

Standardizing of Farm Machinery Parts Is Sought

State Board of Agriculture in Annual Meeting Says Manufacturers Impoverishing Farmers.

Lincoln, Jan. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Standardization of farm machinery parts was demanded by manufacturers by the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture in resolutions adopted at the annual meeting today. Failure to standardize, it was claimed, is impoverishing the manufacturer and impoverishing the farmer. Other resolutions adopted referred to tax reductions, a request that the state capital commission purchase as much Nebraska-made material in construction of the new state house as is possible, and a demand that labor be as anxious to give full service as to get full pay. On recommendation of E. R. Danielson, secretary, a proposed reduction in admission price to the state fair was adopted. No action was taken on the proposal to abolish complimentary tickets to legislators. Danielson reported receipts from the 1921 fair exceeded expenses $3,560.04, which, added to funds on hand, makes a total balance of $28,003.49. Officers will be elected tomorrow.

Bradshaw Man Says Corn Is Shipped West

C. Kennedy of Bradshaw and his partner brought in a shipment of cattle yesterday, for which they received $25 a hundred. Mr. Kennedy said that in his neighborhood was being marketed to some extent, more than last winter, and that livestock feeding was as heavy as usual. "We are getting 30 cents a bushel for our corn by shipping it west, as there seems a better demand there than bringing it to Omaha," said Mr. Kennedy. "Hogs are plentiful around Bradshaw and are being marketed mostly as lightweights. So far but few cattle have been sent to market, as they were pretty light when taken to the fattening lots as feeders and most of them will not be sent to market until spring."

Livestock Shipping Losses Are Reduced

Dr. W. J. Embree, chief veterinarian of the Western Weighing and Inspection bureau, delivered an illustrated lecture in Exchange hall yesterday noon, which was largely attended by persons connected with the various branches of the livestock industry. "Livestock Losses and How to Reduce Them," was the subject of the lecture, which is being furnished through the combined efforts of the livestock interests who, three years ago, started a campaign of education to reduce loss in the handling of livestock in shipping. As a result a great majority of livestock brought to the local market is free from bruises and the death rate has been greatly reduced. Omaha's showing in cutting down losses has been better than any other market, according to figures shown by Dr. Embree, and he said it reflected creditable co-operation of shippers in the shipping of their livestock.

Iowa Girl Held on Theft Charge; Parents Will Aid

Ruby Ara Arrested in Chicago for Shoplifting Says She Was Deserted by College Lover.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Parents of Miss Ruby Ara of Ames, Ia.—that was the name she gave the police, although admitting it was assumed—telegraphed her today they were coming to Chicago to assist her. It was the first evidence of love or kindness the girl had received in weeks, she said today. She was arrested yesterday by department store detectives, who charged her with attempting to steal some clothing. In her handling were an infant's hood and booties. Then she told her story, which involved betrayal by her sweetheart, a young man student at Iowa State college, where she also was a student. The girl came to Chicago to work and conceal her troubles. Yesterday she abandoned her 5-week-old baby on the doorstep of a woman who she believed would adopt it. But, as she watched, a man found the child and turned it over to the police. Her arrest followed later in the day. Was Divorced. Ames, Ia., Jan. 17.—According to Iowa State college officials, the girl held by Chicago police on a shoplifting charge, and in connection with the abandonment of a 5-week-old baby, and known as Miss Ruby

Light Song Barred at Weddings Here

Greater Reverence at Marriage Services Needed, Church Head Explains.

A ban on sentimental songs at weddings has been ordered by Bishop Ernest V. Shayler of the Nebraska Episcopal diocese. "In order to secure greater reverence at all marriage services held in the churches of the diocese as well as to help the clergy in a growing perplexity, I hereby request and require that no selections other than those authorized by rubric shall be sung," reads the bishop's order. "Does that mean there won't be any more jazz music at weddings?" Bishop Shayler was asked. "Don't mention jazz music in connection with the church," replied the bishop sternly. "The order was issued to put a stop to the singing of sentimental songs, such as 'I Love Thee Truly.' Everyone knows they love each other dearly, or else they wouldn't be getting married. It is the duty of every minister of the church to suppress all light and unseemly music, etc., by which the sanctuary is profaned. Anthems shall be in the words of the holy scripture, the Book of Common Prayer or the Hymnal."

County Agent Quits When Salary Is Cut

Grand Island, Neb., Jan. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—County Agent James R. White, after a service of over three years, has resigned his office, the resignation to take effect March 1, as the result of a reduction of the salary from $2,800 to $2,400 per year.
