There are hundreds of thin, run-down, nervous men and women right here in Omaha who should be strong, sturdy and vigorous, with rich, red blood tingling through their veins and feeling brimful of life and energy, if they would only profit by the experience of others all over the United States and Canada, and assist nature to digest the food they eat, by simply taking Tanlac.

Millions of people have not only been relieved of the most obstinate forms of dyspepsia and indigestion by Tanlac after other remedies have failed, but large numbers of them have reported a remarkable and rapid increase in weight and a return to normal health and strength by its use. In fact, so phenomenal have been the gains in weight by thin, frail people through the use of Tanlac that this remarkable preparation is now being proclaimed everywhere as the World's Greatest Food. The food people eat does them absolutely no good unless they digest it properly. When you suffer from indigestion and other forms of stomach trouble, the food does you harm instead of good, because food which is not digested stays in the stomach and ferments, causing pains, swelling, gas on stomach, shortness of breath, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness and many other disagreeable symptoms. If this condition is permitted to run on for an indefinite period the entire system becomes saturated with poisons, the patient becomes thin and pale and in time various complications are apt to result. Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and quickly overcomes this condition by aiding nature to eliminate the impurities from the system in a natural way and enable the vital organs to properly perform their functions. That is why it is called Nature's Medicine. In fact, there is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the entire system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food and convert the nourishing elements into bone, blood and muscle. The result is you feel strong, sturdy and well with the proper amount of flesh, as Nature intended. Tanlac is sold in Omaha by the Sherman & McConnell Drug Co. and by leading druggists everywhere.

Child Labor Day to Be Observed January 28

Physical examination on application for work permits do not furnish adequate health protection to employed children, said Dr. H. H. Mitchell of the national child labor committee in a statement urging that Child Labor day be observed throughout the country. Saturday, January 28, has been designated by the national child labor committee for observance in synagogues, Sunday, January 29, in churches and Sunday schools, and Monday in public schools, civic clubs, etc. Dr. Mitchell advocated giving health services to young workers through the continuation schools that have been established in a number of states. He reported some of the findings obtained in a recent study of health conditions among 1,200 working children attending the continuation schools of Newark, N. J. Malnutrition was found in 6 per cent of the boys and 9 per cent of the girls. Among the boys with defective vision on first going to work 68.6 per cent had grown worse, while among the girls 57 per cent cases had grown worse. Among the children who had gone to work with no dental defect, 50.9 per cent of the girls were found to have defects at the time of Dr. Mitchell's examinations. Dr. Mitchell found that 3.1 per cent of all the boys and 12.6 per cent of all the girls had tonsillar disease or defects that required attention, while 3.9 per cent of the boys and 5.4 per cent of the girls had some organic heart condition which should have been under the observation of a physician. Dr. Mitchell said that only 20 states require a physician's certificate of physical fitness before issuance of a work permit and no state provides for any form of health service after the child goes to work. He advocated a system in which the working child would have periodical physical examinations, with the following service of a public health nurse.
