Greedy Moguls Responsible for Players Demanding Fabulous Sums for Their Services on Diamond

The money-mad professional baseball players of today who are demanding crazy sums for their services, when chided for their greediness, point out that they are simply trying to get even with certain of the leaders in organized baseball who have also been close-fisted and greedy and who have not treated their players as well as they might.

Ry the Associated Press Ruth Chicago, Jan. 20,-"Babe" Ruth has decided that he went too far in violating the rules of organized baseball by playing post-season games and is attempting to persuade Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner through a personal appeal, to mitigate his punish-ment of suspension until May 20 and a fine of more than $3,000.

Ruth, who is appearing at a theater here this week, Thursday telephoned Judge Landis' office in an effort to arrange a personal interview with him, but the judge was confined to his home with a bad cold.

A second call was made yesterday, but the judge still was sick and indi-cations are that Ruth may not be able to reach him. Judge Landis condition is so bad that the has canmelled speaking engagements. Ruth, however, plans to call at the judge's home today and has

Basket-Ball Facts You Should Know

Q. What does a referee do when he is nable to determine who put the ball out of bounds?

A. He selects two opponents nearest the spot where the ball went out of bounds and tosses the ball between them as in a held ball play.

Q. When is a ball put in play at center,?

Q. When is a ball put in play at center?

A. At the beginning of each half, or quarter, or each extra period; after a goal has been made; after an illegal free throw has been made; after the ball has lodged in the supports of the baskets; after the last free throw of a double foul.

Q. How many time-outs can a team take in a game?

A. Three under the amateur rules and two each half under the professional rules.

Q. What is blocking?

A. Blocking is impeding the progress of an opponent who has not the ball. It is a foul.

Q. Who may cause the ball to go out of bounds?

A. Not necessarily the last one to bounds?

A. Not necessarily the last one to throw it. The ball is caused to go out of bounds by the last player touched by it before it crosses the line.
