

Special Session Opponents Cited as Inconsistent

Governor Says Organizations Ask Lower Taxes and Oppose Convening of Legislature at Same Time.

Lincoln, Jan. 13.—(Special)—Inconsistency is the word used by Governor McKelvie in describing the action of certain organizations in passing one resolution demanding lower taxes and passing of another one demanding that there be no special session of the legislature.

"If the men who drafted these resolutions really want taxes reduced they should stop and study how the levy can be cut," he said.

"That way is through a special session and one can't come without the other."

"Those gentlemen, drafting such dual resolutions, will find themselves on a limb shortly after January 24, when they find the special session had reduced taxes on property at least $1,000,000 at a cost of $15,000 for a special session."

"And when I say reduced taxes of $1,000,000, it means absolute reduction in appropriations, and is aside from the gasoline tax proposition."

Japs and Chinese Agree to Open Shantung to World

Washington, Jan. 13.—(By A. P.)—The port of Tsingtau and the entire Kiaochow leased territory would be opened by China to the commerce of all nations on equal terms under an agreement reached by the Chinese and the Japanese arms delegations today in continuing their conversations over the Shantung controversy.

Sinn Feiner Is Deported to U. S. for Threatening Dail During Pact Debate

London, Jan. 13.—(By A. P.)—The Dublin correspondent of the Morning Post telegraphs the following:

"The shipment to the United States of Daniel Breen, who appears to have been hanging around the Dail Eireann with a band of thugs threatening to enter and shoot up the entire assembly if it ratified the treaty, suggests that Michael Collins and Richard Mulcahy are alive to the necessity of the case."

There has been no previous intimation that Daniel Breen was to be deported from Ireland. A London dispatch in October, 1920, identified Breen as commandant of the Irish Tipperary brigade of the Irish republican army. The British authorities in Ireland were said to have offered a reward of 1,000 pounds sterling for his capture in connection with the murder of a Maj. Smyth and he was also accused of killing two constables and perpetrating a series of other outrages.

Political Prisoners Freed. London, Jan. 13.—(By A. P.)—The Irish political prisoners in the London jails—Brixton, Pentonville, and Wormwood scrubbs—were released this morning, under the amnesty proclamation issued by King George yesterday. Instructions were sent to the provincial jails for similar releases.

Kept Secret in Ulster.

Belfast, Jan. 13.—The Ulster government, it is understood, will take no responsibility for the release of Sinn Fein prisoners who might come under the amnesty proclamation affecting political offenders. They will, it is stated, be transferred tonight to southern Ireland, leaving it to the British government to liberate them if it desires.

The strictest secrecy is being observed with regard to the prisoners for fear of rioting.

There was further shooting in the streets of Belfast last night. One man was critically wounded.

Joy in Dublin.

Dublin, Jan. 13.—(By A. P.)—Materialization of the amnesty of political prisoners in Ireland elicited more outward enthusiasm here than any other development in the peace activities. It may be remarked in passing that the choice of the phrase "act of oblivion" rather than an "act of clemency" in the announcement is recognized as a happy diplomatic stroke.

Dublin's citizens indulged in lively demonstrations last night, a large crowd outside Mount Joy prison welcoming the successive batches of liberated prisoners with loud cheers. Similar scenes were enacted in Cork and Limerick, where others were released.

Regret Withdrawal.

London, Jan. 13.—(By A. P.)—Districts in Ireland which benefited financially from the presence of British troops are expressing something like consternation at their withdrawal, according to the Morning Post's Dublin correspondent.

The inhabitants of the military centers have sent letters to Dublin and even to the British government asking retention of the troops whose ex-runditure of their entire pay in Ireland meant important trade and employment of a number of the natives.

Wrestler Killed.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—William Krelch, 27, a college student, died today of injuries received Wednesday night in a wrestling match with Walter Maurer. Krelch fell, fracturing his spine, during the match. Maurer was not held.

Convict Weds to Win Freedom, but Fails in Effort

Tells Parole Board He Has Wife—Acquires One to Make Good Statement While Prison Chauffeur.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 13.—Frank Jandro, convict, married to obtain his freedom and not for love, according to his statement here yesterday, following the announcement that his wife, formerly Mrs. Mayne Wadley, had applied for an annulment of the marriage when she learned her husband was a convict serving a two-year sentence in the state prison for jail breaking. Jandro, prison authorities said, will serve his full term.

Jandro said he wanted to get married as he had falsely told prison authorities he was a married man, and as he was intending to apply for a parole, thought it would be well for him to be able to produce a wife. Jandro was engaged as a chauffeur for prison officials. His acquaintance with Mrs. Wadley, a clerk in the Federal building, developed while he was allowed to wear civilian clothing. Frequent automobile trips, Jandro said, enabled him to win a wife.

The marriage is the first of its kind on record here, prison officials say, explaining that marriages to convicts often result from courtships while men were in prison, but that no marriages were ever performed while a convict was serving a sentence.

Another Cut in Ford Cars, Set for Jan. 15, Announced

Washington, Jan. 13.—Another reduction in the price of Ford automobiles, including all models, effective January 15, was announced here today by Henry Ford. He said the reductions would be in small amounts because production already was close to "rock bottom."

Ex-Senator Millard Expires Suddenly

Mr. Millard was a member of a syndicate of five capitalists who erected the Millard hotels, for years noted among the important hotels of the west. He was in 1887 one of the organizers of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway and Bridge company, which erected the second bridge across the Missouri river at Omaha. In 1889 Mr. Millard, associated with E. W. Nash, J. J. Brown and N. W. Wells, purchased three-fourths of the capital stock of the Omaha motor railway company, the first electric system of the city, which is now a part of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company's system.

Director for U. P. Mr. Millard was an organizer and for a time president of the South Omaha National bank. For 15 years he was a director of the Union Pacific Railroad company, six years of which he served in the capacity of government director. In the political sphere Mr. Millard has always adhered to the principles of the republican party. He was never an active politician and refused to become a candidate for office until 1872, when conditions led him to become a candidate for mayor. Again in 1901, when his election appeared to be the only peaceful solution to the most protracted United States senatorial contest in the history of the state, a contest lasting three months in the state legislature. Mr. Millard was elected senator as a compromise. He ended his term in 1907.

Mr. Millard was married in the fall of 1860 to his Caroline G. Barrows of Davenport, Ia., rs. Millard died January 2, 1901. He is survived by a daughter, Jessie H. Millard of Chicago, and four grandsons, Barton, Joseph, H.; Ray and Willard, all of Omaha.

The son, Willard, is now returning to the states from a trip to South America. Mr. Willard traveled extensively throughout the latter years of his life, having visited Europe and the Orient on numerous occasions.
